Neck Broken by a Bicycle.
Frank, the twelve-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Leonard who conducts a store on Graham avenue in the East End, was run over by a bicycle in front of the Lochrie Hotel, last evening, and died a few moments later. The boy was standing in front of the hotel when he was run down by an unknown bicyclist. His neck was broken. Officers McMullen are in pursuit of the man who rode the wheel, but as we go to press he is still at large.—Windber Era.

DAN'S WIFE.
Up in early morning light,
Sweeping, dusting, setting right,
Oiling all the household springs,
Sewing buttons, tying strings,
Telling Bridget what to do,
Mending rips in Johnnie's shoe,
Running up and down the stair,
Tying baby in her chair,
Cutting meat and spreading bread,
Dishing out so much per head,
Eating as she can, by chance,
Giving husband kindly glance,
Toiling, busy life—
Smart woman,
Dan's wife.

Dan comes home at fall of night,
Home so cheerful, neat and bright,
Children meet him at the door,
Pull at him and look him o'er,
"Wife asks him how day has gone,
"Busy time with us at home!"
Supper done, Dan reads with ease—
Happy Dan, but one to please—
Children must be put to bed;
All the little prayers are said,
Bedclothes tucked o'er little toes.
"Busy, wearing life—"
Tired woman,
Dan's wife.

Dan reads on and falls asleep—
See the woman softly creep;
Baby rests at last, poor dear,
Not a word her heart to cheer,
Mending basket full to top,
Stockings, shirt and little frock;
Tired eyes and weary brain,
Side with darting, ugly pain,
"Never mind, 'twill pass away";
She must work but never play;
Closed piano, unused books,
Brightness faded out of life,
Saddened woman,
Dan's wife.

Up stairs, tossing to and fro,
Fever holds the woman low;
Children wander free to play,
When and where they will to-day;
Bridget loiters—dinner's cold,
Dan looks anxious, cross and old;
Household screws all out of place,
Lacking one dear, patient face,
Steady hands so tired and true,
Hands that knew just what to do,
Never seeking rest nor play,
Folded now and laid away,
Work of six in one short life—
Murdered woman,
Dan's wife.

Never Saw the Dying Weep.
Kansas City Journal.
"I have stood by the bedside of hundreds of dying people," said an old physician at Topeka, "and I have yet to see a dying person shed a tear. No matter what the grief of the bystanders may be, the stricken person will show no signs of overpowering emotion. I have seen a circle of agonized children around a dying mother—a mother who in health would have been touched to the quick by signs of grief in a child—yet she reposed as calm and unemotional as though she had been made of stone. There is some strange and inexplicable psychological change which accompanies the act of dissolution. It is well known to all physicians that pain disappears as the end approaches. And nature seems to have arranged it so that mental peace shall also attend our last lingering moments."

Sixteen to One.
A down South correspondent who does not like Bryan sends the following to his favorite paper:
"Having discovered that the letters of Bryan's name will form exactly sixteen words, I submit the following contribution to your waste basket:
To find the mystic ratio that charms the silver men,
Just take the letters B and R and Y and A and N;
And then enumerate these words among these letters seen,
And you will find the ratio is just a sweet sixteen.
The words are bran and ban and bar and barn and by and bay
And a and an and yarn and ay and any, nab and ray,
And also ran (methinks 'twas true), but likewise we find nay,
Prophetic words! But fitter still, the other word is bray."

D. DODGE TOMLINSON'S
Celebrated H. H. H. Medicine is not a mere porridgy lubricating oil, the application of which serves only to amuse and occupy the patient, but is in reality a scientific combination of powerful chemicals and potent drugs, which have the marvelous property of going straight to the seat of the pain, where they act upon the lymphatics in such a manner, that the cause of the pain is absorbed and removed. It does not matter much whether the pain be due to an abnormal swelling, to sprains of the joints or strains of the muscles or tendons, to rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, sciatica, or toothache or headache, all of these are quickly relieved by the magic effect of H. H. H. No other medicine or liniment seems to equal it in the rapidity or certainty of its action. Often a single thorough application causes the pain and discomfort to vanish, as by magic.
The H. H. H. is used only externally. It is put up in a 25 cent size and also larger bottles.
The signature and portrait of the inventor, Dr. D. Dodge Tomlinson, 400 North Third St., Philadelphia, Pa. is printed on the wrapper around each bottle. Sold by druggists. A slightly smaller sample vial will be delivered by U. S. Mail on receipt of 25 cents in stamps.
