MACHINE BLUFF AT BALLOT REFORM.

Trying to Create Public Opinion in Its Favor by a Renewal of the '95 Pledge.

QUAY'S BROKEN PROMISES. Deceived the People Once and Can't Do It Again—Machine Trying to Deal With Democrats to Help Quay—Longman Sibley, Pleading the Cause of the Boss at Washington—Soldiers' Orphan Schools in Hands of Politicians.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Harrisburg, Feb. 6.—As there is no doubt that the senate will not seat Mr. Quay and the four that people call the "machine" will repudiate the machine at the coming election because of the gigantic ballot frauds in Philadelphia, the Quay machine leaders are in a fight. The people of the state, particularly the farmers and the plain people, are now thoroughly aroused to the fact that the padding of assessors' lists by the machine in Philadelphia means dollars and cents out of their pockets. The machine has been heard from this, and now they are sending out columns of matter to the newspapers, declaring that new ballot laws must be enacted by the next legislature and that the Republican machine will see to this.

The two Quay organs of this county, which were last fall busily engaged in bolting our Republican county organization, now have the impudence to offer "pointers" to Chairman Berkeley on how to conduct the coming primary campaign. It is amusing to see them plead for John M. Reynolds, the would-be Democratic Congressman of the Republican 20th Congressional district. It is also amusing to see them glorify in the fact that the Democratic Bedford Gazette is going to fight Congressman Thropp's renomination. Well, what else can be expected from a Democratic paper? And what else can be expected that the Quay organs will do to help the Democrats when they are always ready to work with the Democrats when a Republican whom they cannot use for a moment is in the political limbo.

The Johnston Democrat, the strongest Democratic newspaper in Central Pennsylvania, in a recent issue reviewed the Congressional situation in the Twentieth district, and after naming seven men who seek the Congressional nomination, among other things says: "The opinion of political judges is that Mr. Thropp will defeat the opposition and secure the nomination again, if he really wants it."

CAPT. COGHLAN, the gallant commander of the Raleigh in the Manila fight, is quoted by a friend as saying that, although he is of Irish blood, his sympathies are with the British in the Boer war, and will be with them in any war, on account of the friendly manner in which the British fleet treated the Americans at Manila when the fleets of all other nations were displaying an unfriendly or contemptuous attitude. "I am an Irishman, but I am an American first," the captain added, and after that declaration of friendship with the Britons in Manila bay, I am and always will be a friend of the Britons."

The service which Great Britain did us in our conflict with Spain is not fully appreciated by the mass of the American people. It is certain that if it had not been for the firm and friendly attitude of that power the United States would have had somebody else to deal with besides Spain. Spain would never have entered upon the war had she not expected European help, and she would have got it if it had not been for the British navy.—Minneapolis Tribune.
