Moving Your Merchandise!

Advertising creates a desire. Gratifying that desire starts a habit.

If you don't advertise at all, no desire is created. If you advertise a little and stop, the desire stops before it starts a habit.

It is habit you want to produce—the habit of reading your ads, coming to your store, buying your goods.

This is the only way to keep your merchandise continually on the move.

Everybody has a habit of reading the Somerset County Star, brought on by a desire to know the news. Take advantage of this habit by giving the people your store news through its columns.

When can we talk this over with you?

The Possibilities Developed.

The success of the Disc type of Graphophone which uses flat, indestructible records, is largely due to the fact that the Columbia Phonograph Company, pioneers and leaders in the talking machine art has developed the possibilities in both the machines and the records beyond all expectations. It was able to do this because it is the only company in the talking machine field having a complete laboratory and a manufacturing plant on a broad and comprehensive basis. Its facilities for experimentation and for manufacturing are on a very large scale. It does not have to rely on inexperienced manufacturers for any part of the product it offers for sale. It makes its own machines and its own records from start to finish, which is a fundamental advantage of the first magnitude.

The Disc Graphophone is made in three types, selling at $15, $20 and $30. Seven inch records 50c each, $5 per dozen; 10 inch records $1 each, $10 per dozen. The Graphophone and Columbia Records were awarded the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1900.

The Columbia Phonograph Co., 615 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, headquarters for Graphophones and talking machine supplies of every kind, will send you catalogues on application. 12-11

The "Book of The Royal Blue."

The November number, "Book of the Royal Blue," published by the Passenger Department of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, is a Sportsman's Special Number, devoted exclusively to hunting and fishing.
This edition contains the game laws of Maryland and West Virginia, through the courtesy of the Game Wardens of each of these States. The tables of open seasons are invaluable to the sportsman.
A resume of the changes in the game laws of all the States is also given, profusely illustrated with cuts of the kinds of game most abundant.
A geographical description of the portions of Maryland and West Virginia where hunting and fishing is best, and which are reached by the Baltimore & Ohio, makes the book the sportsman's "Badecker" in this territory.
The demand for this interesting magazine exceeds its edition, and a nominal price of 5 cents per copy, or 50 cents a year by subscription, is now charged.

A Bride Couple Car.

A Chicago railroad has been so much annoyed by parties of wedding guests throwing rice and old shoes and pinning paper hearts on the curtains of the Pullman of a train which leaves the city late each evening with several newlywed couples on board that it has decided to run a honeymoon special car, on which there are to be no other passengers. As it was, grumpy old bachelors, drummers short of sleep, mothers with babes and other unfortunate passengers who had to submit to a shower of rice, the thumps of old brogans and the joyful wedding yells of that species of demented persons who are so attacked on the occasion of matrimonial unions. By putting all the "happy couples" in one car the railroad company will endeavor to lessen the disturbance to the other passengers on the train.—Ex.

Held the Ground.

Bradford Era.
"Stand back; coward that you are! Stand back, I say!"
It was Lionel Hetherington who said this. His soul vibrated with subdued passion. The audience was electrified. But the audience was still further electrified when Gerald Scrooge, the amateur heavy man, who had just joined the troupe, exclaimed: "I'll not stand back! I was rehearsed in this part and told to stand right where I am. And I want you to understand, you overgrown mope, that I am no coward!"
Lionel had been too realistic and had rattled his colleague. Perhaps that was why the local paper in its stereotyped boost the next morning said that it was a "rattling fine production."

Stop It.

The spectacle of two boy pugilists entertaining a large number of auditors last Sunday afternoon furnishes an answer to the question—
What harm is there in boxing?
The harm is in the brutalizing example it furnishes boys, naturally prone to evil, to become bad citizens.
And brutality, being contagious, there is no telling where, unrestrained by law and enforcement of law, it will lead. A nation or community of pugilists would not furnish type or foretaste of the Golden Age.—Frostburg Journal.

A Policeman's Testimony.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." E. H. Miller.

Railroad Extension.

What seems to be a well founded report has gained some credence in Oakland and at other points along the Baltimore and Ohio railroad during the past few days, which, if correct, will add materially to Oakland and the entire Youghiogheny River Valley.

The report is to the effect that the Baltimore & Ohio, which at present leases the Confluence & Oakland road which runs from Confluence, over in Pennsylvania, to Krug, this county, will make a purchase of the property and extend the line on a broad gauge basis from Krug up the river to Oakland, and when completed the freight traffic bound east from the Connellsville region will be diverted from the route through Cumberland and brought over the new road. The congestion of traffic over the Pittsburg Division, which now handles all through trains from Chicago as well as the local freight traffic from Pittsburg and intermediate points is such that a continuous blockade is in effect, and consequently not only freight trains, but passenger trains as well are seldom on time.

If the report is true, and we hope that it is, a wide range of country rich in mineral and timber resources will be opened up and placed upon the market and will afford at the same time a direct route to Pittsburg and other points west and north from Oakland, not taking into consideration the great advantages and conveniences that will ensue to all residents of the county in reaching Oakland by rail.—Oakland Republican.

One Minute Cough Cure

is the only harmless cough cure that gives quick relief. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, pneumonia, asthma, la grippe and all throat, chest and lung troubles. I got soaked by rain, says Gertrude E. Ferner, Muncie, Ind., and contracted a severe cold and cough. I failed rapidly; lost 48 lbs. My druggist recommended One Minute Cough Cure. The first bottle brought relief; several cured me. I am back to my old weight, 48 lbs. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the phlegm, relieves the cough at once, draws out inflammation, cures croup. An ideal remedy for children. E. H. Miller.

Hints to Hunters.

Use smokeless powder in that muzzle-loading gun with which your father "used to kill rabbits 200 yards away."
In crawling under a fence, always pull your gun towards you by the muzzle. The rest will invariably happen.
If standing upon a stump, place the stock of the gun carefully on the stump, place the muzzle under your folded arms and trust to the weapon slipping from the stump.

In carrying a gun, always have the hammers raised and keep it pointed toward your best friend who is hunting with you. This sometimes saves your own hide from being perforated with shot.
If wet leaves or mud get in the muzzle of your gun, don't clean them out. Such action will spoil the pyrotechnic effect of the explosion which is sure to result.
In crossing a stream it is always good form to throw your gun across with the hammers raised, and jump after it—if you are able after the gun strikes the ground.
Always shoot out a ramrod if it is stuck in the gun "your father used."
It is considered good form while talking to a man you have met to keep your gun pointed towards him, at the same time fingering the trigger.
In carrying a muzzle-loading gun through the brush, place it carefully on your shoulder. The man walking back of you will receive the effect when a bush pulls the trigger.
Keep the hammers up in climbing fences, by all means.
In placing a muzzle-loading gun in the corner of a room, never remove the caps. If you do it will not explode when it falls, and the man in the room above will be safe.
If a rabbit is started and goes toward your brother, always shoot when it gets in line.
Always walk upon the opposite side of a hedge from your companion. In order that he may not miss hitting you, keep a trifle in advance of him.
None of these plans are copyrighted, but may be used free of charge by all who care to try them.—Everett Republican.
