The Republican national convention, the thirteenth in the party's history, met in the Chicago Coliseum at noon Tuesday and organized. Henry C. Paine, chairman of the National Com-mittee, called the convention to order. He then introduced the Rev. Tim-othy P. Frost, pastor of the First Meth-odist Church of Evanston, III., who pronounced the opening prayer. Senator Scott, on behalf of the Chi-cago citizens' committee which co-operated with the National Committee on arrangements for the convention, then presented National Chairman Henry C. Payne with a handsome zavel.

Henry C. Payne with a handsome gavel. Chairman Payne recognized Gov. Yan Zant, of Minnesota, to present the gavel used by the presiding office. It was made by the members of the South Minneapolis High school, and he said, had been used at Republican conventions in Minneapolis, St. Louis and Philadelphia. He asked the chair-man to use it for this convention which would nominate Theodore Roosevelt. It was the first mention of the Presi-

Roosevelt. It was the first/mention of the Presi-dent's name in the convention and the delegates rose as one man. Cheers rang through the hall, and many men sprang upon their chairs and waved hats, banners and handkerchiefs. After the applause had subsided Chairman Payne in a few words ex-pressed thanks for the gavel. He then said:

staid: "Gentlemen of the convention, the National Committee has selected for your temporary chairman the Hon. Elihu Root, of New York." There was another shout from the convention which was prolonged when Gov. Odell, of New York, rose to move that the action of the National Com-mittee be approved. The motion was adopted. adopted

Black, of New York, then advanced to the plat-form to nominate Theodore Roosevelt and was greeted with wild cheers. He spoke rapidly and was frequently in-terrupted by applause. His concluding words, nominating Roosevelt, were the signal for the greatest demonstration of the convention. While the uproar was going on Chairman Cannon waved the old battle flag that has been used at every convention of the party. When order was restored the nomin-ation was seconded by Senator Bev-eridge, of Indiana, George A. Knight, of California and others, after which the nomination was made unanimous-ly.

All the ships then advanced, endeavoring to dispose of the mines laid by the Japanese, but they were hindered by two Japanese torpedo boat destroyers, which had been guarding the mouth of the harbor. At 3 p. m. the Japanese torpedo boats exchanged shots with seven Russian destroyers, which were covering the clearing operations. One of the Russian destroyers was set on fire and retired inside the harbor. "Subsequently the Japanese decoyed the Russians out to sea and awaited an opportusity to begin a general ac-tion, but between 8 and 9 p. m. the Russian ships made for the harbor. The Japanese torpedo boat destroyers and at 9:30 delivered the first attack, in consequence of which the enemy was thrown into disorder. Negro Prisoner Detected in Attempt to Four Italians Held in Pittsburg for killed.

Break Jail.

James Callihan, a negro, condemned to die for murder, made a desperate effort to escape from the Washington county, (Pa.) jail. He sawed through two of his cell bars, but the arrival of a guard prevented his escape.

Callihan secured the saws and file in a pie sent to him last Friday. He sawed through the bars and concealed Charles L. Aymer can speak the Italian language fluently. The prisoners are Arthur Miller, Al-fred Ceracio, Panipaina Sisinhio and James Antonni, and upon them was found anarchistic correspondence, the importance of which cannot be ascer-tained until the authorities of Pater-son, N. J., and the secret police of Rome reply to the communications sent them by Superintendent of Detec-tives McQuaide. the marks with soap blackened. He the marks with soap blackened. He then tore two strips from his blanket and tied the ends about the bars where he had sawed through. This was no-ticed by Deputy Sheriff Samuel Howe, who in cutting it off pulled out the bars. Callihan was put in another cell and searched. Three saws and a file were found in the air shaft. Callihan with a spoon had unscrewed the plate to the shaft and fastening the tools to a string had hung them over the water pipe in the shaft. Callihan says the sawing was done before he was placed in the cell. Ko-vovick in an adjoining cell says he heard no sawing,

Lawrence Baron, 23 years old, was struck by a piece of broken emery wheel while at work in a plant at Connellsville, Pa., and was instantly heard no sawing.

Killing of Etzel Unwarranted.

Minister Conger has cabled the state department that Consul Miller, after a thorough investigation of the facts connected with the killing of the American war correspondent, Etzel, by Chinese soldiers on the junk off Niuchwang, has made a report stating that the killing was unwarranted and without provocation. In due course the state department will bring the subject to the attention of the Chinese government quest. That the ill-fated steamer Gen. Slocum had no life preservers aboard less than nine years old was admitted by counsel of the Knickerböcker Steamboat Company at the inquest. Miss Hall, the bookkeeper of the com-pany, had testified concerning several bills for preservers, in which she had crased the name Grand Republic, the sister ship of the Slocum, and substi-tuted that of the latter. Notwithstand-ing his, counsel for the company said they would make the admission as to the age of the belts as they were un-able to prove to the contrary. Evi-dence was also brought out that the United States inspectors did not ex-amine the fire hose and standpipes and that the preservers were not in good shape. Derbrose the most unexpected incl-

and that the preservers were not in good shape. Perhaps the most unexpected inci-dent was the continued refusal to answer questions of Henry Lundberg, a United States steamboat inspector, who was supposed to have inspected the life preservers and the hull of the ill-fated steamer. His refusal was based on the ground that an answer might tend to incriminate him, and he acted on the advice of counsel. The corner committed Lundberg to the Hanse of Detention, but later accepted
