A new recipe which makes a nice luncheon dish is frozen buttermilk. To one gallon of fresh buttermilk add two cans of standard condensed milk, vanilla and sugar to taste. Put in ice cream freezer and freeze as ice cream. Many people in making this strive to make it too much like ice cream, and so sweeten it too much. Care must be taken not to get it too sweet. A suspicion of tartness makes it delicious, but when too sweet it is insipid.—Ex.

> Mr. David Harris, of Princess Anne, friends. He had been reading in THE STAR of the big apples brought to our office this fall, so he thought he would bring us some choice fruit that grew on his farm on the Eastern shore of Maryland. He presented a pear of the Keefer variety that tips the beam at one pound, eight and one-half ounces It is the largest pear we ever saw, and as a grower of large fruit Mr. Harris is certainly entitled to the championship among those who have been contrib uting to The STAR's exhibit. Mr. Harris will be remembered by nearly all of our people, as he used to mine coal in this region and resided in West Salisbury. He is a thrifty, intelligent man, one who takes care of his earn-ings, but who at all times is generoushearted and very hospitable. Seven years ago he purchased a farm on the Eastern shore of Maryland with money he earned in the mines, and he has been living on the farm ever since. He went there without any knowledge of farming whatever, but by pluck and a determined effort to succeed at the business, he has been making it pay. He tells us his chief pleasure is raising small fruits, and he reports a yield of 46 bushels of strawberries on a quarter acre of his land. Surely that is a yield to be proud of. Mr. Harris is a native of England, but is now a naturalized and loyal citizen of the United States. He is a staunch admirer of President Roosevelt and in every way a credit to again return to this locality to live but he says he will never dig any more coal, and we are glad to know that he

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what tely eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you fell good all over. Mrs. Crafill, of Troy, I. T., writes: For a nmber of years I was troubled with iudigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat. E. H. Miller.
