

Why Rubbers Are Considered 'Good Form.'

There was a time, not so many years back, when it was not quite fashionable to appear too robust. A little languor was considered rather becoming in a young woman. But that day has passed. The pale, drooping, indoor girl has given way to the riding, walking, golf-playing girl. Health has received the seal of fashion.

And everything that conduces to health is now good form. For instance, in the matter of wearing rubbers. A few years ago a good many women objected to wearing rubbers, on the ground that they detracted from the trim appearance of the foot. But everybody knows that nothing else ruins the health as quickly as wet feet, and the only possible way to have dry feet—especially in winter—is to wear rubbers. So rubbers have come back into style as indispensable to good health.

The added fact that rubbers are now so much more shapely and graceful in their lines than they were a dozen years ago, and that they are now made in such infinite variety, has served, of course, still further to increase their popularity.—Harper's Bazar.

Holder for Electric Lamps.

Magnetism has been applied in an ingenious way to the automatic holding of electric lamps in any desired position. The holder of the lamp, which is thoroughly magnetized, will adhere to any piece of iron or steel at any angle, so that by its use iron workers can secure light at any part of their work without the inconvenience attendant on the use of a torch. As the light can be made to shine exactly where it is wanted, the magnetic holder is of the greatest service when the workman is employing the lathe, planer, drill and other tools. Its use in boiler shops is doing away with torches, as it can be carried inside the boiler. For many classes of work, especially the making of locomotives, it is highly recommended, not the least of its advantages being that it frequently enables an assistant to be dispensed with.

Mrs. Gotrox—Mabel, dear, are you sure Mr. Woody loves you for your self alone? Mabel—Yes, I'm sure he does, mamma. He is always so restless when you are in the room.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

GENIUS.

Far out at sea—the sun was high,
While veer'd the wind and flogg'd the sail—
We saw a snow-white butterfly
Dancing before the ftful gale,
Far out at sea!

The little wanderer, who had lost
His way, of danger nothing knew;
Settled awhile upon the mast,
Then flutter'd o'er the waters blue,
Far out at sea!

Above, there gleam'd the boundless sky;
Beneath, the boundless ocean shone;
Between them danced the butterfly,
The spirit-life of this vast scene—
Far out at sea!

The tiny soul then soar'd away,
Seeking the clouds on fragrant wings,
Lured by the brighter, purer ray,
Which hope's ecstatic morning brings,
Far out at sea!

Away he sped with shimmering gleam!
Scarce seen—now lost—yet outward borne
Night comes!—with wind and rain—and he
No more will dance before the morn,
Far out at sea!

He dies unlike his mates, I ween;
Perhaps not sooner, or worse cross'd—
And he hath felt, thought, known and seen
A larger life and hope—though lost.
Far out at sea!
—Richard Hengist Horne.

HUMOR OF THE DAY.

Long drawn out—The naval secretary interviewed.
Bell—"And so they were happily married?" Nell—"Yes; each one of them married somebody else."—Tit-Bits.

She—"I think I must have hit the caddy." He—"Naturally, you were not aiming to hit him."—St. Louis Republic.

Mommer—"Billy, where are all those huckleberries? Did you eat that plateful?" Billy—"No, mommer; I ate it empty!"

Doctor—"Do you take a bath regularly? Once a week, I suppose?" Patient—"Lor' bles' you, no, sir. I hain't so dirty as all that!"—Sketch.

"Let me show you something." "What is it?" "A kinetoscope representation of Johnny going through a new pair of shoes."—Chicago Record.

"Why did Josephine dismiss her suit for damages?" "The man proved that he ran into her bicycle because he was looking at her."—Chicago Record.

"Mrs. Rinks seems like a very fussy woman." "Fussy? Say, if she built a house she'd insist on having all the nails manicured."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Groom (very wealthy)—"Why did you marry an ordinary chap like me?" The Bride—"I haven't the slightest idea. Mamma managed the whole affair."—Harlem Life.

Mrs. Bronson—"The Sillibys have reached an agreement with the owner of their flat house." Mrs. Marble—"So?" "Yes. Their children are to be allowed to visit them once a week."—Life.

Emily—"I am so unhappy. I begin to see that Arthur married me for my money." Her Dearest Friend—"Well, you have the comfort of knowing that he is not so simple as he looks."

"That woman tried to beat me down on the price of quinine." "What did she say?" "She said I ought to make it ten cents cheaper because she had to pay her little boy to take it."—Chicago Record.

Tenant—"You call our flats the Klondike because they are so cold in winter and so hot in summer, I suppose. Ha, ha!" Landlord—"No, because there's no such money in them as people think."—Detroit Journal.

Hubbard—"Anything you want down town to-day, my dear? Shall I order some more of that self-rising flour?" Wife—"We have plenty left; but I wish you would stop at an intelligence office and order me a self-rising servant girl."

"Am I the first girl you ever loved?" she asked him, more as a matter of habit than anything else. "I cannot tell a lie," said he. "You are not. You are simply the best of the bunch." Being a modern maid, she was content with that.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mr. Buyer—"Mr. Green, there seems to be something serious the matter with the horse I bought of you yesterday. He coughs and wheezes distressingly, and I think perhaps he is wind-broken. What would you advise me to do?" Jay Green (promptly)—"Sell him as quickly as you can; I did."—Tit-Bits.

These two converted savages were speaking of a third; nothing is to be gained by repeating names here. "He'd sell his soul for a dollar!" exclaimed one. "And that's 'way below cost, if there's any truth in the statistical reports of missionary expeditures!" replied the other, evidently much disturbed.—Detroit Journal.

Torpedo Boat's Wear and Tear.
So injurious is life on a torpedo boat that a year's continuous service will mentally and physically incapacitate a man. This assertion is made on the authority of Lord Charles Beresford, but that the strain on anyone serving on these crafts is very great is shown by the fact that to one month's service the British naval regulations allow one week off. Austria is endeavoring to mitigate the hardship of service on these boats, and life on one built for the Austrian navy, and tried on the Thames recently, was demonstrated to be pleasanter than on those of the English navy.

A Great State.
Kansas is a great State in a variety of ways. Among the candidates who were voted for at the late election occur the following names: Napoleon Bonaparte, George Washington, Andrew Jackson, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, John Bunyan, Tom Corwin, Julius Caesar and Edgar Poe. Nearly all of these were candidates for the Legislature.

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES

"How many zones have we, Willie?" asked the teacher of a pupil in the junior class. "Four," was the reply. "Well, then, name the four," said the teacher. "The frigerated, the horrid, the temperance and the intemperance," answered the little fellow.

Freddie, aged 5, had been watching his mother prepare the Thanksgiving turkey for dinner, and finally said: "Mamma, I'd rather be a wild turkey than a tame one." "Why so, dear?" she asked. "Because," was the reply, "a wild one can run around on the prairie all his life and a tame one gets killed every year."

"Bessie," said a north side mother to her four-year-old daughter, "here's three cents; run down to the drug store on the corner and get me a stamped envelope." A few minutes later Bessie entered the store and the proprietor asked: "Well, little girl, what can I do for you?" "If you please, sir," she replied, "my mamma wants free cents worth of stamped antelope."

Harry, aged 4, while engaged in picking the "drumstick" of a Thanksgiving turkey partly swallowed one of the tendons, which are so numerous in the legs of a fowl, and was nearly choked. The tendon was finally extracted with great difficulty from the little fellow's throat, when he exclaimed: "Well, I don't blame the old turkey; it's the cook's fault for not taking off its garters."

Small Johnny had on his best clothes one Sunday and his mamma told him not to play in the dirt with them. "Don't they have any dirt in heaven to play in?" he asked. "No, of course not," replied his mother. "Then what do little boys do up there?" queried Johnny. "Oh, they play harps and sing and sit under the beautiful trees," was the reply. "Then," said the little fellow, "I don't see how they can have trees if there ain't no dirt."

Miss GERTIE DUNKIN,

Perfection of Modern Pumping Engines.
The standard attained by the performance of modern pumping engines is pretty high, as was illustrated by an incident which occurred not long ago in New York, where some large pumping engines that had recently been set up and were working at rather high speed and almost absolutely without noise, were inspected by an expert in such matters who hailed from an interior city. He remarked: "Well, those engines work very nicely now, but wait until you get to pumping water at that speed, and then you will hear something from them probably." His astonishment may perhaps be imagined when it was demonstrated to him that they were at that moment pumping water, and had been continuously doing so for forty-eight hours.

Healthy, Happy Girls

often, from no apparent cause, become languid and despondent in the early days of their womanhood. They drag along always tired, never hungry, breathless and with a palpitating heart after slight exercise so that merely to walk up stairs is exhausting.

Sometimes a short, dry cough leads to the fear that they are "going into consumption."

They are anemic, doctors tell them, which means that they have too little blood. Are you like that? Have you too little blood?

More anemic people have been made strong, hungry, energetic men and women by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People than by any other means. They are the best tonic in the world.

Miss Lulu Stevens, of Gasport, Niagara Co., N. Y., had been a very healthy girl until about a year ago, when she grew weak and pale. She lost her appetite, was as tired in the morning as in the evening, and lost flesh until she became so emaciated that her friends hardly knew her. The doctors declared the disease anemia, and gave her up to die. A physician who was visiting in Gasport prevailed upon her to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She did so, and was benefited at once. She is now well and strong—the very picture of health.—Buffalo (N. Y.) Courier.

The genuine are sold only in packages, the wrapper always bearing the full name. For sale by all druggists or sent, postpaid, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, fifty cents per box. Book of cures free on request.

He cried out in agony, and they ran to the neighbors for help. Scalds was torturing him. Better run for St. Jacobs Oil, or have it handy. It is known to cure the worst cases.

Collarettes and Boas.

The array of novel collarettes and boas now to be seen in leading city stores is unusually attractive. And these are just the days for them—this breezy, crisp, autumnal weather, when it's far too cool for promening without more protection than the jacket gives at the throat and neck, yet hardly winterish enough for storm collars or heavy furs. Some of the newest conceits in boas and collarettes are made of coarse net and mousseline de soie, thickly dotted with chenille pompons. These styles are full at the neck, and have long, well-rounded tabs, which can be caught in gracefully at the waist or allowed to fall free, at the wearer's will. While inexpensive, the effect of these dainty mufflers is very pleasing, particularly worn by a slender, willowy woman, but there are other collarettes—thousands of them. Many are pretty, and a few otherwise. Every taste can be satisfied, and it is not necessary to empty the pocketbook in order to possess oneself of a dainty and artistic throat protector.
