Moving Your Merchandise!

Advertising creates a desire. Gratifying that desire starts a habit.

If you don't advertise at all, no desire is created. If you advertise a little and stop, the desire stops before it starts a habit.

It is habit you want to produce—the habit of reading your ads, coming to your store, buying your goods.

This is the only way to keep your merchandise continually on the move.

Everybody has a habit of reading the Somerset County Star, brought on by a desire to know the news. Take advantage of this habit by giving the people your store news through its columns.

When can we talk this over with you?

is the only harmless cough cure that gives quick relief. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, pneumonia, asthma, la grippe and all throat, chest and lung troubles. I got soaked by rain, says Gertrude E. Ferner, Muncie, Ind., and contracted a severe cold and cough. I failed rapidly; lost 48 lbs. My druggist recommended One Minute Cough Cure. The first bottle brought relief; several cured me. I am back to my old weight, 48 lbs. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the phlegm, relieves the cough at once, draws out inflammation, cures croup. An ideal remedy for children. E. H. Miller.

A Remarkable Man.

The Somerset Classis Visitor has published the following from the pen of Rev. B. Knepper, the oldest minister in this county:

I was born on the tenth of September, 1816, about three miles west of Berlin, Somerset county, Pa., educated in the school of Christ, had the Bible for my text book. In 1846 I went along to Classis in Clarion county; on the 10th of June, 1846, I was licensed to preach the Gospel. I had a call then from the Wellersburg charge and on the 18th of June, 1846, I preached the first time in Wellersburg and at White Oak in an old school house as licensed preacher. That summer the new house was finished and the 12th of November, 1846, I was ordained in the White Oak church, by Rev. W. Conrad and D. B. Ernst.

The first time I administered baptism was in the White Oak school house, when six pair of parents brought the children forward (making 18 in all) to be baptized. I trusted in the Lord and got along all right. Since that I baptized 2,311 more, making 2,329 in all.

Now I will give some incidents in my pastoral experience, that don't happen often in the ministerial life.

On the first of May, 1849, G. F. Gephart came from Cumberland to Wellersburg to get married; I performed the ceremony. On the first of May, 1899, hence fifty years, they came to me, the same man, at the same place to celebrate their golden wedding in a quiet way, and we had a nice time.

In 1871 I baptized and confirmed W. Welman, from New York state, in his 64th year. In 1890, I confirmed E. Hockemyer in her 97th year, and preached her funeral when she had reached the age of 105 years.

In February, 1898, by a young man, I was taken to the home of G. Walker, a distance of about 30 miles to confirm him as member of the Reformed church, he being almost 80 years. About fifty years ago two children were baptized by me—in due time confirmed by me—afterwards joined in marriage by me; last Sunday I baptized the tenth of their children.

Anxious Moments.

Some of the most anxious hours of a mother's life are those when the little ones of the household have the croup. There is no other medicine so effective in this terrible malady as Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a household favorite for throat and lung troubles, and as it contains no opiates or other poisons it can be safely given. E. H. Miller.

A MUSICIAN'S LOVE LETTER.

Managed to Express His Sentiments in Song Titles, New and Old. Johnstown Tribune.

A friend furnishes the Tribune the following clever letter, purporting to have been written from a musician to his lady love, wherein he manages to express his tender sentiments more or less accurately through the titles of songs, new and old. It is the work of Miss Mary B. Stephens, of Indiana, and displays considerable familiarity with musical compositions:

"Hello, My Baby." "I've Waited, Honey, Waited Long for You," and have grown to think I am "The Girl You Left Behind." But knowing that "All Coons Look Alike" to you, I shall "Wait Till the Clouds Roll By" and "The Harvest Days Are Over," and will patiently look for you to call on me "Mid the Green Fields of Virginia," in "My Old Kentucky Home," or "Down Upon the Swanee River," as you did in the "Dear Departed Days."

Yes, "I Love to Sit by the Old Fireside," but "I Don't Care if You Never Come Back," for "You Don't Weigh No Fifteen Hundred Pounds." "I Have No Friends or Family Now;" I am just

"An Innocent Young Maid," but "I'd Leave My Happy Home for You."

"Oh, My Tiger Lily," when you get this I shall probably be "Where the Sweet Magnolias Bloom," although it may be possible they will "Put Me Off at Buffalo," where I will "Tell Them That I Saw You" and "Break the News to Mother," who "Has Seen Better days." I shall also visit the "Holy City" and attend the "Georgia Camp-meeting."

"Oh, Babe Do You Remember" the days when you made "Those Goo Goo Eyes" "Just Because You Loved Me" or had "Nothing Else to Do"? But as a favor I ask you to wear a "Sweet Bunch of Daisies." And now I must close. Good-bye, and I pray that "God Be with You Till We Meet Again," for "I Can't Tell Why I Love You, But I Do—oo-oo." "I Was Happy Till I Met You," but "The Fault is All My Own." "I'll Be Happy with You Forever" in your "Good, Dear, Sweet, Old Home."

He Could Hardly Get Up.

P. H. Duffy, of Ashley, Ill., writes, "This is to certify that I have taken two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies, but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before commencing its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down." E. H. Miller.

The Oyster Supper.

Old Time again has brought around The season of the year When "Oyster Supper" signs appear The church walls off appear, And whether for a local cause Or heathen far away, The oyster with prompt cheerfulness Consents his part to play.

It matters not to him what creed Has called on him for aid, Nor does he care to what extent There's interest displayed, For his is an elastic faith, That stretching ne'er impairs, And though admirers' round him throng He never puts on airs.

When anyone prefers a stew It's then right up to him, And soon within a bowl of soup He makes his little swim. He bobs around and dives and plays A lot of other tricks Until at last he's in the spoon And then he never kicks.

When there's an order for a fry He's Johnny on the spot, And soon appears in coat of brown Upon a platter hot, No matter what to him is done He never gets annoyed, But with rare passiveness submits To fill an aching void.

A friendship that's so warm and true Deserves sincere applause, For it includes self-sacrifice To help religion's cause. Though slanderer's ever on the watch For characters to smirch, It has to give the task up when The oyster goes to church. —Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

Big Money in Angora Goats.

E. P. Cahill, of Hancock, Md., started an Angora goat farm two years ago with 40 head of does on 90 acres of ridge brush land that was almost worthless. He now sums up results as follows: The Angoras killed all the underbrush and sprouts. The result of two years—140 head of sleek, fat Angoras and 90 acres of land cleared that would have cost $600, at least, to grub and sprout it with manual labor. His son, William J. Cahill, 14 years of age, is the youngest Angora goat breeder in America. The boy bought two does two years ago with his penny savings. He now has a flock of ten Angora does of the best blood in America. He bought a doe kid from the celebrated Angora Pasha Columbia that sold for $1,050 at Kansas City, last year, and secured at the Kansas City Angora exhibition, this year, the great first prize Angora Buck Prince of Lurra, valued at $1,000.

The Possibilities Developed.

The success of the Disc type of Graphophone which uses flat, indestructible records, is largely due to the fact that the Columbia Phonograph Company, pioneers and leaders in the talking machine art has developed the possibilities in both the machines and the records beyond all expectations. It was able to do this because it is the only company in the talking machine field having a complete laboratory and a manufacturing plant on a broad and comprehensive basis. Its facilities for experimentation and for manufacturing are on a very large scale. It does not have to rely on inexperienced manufacturers for any part of the product it offers for sale. It makes its own machines and its own records from start to finish, which is a fundamental advantage of the first magnitude.

The Disc Graphophone is made in three types, selling at $15, $20 and $30. Seven inch records 50c each, $5 per dozen; 10 inch records $1 each, $10 per dozen. The Graphophone and Columbia Records were awarded the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1900.

The Columbia Phonograph Co., 815 Penn Avenue, Pittsburg, headquarters for graphophones and talking machine supplies of every kind, will send you catalogues on application. 12-11
