

FLOODED DISTRICTS ARE RECOVERING

EXTENT OF DISASTER.

Many Sections of the Mainland Along the Coast Suffered Heavily—Hundreds of Bodies Are Cremated.

The people in Southern Texas are gradually getting over the effects of the great storm along the coast. Galveston is being looked after in a systematic way and it is being gradually cleared. Gov. Sayers has labored hard day and night for the past week, and is just getting a faint glimmer that the coast can be easily handled.

Not alone in Galveston have the people suffered, but along the entire coast country in the vicinity and north of the island. In Brazoria county, the fifteen villages have been completely wiped away and stories of distress and narrow escapes are being told in authentic. In Columbia precinct, 2,000 people are without homes or shelter of any kind. In other places, crops are destroyed and farm implements gone. Along the coast for fifty miles the lighter can be seen from the broken beds and everything which was made to make up homes. The sight of all such is horrible to behold.

Of Galveston's population of 38,000, 6,000 were killed. The area of total destruction was 1,000 acres. There were 500 dwellings, hotels, churches and convents utterly destroyed. More than 100 boats were sunk. The property loss is not less than $15,000,000. One hundred and twenty-five men, most of them negroes, were killed in death for robbing the dead.

Out of this disaster, unparalleled in the history of the world, a question is rising to reclaim her place among the most prosperous of our cities. Her roads are being repaired, and her people are rebuilding the city. Her merchants are resolute to resume business. Her banks are ready to open their doors. The establishment of commerce and outside capital is flowing in.

The one great question of the hour is not money, but disinfectants by the ton, so that workmen may bear to work among the ruins.

WAR OF ASSASSINATION

Filipino Insurgents Murder Their Countrymen Who Are American Sympathizers.

During the last fortnight ten Filipinos in Luzon and in the provinces were murdered by American sympathizers or as aiding in the conduct of the municipal government established by the insurgents. In the provinces they have been murdered by their countrymen in arms.

United States troops originally directed for China, but now diverted to the Philippines, are being sent to points where they are needed. In the provinces Filipinos were killed. One American was killed, a few wounded and 2 were captured.

Gen. Wright, of the Philippine commission, is preparing a bill for harbor improvements at Manila. The bill provides an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the construction of protective dockage. The proposal is favorable to the city, especially by Spaniards, and the carrying out of the works, which will be completed in about 18 months, will be greatly beneficial to commerce.

The commission is still establishing military posts. It is a change in the derivation of revenue, which will hereafter come largely from land, instead of from the sale of tobacco. This involves the raising of the question of the validity of existing land titles and will probably be completed in about 18 months, which the investments of religious corporations are to be exempted.

STRUCK BY A CYCLONE

Much Damage Throughout Northwestern Part of Pennsylvania.

A cyclone spread disaster over Northwestern Pennsylvania early Wednesday. The wind storm, coming from the west, struck about midnight, and continued with unrelenting fury until late in the morning. The rain was heavy and unroofed, trees uprooted, glass broken and smokestacks torn down. The oldest inhabitant can remember a storm equal to this one.

Every telegraph and telephone wire was down. The roads were impassable to move trains on any road. Along Lake Erie, in the grape belt, great trees were blown down and fell during the storm. The temperature dropped from 93 to 66. No deaths were reported, although many from outlying districts is still scarce.

INSPECTING BATTLEFIELDS

National Park Commission Invites Veterans to View the Work Accomplished.

A circular of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga national park commission announces that arrangements have been completed, with the approval of the secretary of war, for the inspection by the veterans of all the armies engaged about Chattanooga of the historical battlefields, monuments and structures. The inspection will take place on the 10th, 11th and 12th of October, and a will rate has been arranged with most of the railroad companies.

Dearly Bought Victory.

The claims hitherto made that the British losses in South Africa have been small as compared with those of other campaigns appear to need revision. A well-known authority finds that the officers in South Africa 721 per 1,000 have been killed, and that the wounded and 30.6 per 1,000 of the officers have died from disease; of the men 10 per 1,000 have been killed, and 31.8 have died from disease.

These statistics show that the risks of the officers in action have been huge, disproportionate and also that the rate of mortality in the South African war was much greater than it was in the Franco-German war.

Negro Champion Threatened.

Telegrams from Richmond, Va., say: Miss Lillian Clayton Jewett, the champion of the southern negro, started for Boston Friday. Her departure was perhaps, hastened by the receipt of threatening letters telling her that her presence here was undesirable, and that she would be expected to go away at her earliest convenience.

One correspondent has reported that if she did not leave the city by Friday evening, it would probably be announced that she would be expected to go away at her earliest convenience.

Philippine Rubber Forests.

On the recommendation of the war department the agricultural department is preparing an order setting apart as forest reserves the island of Romblon, which is north of the island of Panay; also the island of Pantian, which is one of the extreme group of the Jolo islands.

Officers of the army who have been investigating the islands have found that these are the richest lands in the world for rubber trees, and it is the intention of the Washington authorities to have the trees preserved.

WILL BE REMOVED TO ARLINGTON.

EARLY'S CAVALRYMEN.

Adoption of the President's Policy Giving National Care to Unclaimed Remains of Soldiers of the South and North.

The President's policy of the National care for Confederate as well as Federal dead will soon be put into actuality at Washington. The quartermaster general has prepared a list of the unclaimed dead buried in the District of Columbia, and as soon as the arrangements can be completed their bones will be transferred to Arlington, the big National cemetery on the Virginia side of the Potomac, which was the home of General Robert E. Lee up to the time of his death.

The program will probably provide for public services, at which the President will preside upon expressing his opinion at this time as to the sufficiency of the National care for the remains of the soldiers of Early's army, which made a raid around the capital in July, 1864. Some of these remains are in the cemetery of the National cemetery, a few miles north of the city, where the only light is a private in a self-defense.
