Telegrams from Lord Roberts, dated at Pretoria Thursday, say: The enemy, after an unsuccessful attack upon our right rear, made a determined attack upon our right rear, made a determined attack upon our right fank Wednesday, and, I regret to say, succeeded in capturing Nitrals Nek, which was garrisoned by a squadron of the Scots Greys, with two guns of a battery of the Royal Artillery, and free companies of the Lincolnshire.

The enemy attacked in superior numbers at dawn and, seizing the hills commanding the Nek, brought a heavy gun fire to bear upon the small garrison.

The fighting lasted, more or less, throughout the day, and immediately on receiving notice this morning of the enemy's strength I dispatched reinforcements from here under Colonel Godfrey of the Kings Own Scottish Borderers.

Selector, however, they reached the spot the garrison had been overpowered and the guns and a greater portion of the squadron of the Greys had been captured, owing to the horses being shot, all and a bout 90 men of the Lincoln Register.
