MEN WHO HAVE MADE THEIR MARK.

An Appropriate and Effective Booklet on the Savings Habit.

The above is the title of a very interesting booklet just issued by the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, of Pittsburgh, Pa. The booklet is one of the best ever published for the purpose. It contains a brief but surprisingly complete biography of great American statesmen and kings of finance. It is admirably illustrated with half-tone portraits of characteristic scenes illustrating striking episodes in the lives of various characters among whom are Benjamin Franklin, Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Carnegie, Stephen Girard, John Wanamaker, James A. Garfield, John D. Rockefeller and others. Following each biography is an apt quotation appropriate to the matter preceding. Typographically it is one of the handsomest little booklets we have seen for some time, and it will repay our readers to send for a copy of the same, which will be furnished free of charge by the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, provided you mention this paper, but not otherwise. Sued a President.

Kansas City Journal. Pawnee county, Kas., claims to be the residence of the only living man who sued a President of the United States. His name is G. S. Van Eman, and he lives at Jennings. Van used to run a sheep ranch up in Lyon county, Kansas, and was getting along all right until Grover Cleveland was elected President and the edict went forth that wool was to be put on the free list. Van had about consummated a sale, but claims the fear of tariff changes forced the price of sheep down several points. Furthermore, his regard for his sheep and country was so high that he was ashamed to look a sheep in the face under the conditions that Cleveland forced upon them, so during the reign of Grover he made a practice of beginning at the rear end of a sheep to shear it. This greatly humiliated him and caused him to lose prestige with his hired hands and merinos. Feeling intensely aggrieved and materially damaged, he sued Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, getting service by publication, and obtained a judgment of $400. Of course, it was never collected, for Grover never got in reach of an execution. But Van claims he felt better, though the debt remains unpaid. If

Mary's Wicked Ram.

Maid Mary had a hard-browed ram, as black as any crow, and everywhere that Mary went the ram was sure to go. It went with her to Zion church one peaceful Sabbath day, and Mary thought it would behave in a religious way. She wisely counseled it enroute, and begged it to be good, and rammy shook his whiskerettes as if to say he would (not). A deacon met them at the door, and said it would be a sin to see a wicked beast at church, but rammy butted in. The deacon got a plexus punch that stretched him on the floor, and the subsequent proceedings interested him no more. The congregation rubber-necked with widely staring eyes, and superstitious thinking 'twas the devil in disguise. A sister from her seat arose—she fain would hence depart—but got a chug behind her back that almost broke her heart. "I will expel the sinful brute!" cried Brother Pettigrew, but in his midst the rammy's brow was buried p. d. q. A choir man threw a prayer stool to crush the warlike ram, and landed it with vigor on poor Mary's diaphragm. The preacher said that kindness would subdue wild beasts and birds, and moved toward the waiting pet with soft endearing words. Then came a dull and sickening thud! The pastor, where was he? Go ask the sister in whose lap he lit ungracefully. Then sent they for the butcher boy, who slew the aged ram, and fixed its meat with chemicals, and sold it for spring lamb.—Denver Post. If

BEDBUGS.

Speaking of bedbugs, a friend of ours who "put up" at the Kalamazoo House tells the following "strong one": "You see, I went to bed pretty all-fired used up after a hull day on the road before the plank was laid, kalkalatin' on a good snooze. Waa! just as the shivers began to ease off, I kinder felt suthin' try'n' to pull my shirt off my back and diggin' their feet into my back to get a good hold. Wiggled and twisted, and joubled and pucker-ed—all of no use—kept a-going it like sin. Bimby got up and struck a light to look around a spell. Found about a peck of bedbugs scattered around and more droppin' off my legs every mint. Swept off a place on the carpet, shook out a quilt, lay down, and kivered up for a nap. No use—mounted right on me like a passel of rats on a meal tub—dug a hole in the kiverlid and crawled through and gave me fits for trying to hide. Got up again, went down stairs, and got the slush bucket from the wagon. Brought it up and made a circle of tar on the floor. Lay down on the floor on the inside, and felt comfortable that time anyhow. Left the light burning and watched 'em. See 'em get together and have a camp-meeting 'bout it and then went off in a squad, with an old gray-headed one at the top; right up the wall on the ceiling till they got to the right spot, and then they dropped into my face. Fact, by thunder! "Well, I swept 'em up again and made a circle of tar on the ceiling, too. Thought I had 'em foul that time, but I swan to man, if they didn't pull straws out of the bed and build a bridge, a good regular bridge, across it!" Seeing an incredible expression upon our visage, he clinched the story thus: "It's so, whether you believe it or not, and some of 'em walked across on stilts. "Beddugs are curious critters, and no mistake; 'specially of the Kalamazoo kind."—Ex. If
