At the close of the seventh day con secutive fighting between Mukden and Liao Yang the battle was still raging the Russians offering a stubborn re sistance to the onslaughts of the Japanese. The sacrifice of life has been appalling, estimates of the Rus sian loss alone in killed and wound ed at the end of the six days' fight ed at the end of the six days nighting being concededly 30,000, while it seems not improbable it aggregated at that time 40,000. Japanese official reports estimate that 10,000 Russian dead were left on the field of battle up to the night of October 14, and claim that the Japanese losses are small by comparison with those of the Russians.

Episcopal Convention Decides to Leave Laws as They Are.

The house of deputies of the Episcopal general convention in session at Boston at the close of a four days' debate, rejected an amendment to the divorce canon, which sought to prevent the re-marriage of divorced persons by clergymen of the denomination. While the house of bishops may yet act on the matter, it is certain that no change will be made by the present convention.

The present law of the church, which has been in operation since 1859, allows the remarriage of the innocent party to a divorce granted for infidelity. At several conventions, attempts have been made to repeal this law, and when a vote was taken to-day by the house of deputies sitting as a committee of the whole, on the question of reporting the proposed amendment to the house itself, the reformers were successful by a vote of 214 to 191, and this vote was regarded as representing the actual strength of the contending forces.
