JOHN D. ROCKFELLER RETIRES. Some Motive for His Giving up Presidency of Standard Oil Company.

Some Molive for His Giving up Presidency of Standard Oli Company. John D. Rockefeller has resigned the presidency of the Standard Oli Company of Ohio to avoid being drawn in-to future investigation of its affairs. He will be succeeded by A. M. McGregor, vice-president of the New Jersey Stand-ard Oil Company. It is believed that this move is merce by one of expediency, the standard is preme Collio as desident and a fur-ther investigation of the Standard is they by Atterney General Monnett of that State. This action by Mr. Rock-celler will probably avoid the necessity of his testifying af such a hearing. Mr. Rockefeller will, it is generally believed, continue to direct the affairs of the Standard as he has in the past. Frank Rockefeller has also retired as vice-president, and F. H. Squire, of Cleveland, has heen chosen for that po-sition. The Ohio corporation in which these changes are made is really the controlling organization of the Stand-ard Oil Company.

Passes That of Any Previous Year. R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" reports the following: The industries are still surpassing in actual output the work of any previous year. Their new business is not correspond-ingly large, nor could such orders be accepted by most industries if offered, but enough are coming to prevent stop-page of works or much decline in pri-res. The weekly output of pig iron February twas 29,6014 tons, but stocks unsold rose 20,300 tons in January, in-dicating a consumption slightly smaller than the output when the month began. As the consuming works were naturally stopped about the holidays more than the iurnaces, the figures prove little, but bessemer and grey forge at Pittsburg have not changed in price during the past week, and slightly lower offers of pig by southern and other new furnaces at Chicago and eastern markets have had little decline of prices ior some weeks in bars, plates and sheets has been checked. Large orders have been aken for these and other products, in-dicating that the works in need of busi-ties may have obtained enough for a time.
