ANY employe who by means of strike or otherwise wants to force his services upon an employer who has discharged him, has a brand of manhood that all self-respecting, energetic and right-thinking men can have nothing but contempt for. This is a big world, and no man who amounts to anything is dependent upon any one or any one dozen of employers. There are always openings for reliable men, and men who amount to anything do not want to work for those who despise them.

A CHURCH member who does not show by his daily walk that he is a Christian, will never be more than a bootblack after being transported to the golden shore. You may be a jovial, whole-souled, neighborly fellow, Mr. Churchmember, but so long as you swear as much, drink as much and in other respects act about as the common run of mankind, as a very large percentage of church people do, you will be just as good as the common run, but as a Christian you will not be worth as much as the fat that may be fried out of you in hades.

DURING the last two weeks the Georges Creek Press, the official organ of the United Mine Workers of this district, has been as silent as a clam concerning the mining situation in this region and the Creek region. When the miners are working for less than the scale price in the Georges Creek field, it seems that "mum" is the word, with the Press. It also seems to observing people that neither the Georges Creek miners nor the official organ of that region care a straw how things go in this region. When reductions come, the Creek miners usually make the best terms possible and keep on digging coal, letting other regions do the striking, encouraged by walking delegates from the Creek.

A Dirty, Criminal Act and its Certain Result.

Yesterday Frank Statler received through the mails a letter worded and composed as follows:

ELK LICK PA. April
FRANK STATLER
SCAB

If you go to work tomorrow we will beat nearly to death and blow your house up, tell your brothers and the scab kidners beware we are on to you you sons of bitches.

WHITE CAPS. To say the least, whoever wrote the letter of which the above is a copy, is a dirty, sneaking coward and criminal. The coward who wrote it evidently intended to help the cause of the strikers, but the effect will be just the opposite. Of course, it must be remembered that most of the strikers are decent, law-abiding citizens—men who will denounce the mailing of White Cap letters; but this is simply one instance among many to show the great amount of harm one fool on a strike can do to many decent fellow workmen who are also striking.

When White Cap letters are received, it is generally the case that one man is blamed for the deed one day, another the next, and so on. Sometimes the guilt of the real offender can be clearly established, while more often the blame is never fastened upon one person exclusively, but a number of persons will be held under suspicion for many years afterward, and thus it happens that many innocent persons must often bear secret, if not open persecution, for deeds they never committed or had any knowledge of. The writer of anonymous letters is always a slimy coward, and when engaged in that kind of business he never knows what the outcome of his cowardice will be. The results are usually the opposite of those he seeks, and in many cases the writing of anonymous letters has caused imprisonment and loss of life to innocent persons, to say nothing of the loss of strikes that otherwise might have been won.

As we go to press we learn that sentence has been pronounced upon Nebinski, Walter, Tucker, Williams and Bolden, who are required to serve two weeks in jail and pay $50 each, also the costs of the trial. Some of the cases, we understand, have not yet been finally disposed of.

SEARCHLIGHT TESTED.

Placed on Store Building of Merchants Company at Boswell.

Somerset, April 25.—A test was made Saturday night of the 10,000-horse power searchlight the Merchants Coal Company expects to install in a few days on top of its store building at Boswell. The test is reported satisfactory.

The powerful light will sweep the country for miles around, and is expected to prove a valuable aid in detecting any attempts made to destroy the company's tiple and equipment. The concern expects to install also a Colt's automatic gun, capable of shooting 400 shots a minute, 30 feet higher than the searchlight.

COMMENT.

By reading the above dispatch it would seem that law and order are at a pretty low ebb when a company is compelled to guard its employes and its property by means of searchlight, guns and deputies. Such a state of affairs ought not to exist in a civilized country.

While we have no love for the kind of trash usually imported to break strikes, the fact remains, nevertheless, that the men on strike have neither a moral nor a legal right to molest them or to make any attempt to destroy the coal companies' property. The moment that men step beyond the bounds of the law, they cease to be good citizens; and when organized men resort to outlawry, they bring their organization into disrepute with the general public and deserve only what the stern hand of the law will give them. Anyway, the strikers at Boswell are in the wrong. They quit work when they had no just grievance, and they were not asked to work at reduced wages. They are responsible for their own idleness, and as many of the strikers there are ignorant Slavs and the like, they are of the same kith and kin as those who have been imported to take their places.

If our mines are to be run by Slavs and Dagos, we don't think it matters much whether one set of them or another is employed, as they are all about alike. As we remarked last week, the operators are not particular enough as to the class of men they employ. A man who is not decent, law-abiding and honest, is not fit to be employed anywhere.

We believe that decent men are in the majority among the miners and all other classes, but too often they are ruled and intimidated by the lawless and worthless element in their ranks. Employers should sift them occasionally, retaining only the good men, and then see to it that good men are treated as good men. Let the almshouses, jails and penitentiaries take care of the wilfully idle, drunken and vicious classes.

The labor organizations should promptly fire all unworthy members, for no organization can long remain better or purer than the kind of men that rule and dominate it. It's just the same way with a church. Remember that a church edifice is not the church, nor a lodge room a lodge, and when people tell you that you must not judge a church or an organization by its members, they do not think of what they are saying, for the membership is the true criterion to go by. "By their fruits ye shall know them," not by what they profess, nor by their edifices, halls and other places of meeting. Whenever we see a church congregation or lodge made up largely of bad people, it is no evidence that the whole church or society is founded on a wrong basis, but it is evidence, strong and indisputable, that that particular church congregation or lodge is not worth hell room. Therefore, both operator and organization should do a little sifting once in a while.

Court Passes Sentence on Some Striking Miners.

William Nebinski, Wesley Walter, Edward Tucker, Isaac Bolden, Howard Williams, Mark Smith, Ross Pritts and William Richards, Sr., were before Judge Kooser, Tuesday afternoon, on attachments to answer for contempt of court, and twelve or thirteen others of the alleged strike leaders in the Meyersdale district were present on rule to show cause.

Somerset Democrats Meet and Nominate a Ticket.

Somerset, April 21.—The Somerset Democratic County Committee nominally consists of 100 members, but of these only thirty-five assembled in the grand jury room of the court house at their recent county convention. The whole spirit of the meeting was one of utter apathy. Nominations were made in a do-it-because-it's-necessary-but-we're-sure-to-lose-anyway manner that showed the local Democracy to be utterly demoralized.

Perhaps the most significant phase of the meeting was the adoption of a set of resolutions offered by C. W. Walker, nominee for District Attorney, to fill any vacancies in the list of candidates which might arise by reason of resignation or other causes. Mr. Walker is known to be very friendly to the recently defeated Scull wing of the Republican party, and for this reason it was whispered about here that the res-

Somerset County Politics as Viewed by the Frostburg Mining Journal.

Editor J. B. Oder, the sage who presides over the only exclusively great paper ever printed in Frostburg, Md., has the following to say concerning the late Republican primary in this county:

"The J. A. Berkey wing of the Republican party won a signal triumph in Somerset, Pa., two weeks ago. Peter Laughlast Livengood, of Salisbury, Pa., had insinuated that the Lonaconing Star had been subsidized to take part in the fight. Which cannot be true—unless Berkey paid the Star to oppose him. Now, however, Berkey, who must have a mint of money, has evidently employed a whole lot of other people to dispute his triumph.

The Journal is not well up in Somerset (Pa.) politics, but it is certain the Meyersdale Commercial did not receive a boquet from the SALISBURY STAR, nor did the Rockwood Gazette gather any posies for a Windber paper. Be this as it may, it seems to be up to the Lonaconing Star to pluck a forget-me-not in order to complete some sort of a floral tribute to the memory of the gentlemen who didn't 'down' Mr. Berkey."

A Character Sketch of Senator Quay.

Matthew Stanley Quay, senior Senator from Pennsylvania, is the subject of a frank and brilliant character sketch in the May number of The Booklovers Magazine. It is written by Mr. Joseph M. Rogers, the leading editorial writer of The Philadelphia Inquirer. Through his intimate knowledge of national politics and his close touch with the politics of Pennsylvania, Mr. Rogers is unusually well qualified to write of the astute politician whom he describes as "a cross between the Egyptian Sphinx and a stroke of greased lightning." In this article Mr. Rogers has read the riddle of Pennsylvania's political sphinx. At least he has put two and two together in such a convincing way that the total is very close to four! Mr. Quay is characterized as "a consistent and persistent opportunist." That he has for so long kept in the saddle is due, not to his affiliations with the corporations, but to the fact that "he has looked after his state and has given the people what they want—though not what some estimable and ultra reformers think they ought to want." Thus it has come about that a man currently held to be utterly unscrupulous "maintains his hold upon a rural constituency which is morally honest and God-fearing." The whole sketch of Quay is full of telling points, caustic and humorous, and is written with all Mr. Rogers' skill in narration and his singular ability to illuminate his subject with apt illustration and anecdote. Every Pennsylvanian should get hold of the May number of The Booklovers Magazine and read this keen analysis of the chief political force in his state.

A THOUGHTFUL MAN.

M. M. Austin, of Winchester, Ind., knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble, physicians could not help her. He thought of and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was finally cured. Only 25c. at E. H. Miller's Drug Store. 5-1 olution might be more significant than its innocent appearance would indicate.

County Chairman A. B. Groff was unanimously re-elected by acclamation, and the following slate went through without opposition: For Congress, C. F. Uhl, Jr., who was empowered to select his own conferees; for Assembly, Dr. J. W. Hawes, of Windber, and Hiram Hay, of Brothersvalley township; for District Attorney, C. W. Walker, of Somerset; for Poor Director, George W. Baush, of Ouemaoning township; for Delegate to the State convention, Joseph Levy, Esq., of Somerset.

Somerset county polled only 800 Democratic votes, last election, and the representation in the State convention has, therefore, been cut down to one. Mr. Levy was sent uninstruced.

There'll Be No New County.

The new Conemaugh county boomers have been down in the mouth over the result of the recent primary election in this county, because they realize the opposition that will come from our leaders to the formation of the proposed Conemaugh county largely out of the most valuable portion of Somerset county. Here's what the Johnstown Journal had to say last week:

"Has it occurred to you that the new Somerset county court-house scheme chimes in admirably with the plans of the Cambria county Republican bosses? No court-house down in Somerset, no new county here. This means an additional law judge for Cambria, and the Barkers may be depended on to galvanize a political corpse and 'catapult' him into the judicial place. Cute, ain't it? 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians.'"
