LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

J. L. Barchus, who had been sick for several days, is again able to be about.

Brother Marshall, of the Berlin Record, has for some time been in the grip of la grippe.

Miss Florence Livengood was married to Mr. William B. Usilton, in Washington, D. C., Dec. 29th last.

Rev. E. S. Johnston went to Stoytown, Tuesday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. John H. Snyder, who died several days ago.

For sudden changes in the weather, the month of January, 1899, will long be remembered. It has been a very unhealthy month thus far.

Don't forget to renew your subscriptions, pay in advance and save 25 cents by so doing. Many subscriptions expire with our next issue, and we need the money badly.

Died, near Deal's mill, Jan. 8th, Dewey, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shoemaker. Interment at White Oak, Rev. J. H. Knepper, of Meyersdale, officiating.

We are glad to see Mr. Lloyd Beachy out again, he having recently had a hard tussle with quinsy and diphtheria. Aside from being very hoarse, he is feeling all right and looking first rate.

Ex-Judge Thayer, of Garrett county, Md., died at his home, near Thayersville, on Monday night of last week, aged 75 years. Mr. Thayer was one of the oldest citizens of Garrett county, and an active Democratic politician in his day.

Now let our legislators at Harrisburg give us a law against importing scab labor. A law against hiring bar-room bums, Pinkerton thugs, jail birds and the off-scourings of hades to point guns at honest American workmen, would also be a step in the right direction.

THE STAR will likely move into new quarters as soon as this issue is printed and mailed, having rented the room over Haselbarth's hardware store. Barring accidents to our presses in moving, THE STAR will twinkle promptly on time, next week, in its new quarters.

The interstate report for 1898 shows the earnings from meat transportation on the Pennsylvania system to be $2,794,305, divided as follows: Pennsylvania railroad, $1,416,514; Panhandle, $774,789; Pennsylvania company lines, $457,993; Vandalia line, $214,281.

Mr. George Russell, son of Mr. James Russell, of West Salisbury, died at his home, of pneumonia, last Saturday evening, aged about 22 years. Funeral was held at the Reformed church, Monday, Rev. Leader officiating. THE STAR extends its sympathy to the Russell family.

Sarah, the wife of Mr. Henry Yost, and an aunt of the editor's, died at her home in Garrett county, Md., Tuesday morning. The funeral takes place today. Deceased was a highly esteemed Christian woman and for many years a faithful member of the German Baptist church. She was aged about 63 years and leaves a husband, three sons and two daughters to mourn their loss.

On Monday, Jan. 2nd, the Board of County Commissioners made the following appointments: Mercantile Appraiser, Irvin F. Brant, of Stonycreek; Clerk to Commissioners, John Emert; Attorney to Commissioners, A. L. G. Hay, Esq.; Physician to Jail, Dr. H. S. Kimmel; Charles A. Kimmel, Custodian of the Court House and grounds; James Woolley, Janitor and Fireman of Court House and Jail.

Aha! The Supreme court will not interfere with the Quay case. The petition of the defendants for a change of venue did not work, and Matthew Stanley will have to face the music before Judge Finletter, of the Philadelphia court, and that is what makes Matthew shake in his boots. It looks as though the "old man" and his plum tree are both to be hewn down and cast into the fire for bearing corrupt fruit. It also looks as though Quay is doomed to be defeated for the United States Senate.

A copy of the first issue of the Frostburg Gleaner, a new paper established at Frostburg, Md., has found its way to our exchange table. It is a three-column folio, neatly printed and newsy, and published by Henry F. Cook. While the new paper is very small, it is nevertheless very saucy and aggressive, and it seems to have a chip on its shoulder for the Frostburg Forum to knock off. The Gleaner is an amusing little "cuss," and THE STAR likes it well enough to list it for an exchange. Editor J. B. Oder, of the Frostburg Journal, seems to be pleased at the advent of the new paper, and he is no doubt sitting serenely on the journalistic fence, where he can watch Editor Cook cooking the Journal's hated rival, the Forum.

La Grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepherd, Publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertiser, Eldon, Mo., says: "No one will be disappointed in using one Minute Cough Cure for La Grippe." Pleasant to take, quick to act. P. S. Hay, Elk Lick, Pa.

Last Friday was a record-breaker on the Middle division. The number of trains which left this city for the east, was 102. If the 6,295 cars in the trains were put together in a line, they would make a train thirty-five miles long. This is the greatest number of cars that ever passed over the Middle division in twenty-four hours.—Altoona Mirror.

Paul Perry, of Columbus, Ga., suffered agony for thirty years, and then cured his Piles by using De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. It heals injuries and skin diseases like magic. P. S. Hay, Elk Lick, Pa.

The Retiring Postmaster Talks.

I deem this a fitting time to extend to my many friends and the public generally my thanks for their oft expressed approval and appreciation of my efforts in the discharge of my duty as postmaster, in which sphere I have now served, in all, about nine years, and if you have been well served, my only wish, by your courteous help, has been fully realized.

And now let me bespeak for him who has been chosen my successor, the same kind consideration you have shown me and to suggest that you can greatly assist him by getting your letters for mailing to the office early, and by being prompt in the settlement of your box rents, which, under the law, must be paid within the first ten days of each quarter. It will afford him no pleasure if compelled to put a "vacant" notice in your box.

With my kind regards and best wishes for the future welfare and happiness of all,

I remain yours,
SILAS A. WAGNER.

These are dangerous times for the health. Croup, colds and throat troubles lead rapidly to Consumption. A bottle of One Minute Cough Cure used at the right time will preserve life, health and a large amount of money. Pleasant to take; children like it. P. S. Hay, Elk Lick, Pa.

Republican Ice.

A couple of weeks ago we published an item concerning Democratic ice, upon information of Elijah Livengood, who got off a harmless joke at the expense of his jolly Democratic German neighbor, Mr. Louis Horehler. This week our friend "Louie," who by the way is not slow to return a joke, gets even with Mr. Livengood as follows:

"Dis week der vas some Republican ice on der river," remarked "Louie" to the editor, the other day. How do you know it was Republican ice?" asked the editor. "Got im bimmel," said "Louie." "I know it vas, because it was all soft and mushy, usht like der Republicans, and it vent down, usht like der Republican barty vill vent down, ivver a vile, putty quick. Now put dot in der zeitung fer Liche, vill you?"

That's pretty tough on the Republicans, but as all good jokes are free, Mr. Horehler has a right to get even with his neighbor, and he has certainly done so.

To insure a happy new year, keep the liver clear and the body vigorous by using Dr. Williams' Little Blue Pills, the famous little pills for constipation and liver troubles. P. S. Hay, Elk Lick, Pa.

Republican Caucus.

I hereby give notice that a caucus representing the Republican party will be held at the school house, in West Salisbury, on Saturday, Jan. 28, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various offices of the township of Elk Lick, as follows: One person each for the offices of Constable, Auditor, Township Clerk, Judge of Election and Inspector; two persons for the office of School Director; three persons for the office of Supervisor. Let there be a full turnout and a good ticket nominated.

JOHN P. VOGL, Committeeman.

The smallest things may exert the greatest influence. De Witt's Little Blue Pills are unequalled for overcoming constipation and liver troubles. Small pill, safe pill. P. S. Hay, Elk Lick, Pa.

The Editor Returns Thanks for Congratulations and Kind Words.

By the grace of God and the authority vested in Charles Emory Smith, the Postmaster General of the United States of America, the editor of this paper was appointed postmaster at Elk Lick, Dec. 24th, 1898, and having been duly commissioned, will take charge of said office on Monday, Jan. 16th, 1899.

As soon as the news of the appointment was published in the daily newspapers, people came to THE STAR office by the score to congratulate the editor, and aside from this, letters of congratulation and complimentary notices in newspapers have been pouring in from all sources.

We sincerely thank our kind friends for their congratulations, and following we reproduce the contents of a few of the aforesaid letters and complimentary newspaper notices:

From Charles F. Cook, Berlin, Pa.

It has been a source of a great pleasure for me to note your appointment as postmaster at Elk Lick. Sincerest congratulations and compliments of the season.

From Mrs. M. J. Coleman, Carlisle, Neb. I saw by the paper that you are to be postmaster. Accept my congratulations and enclosed find money order for THE STAR another year.

From Mrs. A. D. Gnagey, Ashland, O.

We noticed in the paper that you have been appointed postmaster. We all send our congratulations.

From Miller & Collins, Meyersdale, Pa.

Accept congratulations on your appointment and best wishes for a prosperous New Year.

From the Meyersdale Postmaster.

Accept congratulations upon your appointment to the postmastership at Elk Lick. My official relations with the present P. M., Mr. Wagner, have been of the most pleasant character, and I trust that when you are at the helm that the same kind feeling and official courtesy will continue. I welcome you to the service and will be pleased to confer with you at any time and give you all the information or assistance I can.

From F. B. Black, Meyersdale, Pa.

My congratulations.

From the Wathena Kun, "Star."

P. L. Livengood, editor of the SOMERSET COUNTY STAR, published at Elk Lick, and one of our most highly valued exchanges, has been appointed postmaster of his town.

From the Carlisle Neb., "Leader."

We notice by a late issue of the SOMERSET COUNTY STAR that its editor, P. L. Livengood, has been appointed postmaster of Elk Lick. The Leader congratulates P. L. upon his good fortune.

From the Loneaning, Md., "Star."

The Star notes with satisfaction that the editor of Salisbury STAR, published at Elk Lick, Pa., has been appointed postmaster at that place. This is a recognition not only of the editorial, but of the business and official ability of the profession. We can rest assured that no exchanges or marked copies will fail to reach the office of our namesake. May his shadow never grow less.

From the Somerset "Standard."

But few persons, if any, in this county received a more welcome Christmas gift than that which came to Editor P. L. Livengood of the Salisbury Star, it being nothing less than his appointment as postmaster at Elk Lick. The appointment is a merited one and will, no doubt, give general satisfaction among the patrons of the office. Mr. Livengood will be a good official, and the Standard congratulates him on his good fortune.

From the Somerset "Democrat."

Mr. P. L. Livengood, editor of the SOMERSET COUNTY STAR, has our congratulations. The Washington authorities played Santa Claus for him and put a sugar plum in his Christmas stocking. We learn from Monday's papers that he has been appointed postmaster at the Elk Lick office, at Salisbury. No doubt hereafter THE STAR will shine with a brighter effulgence on the McKinley administration.

From the Meyersdale "Commercial."

P. L. Livengood has been appointed postmaster at Elk Lick and he is accordingly happy.

From Capt. W. M. Schrock, Somerset, Pa.

Better late than never. Please accept my congratulations.

From the Frostburg "Mining Journal."

The Journal congratulates P. L. Livengood, editor of the Salisbury, Pa., Star, upon his appointment as postmaster at that place, upon the condition that his proper discharge of the duties of that office will work no deterioration of THE STAR's editorial quality.

From the Hyndman "Bulletin."

Editor Livengood, of the SOMERSET COUNTY STAR, has been appointed postmaster at Salisbury. We congratulate Brother Livengood on his prospects for '99 better.

From Hon. Jos. J. Stutzman, Somerset, Pa.

I congratulate you on the elegant plum you got off of your Christmas tree. We expect THE STAR to twinkle brighter than ever now, and I for one feel that I can't do without it.

In addition to the foregoing we wish to add a few remarks which we deem in order at this time.

The retiring postmaster, Mr. Silas A. Wagner, has served the patrons of the Elk Lick postoffice for a period of nine years or more, and when we say that he has discharged his duties well, we believe that we voice the sentiments of the entire community. Mr. Wagner has proven himself a competent official as well as a genial, courteous and accommodating gentleman; and in assuming the duties of the office, his successor will endeavor to serve the patrons of the same as acceptably as Mr. Wagner has done, and we hardly think anyone will expect or desire any better or more satisfactory service than our predecessor has rendered.

We solicit the same kindly consideration that has been shown to the retiring postmaster, which we shall do our best to merit, and we trust that the relations between the newly appointed postmaster and the patrons of the office will be mutually satisfactory and pleasant.

Mr. S. A. Fackler, Editor of the Mianus (Pa.) Hustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from La Grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for La Grippe, and its exhausting after effects. P. S. Hay, Elk Lick, Pa.

A Newspaper Worth Reading.

With a circulation showing a gratifying increase as compared with a year ago, with a more extensive advertising patronage than ever before, with added press facilities which permit of enlarged editions whenever necessary, the Pittsburgh Times comes to the public for 1899. It modestly claims to be a good, all-around newspaper, neglecting no opportunity to entertain its readers and sparing no effort or expense to get the news accurately and promptly. While it is Republican in politics it endeavors to be fair in discussion. Overlooking no field of human interest, it is carefully edited and courts the favor of the fireside rather than the applause of sensation mongers. For reference it submits to the unbiased judgment of newspaper men anywhere in the territory in which it circulates. Three dollars a year or six cents a week.

Coughing injuries and inflamed sore lungs. One Minute Cough Cure loosens the cold, allays coughing and heals quickly. The best cough cure for children. P. S. Hay, Elk Lick, Pa.

GREEN GOODS MEN TRAPPED.

Two Stonycreek Men Get Revenge.

The following dispatch was sent out from Allentown, Pa., last Thursday: A gang of green goods men were caught red-handed, to-day, while trying to close a deal with two supposed farmers. The police who made the arrest think they have caught Jack Ryan, of New York, the head of a notorious band of swindlers.

The story of the capture is an interesting one. About a year ago Weldon G. Will, of Somerset county, came to Allentown and was fleeced by green goods men, who, at the revolver's point, robbed him of $300 and sent him home with a lot of counterfeit money. Will had no alternative but to go. However, he swore to be revenged, and to-day his oath was fulfilled.

Some months ago his uncle, Philip Will, and Charles Weigle, received green goods circulars and decided to help young Will to "do" the swindlers. They opened up a correspondence with Mayor Lewis, and following his instructions, disguised themselves as back-woodsmen and came to Allentown on Tuesday morning and met the green goods men. They registered at the American hotel under assumed names. The steerer soon came and conducted them to a down-town place, where they were shown $700 in "green goods."

Mayor Lewis had instructed the "come-ons" not to go beyond the city limits, and employed Fred. H. Reichard to follow the party and keep the police posted by telephone as to their movements.

BIG LOT OF "GOODS."

The steerer took the victims to a house in Catsaqua, where they were shown a valise supposed to be filled with $20,000 worth of counterfeit money, and where the deal with the "old man" was to be consummated.

The "come-ons" stated that they had left their money at the hotel and would not be able to make the deal until to-day. This morning the supposed victims left the hotel separately and met the three green goods men at Sixth and Washington streets, where they boarded a car for Catsaqua. In the meantime the police were kept informed of the new arrangement, and early in the day Chief Harrity and Sergeant Knaus stationed themselves at Lower Catsaqua bridge to watch the cars. Officers Whitehead, Smith and Frederick went to Catsaqua in a cab and were distributed along Front street.

The understanding was that the officers were to surround the house by concerted action, but Officer Smith and Sergeant Knaus, who had joined them, forced their way into the house where the green goods deal was going on.

At the sight of the officers the swindlers scattered, the fellow with the valise containing the green goods escaping through a second-story window. The officers, however, arrested the man supposed to be Ryan, and the steerer. They were placed in charge of Sergeant Knaus, and while Officer Smith was searching the house, Ryan made a dash out of the back door, but Officer Smith's revolver brought him back. Meanwhile the steerer, who was handcuffed, escaped out of the front door. The Sergeant fired two shots at the fellow who jumped out of a second-story window, but they did not hurt him.

Ryan, who is chief of the gang, is about 65 years of age. He had $10 and a lot of jewelry in his clothes. He was committed to jail by Alderman Keiter. Officer Frederick and Sergeant Knaus searched the house and found a complete green goods outfit. The Wills and Weigle returned home, Saturday. They expect to receive a reward for trapping the gang.
