Iowa has a law called "the old toper law," which provides for the confining of habitual drunkards in insane asylums. Its enforcement is reported to be having a wonderful effect, and many who for years clung regularly to their drink have reformed and become more or less useful citizens.

NEVER was the political strength of the poor old decrepit Democratic Meyersdale Commercial more fully shown up than when the ballots were counted on Tuesday night. It was then shown that just eight voters followed the leadership and advice of that paper, and voted the state and district Republican ticket, and then went over and voted the Democratic county ticket.

Last week after the election returns were all in, the Meyersdale Commercial said: "The Commercial congratulates the Republicans upon their great victory in county, district, state and nation." Old man, we do not need your congratulations. Before the election you advised Republicans to vote the Republican state ticket, but to let the county ticket strictly alone, adding that better men could be found in the Democratic and Prohibition columns.

THE one distinguished Democrat, Grover Cleveland, is once more to the fore with his panacea for all ills—disturbance of the tariff. Mr. Cleveland's previous calamitous monkeying with prosperity, until there was no prosperity left to monkey with, apparently taught him nothing. He is "sot in his ways" as the burro on a thousand hills. To him free trade, under another name, will cure warts on man and pip in chickens. To Grover, of whom we had "four more years" mixed with trouble of all sorts, there is nothing to equal the destruction of the country's industries through experiments with the nation's revenues.

By sending 13 miles Wm. Spirey, of Walton Furnace, Vt., got a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that wholly cured a horrible Fever Sore on his leg. Nothing else could. Positively cures Bruises, Felons, Ulcers, Eruptions, Boils, Burns, Corns and Piles. Only 25 cents. Guaranteed by E. H. Miller, druggist.

Willful Trespass. The first section of the act of assembly of July 9, 1901, "Making it willful trespass to hunt, trap and take game birds or game animals upon cultivated lands, and providing for the punishment of such trespass," reads as follows: "Be it enacted, etc., That on and after the passage of this act, any person or persons trespassing on any cultivated lands in this commonwealth, for the purpose of hunting and trapping and taking therefrom any game birds or game animals, after public notice by the owner, lessee or occupant thereof, such notice to be posted on and adjacent to such cultivated lands, shall be guilty of willful trespass, and in addition to the damages recoverable by law shall be liable to the owner, lessee or occupant in a penalty not exceeding five dollars for each and every such offense."

SOMERSET BOYS ARE WINNERS.

Three of Them Elected to Lucrative Positions in Other Counties. Somerset county's sons seem to run as successfully for office abroad as they do at home. At last Tuesday's election Jacob J. Miller was elected Orphans' Court Judge of Allegheny county on the Citizens-Democratic ticket, defeating Judge Cohen, the regular Republican nominee by a large majority. Mr. Miller is a son of the late Jacob D. Miller, of Somerset township, and is a brother of Daniel S. and C. J. Miller, of this place.

Judge-elect Miller is a graduate of the Indiana Normal School and of the law department of the University of Virginia. He is 45 years of age. When 14 years old he taught his first school in Paint township, was principal of the Somerset borough schools one term, taught three terms in Washington county, Md., one term as principal of the Johnstown High School, and three terms as principal of a ward school, Pittsburg. He read law in the office of W. J. and H. L. Baer in this place, having been admitted to the bar in 1882. Shortly after his admission to the bar he went to Pittsburg and soon took high rank as a member of the bar of Allegheny county. Mr. Miller is a splendid example of what is generally termed a "self-made man." He was never known to ask for assistance, but relied upon his own ability to climb the ladder of fame. In 1894 he was married to Miss Annie M. Clark, daughter of Supreme Court Judge Silas M. Clark, deceased, of Indiana, Pa. His legion of friends in Somerset county, irrespective of politics, are gratified at his success.

Logan Rush, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob J. Rush, of Lower Turkeyfoot township, was elected Register and Recorder of Fayette county on the Republican ticket, and Harry B. Heffley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Heffley, of Somerset township, was elected Treasurer of Cambria county on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Rush has been a resident of Fayette county for a long time and is a popular employee of the Union Supply Company. Mr. Heffley established a drug store at Johnstown shortly after graduating from a school of pharmacy at Philadelphia, some 15 years ago.—Somerset Herald.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

From the Aethelion Kan., Daily Globe. This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost, in case of burglars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as hives syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by E. H. Miller.

Matrimonial Tangle.

Richard Coleman Massey, aged 71 years, was married one day last week at Parkersburg, W. Va., to Miss Pearl Odum, aged 19 years. The bride is the step-granddaughter of the groom, Mr. Massey's son having married the bride's mother. As the bride was not of age, it was necessary to secure the consent of her parents, and Massey's son had to give his official consent before his father could marry. The groom's son, by virtue of being the girl's stepfather, gave her away to his own father at the wedding ceremony. The elder Massey by marriage with Miss Odum becomes the son-in-law of his own son, and thus his own grandson, while the younger Massey becomes his father-in-law or his own grandfather. The bride becomes her own grandmother, and the older woman is her own grand-daughter. Should children be born to both couples, the tangle would be inextricable.—Ex.

A Thanksgiving Dinner.

Heavy eating is usually the first cause of indigestion. Repeated attacks inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach, expose the nerves of the stomach, producing a swelling after eating, heartburn, headache, sour risings and finally catarrh of the stomach. Kodol relieves the inflammation, protects the nerves and cures the catarrh. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, all stomach troubles by cleansing and sweetening the glands of the stomach. E. H. Miller.

Teachers' Institute of Somerset County, Term of 1902.

County Superintendent Seibert has issued a 32-page pamphlet containing the program for the 46th annual institute of the teachers of Somerset county and the 13th annual convention of the school directors of the county, together with a report of the schools for the year ending June 6th. The institute will convene on Monday, Nov. 24th and continue in session until Friday noon. The Superintendent says the instructors and evening entertainers are among the best talent obtainable, which should insure a very full attendance of teachers and others interested in the cause of education. The day sessions of the institute will be devoted to instruction from foreign talent instead of an exchange of ideas from the county teachers, which is the mission of the local institutes.

Two of the instructors, Profs. I. D. Gresh and Theo. B. Noss, have appeared before Somerset county institutes on previous occasions, and therefore need no introduction to our people. The other instructors will be Dr. Henry R. Pattengill, of Lansing, Mich.; Dr. Sanford Bell, of Worcester, Mass.; and Dr. Edwin Chubb, of Athens, Ohio. Vocal solos will be sung at intervals during the progress of the institute by Miss Louie M. Taylor, of St. Stephens, New Brunswick, Canada, and Miss Rose Constance Callaghan, of Somerset. Miss Florence Taylor, of New Brunswick, Canada, has been selected as the pianist.

The evening entertainments will be divided between two lecturers—one of them with a national reputation—and two musical companies. The entertainments will be given in the following order: Monday evening, Dr. Spillman Riggs, of Columbus, Ohio, will deliver his lecture on "The Humorous Side of Life." Dr. Riggs is regarded as an entertainer of exceptional ability and is sent to Superintendent Seibert with first-class recommendations.

On Monday evening the Swiss Bell Ringers and the Aseteam Trio will entertain. This combination's program consists of vocal and instrumental selections of a high order. Wednesday evening Hon. J. P. Dolliver, of Des Moines, Iowa, will deliver his lecture, "The Nation of America." Mr. Dolliver now represents Iowa in the United States Senate and enjoys a National reputation as an orator.

The Mendelssohn Quartet Company, which will appear Thursday evening, has visited fifteen states and Canada in the four years of its organization, playing many return dates. Tickets for these entertainments will be placed on sale on Saturday, November 15, at the Opera house, when course tickets only can be purchased. The price for course tickets will range from $1.25 to $2.50, according to the location of the seat.

The School Directors' conventions have been growing in interest with each successive year. They will hold their sessions in the High School building on Wednesday and Thursday, of Institute week, for which the following program has been submitted: The "Supervision of Directors" has been assigned for discussion to E. M. Knepper, S. C. Lichty, H. M. Berkley, Dr. M. H. Baker and Dr. H. S. Carlisle. The question of "Higher Wages" will be discussed by Dr. O. J. Shank, H. G. Hay and R. S. Walker. Messrs. U. S. Werner, H. W. Young and D. G. Stahl will speak of the "Need of School Libraries and How to Secure Them." The subject of "Hygiene for the School room" has been assigned to Dr. W. S. Kuhlman, Dr. A. F. Speicher and C. C. Heckle. The "Importance of Directors' Conventions" will be pointed out by W. S. Hershberger, Dr. C. J. Hemmingway and Wesley J. Pile. Messrs. H. H. Will, Thomas H. Null, George B. Somerville and Alex. Lautz, will discuss "The Compulsory School Law as it Concerns our Schools." The very important question, "Teachers' Salaries, and on What Should they be Based," has been assigned to Reuben Walker, J. G. Liphart, Charles Ream, A. G. Bantley and A. N. Tissue.

Asleep Amid Flames.

Breaking into a blazing home, some firemen lately dragged the sleeping inmates from death. Fancied security, and death near. It's that way when you neglect coughs and colds. Don't do it. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption gives perfect protection against all throat, chest and lung troubles. Keep it near, and avoid suffering, death, and doctor's bills. A teaspoonful stops a late cough, persistent use the most stubborn. Harmless and nice tasting, it's guaranteed to satisfy by E. H. Miller. Price, 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Samuel Compton Dead.

Samuel Compton, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Elk Lick township, died last Friday morning at the old Compton homestead, which for some years has been owned and occupied by his son, Phineas, with whom the elder Mr. Compton made his home. The deceased was known far and wide as a most generous-hearted and affable gentleman. He it was who erected and for a number of years operated Compton's flouring mill, in Elk Lick township, which is probably the finest milling property in Somerset county.

Mr. Compton was not only a very useful man in the community, but he was also a good man in every sense of the word. He was ever ready to do a kind deed when opportunity presented itself, and being a man of good ideas, his advice was frequently sought by his friends and neighbors, who always found in him a valued friend and counselor. He was a man of an ingenious nature, a natural mechanic, and had he entered a good machine shop when young, he would have become a master mechanic.

Mr. Compton was not rich in this world's goods, yet he was in easy circumstances and was noted for his generosity to those who were less fortunate in life than he was. He was truly a child of nature, a great admirer of all the beauties of God's handiwork, and he took great pride in collecting Indian relics, mineral specimens and odd geological formations. There is no doubt that he has left the finest collection of curios to be found in Somerset county.

The deceased was in every sense of the word a plain man, caring nothing for useless outward show or display. One of his last requests was that he should be laid to rest in a very plain coffin and that no useless expenditure should be made for anything pertaining to his funeral. He preferred helping the living to spending money uselessly on the dead.

Mr. Compton died of cancer, with which dread disease he suffered intensely during the last few years of his life. He was aged 75 years, 4 months and 21 days. He leaves two sons, Demetrius and Phineas, to mourn his death. His wife preceded him to the spirit world about 15 years ago. The funeral service was held at the old home, where a large concourse of people had assembled to pay their last sad respects. Interment was made in the St. Paul cemetery. Rev. E. S. Hassler, of the Reformed church, conducted the funeral.

Big Work up About Windber.

Johnstown Democrat. The Berwind-White Coal Company is pushing the extensions to its plants at Foustwell, Windber and other places as rapidly as possible, and when completed, all the mines of this company will have a capacity of 20,000 tons a day or 80,000,000 ton a year.

The company recently broke the record by shipping 555 cars in one day, the record having been formerly about 400 to 500 cars. An order was recently given for 1,000 steel coal cars, some of which have already been received and are now in use.

A large part of this coal that is shipped goes to the seaboard to ocean steamship companies for fuel, and the work of transporting it is something enormous. As told in the Democrat a few days ago, the P. R. R. will soon begin the work of double tracking a large section of the South Fork or Scalp Level branch to accommodate the traffic resulting from the great coal production of the mines of the Berwind-White company. The traffic from the mines not controlled by the Berwind-White people will probably amount to 150 cars per day, and the output of the Babcock Lumber Company and of other companies in that section will probably bring the grand total of cars handled on that branch up to 800 cars per day brought in, which is a traffic of 1,600 cars per day. There are about 36 cars to a train, and for this vast shipment there would be more than 20 trains required each day, which gives some idea of the greatness of the traffic in the region of the Berwind-White Company's mines.

When all the improvements are completed and the mines reach their highest capacity in the production of coal, it is estimated that about 1,000 acres of coal land will be utilized each year, and it is said that this would exhaust the coal lands in 50 years.

Physicians Prescribe It.

Many broad minded physicians prescribe Foley's Honey and Tar, as they never found so safe and reliable a remedy for throat and lung troubles as this great medicine. E. H. Miller.
