RULES FOR FEEDING. RULES FOR PEEDING.

Each farmer must make his own rules for feeding, as the amount of food required by animals, even when of the same age; and weight differs widely. Some animals are very dainty, while others will accept any kind of food offered. The standard rale for feeding according to live weight is valuable to a certain extent, but in all flocks or herds some animals will eat much more than others, hence the wants of each individual nurst be observed and the animal fed accordingly.

WIRE STRETCHER. A good wire stretcher cur be made cheaply as shown in cut. Cut a hole live or six feetlong, and size preferred. Get a bolt, cut off head and bend back; put through hole about twelve

CLEAN THE HOGS. :

CLEAN THE HGGS, f

To give the pigs a thorough scrubbing may appear to be labor thrown away, but if two lots of hogs are treated alike in every respect, except that one lot receives a thorough scrubbing with soapsuds once in a while, there will be a marked difference in favor of the hogs that are washed when the time for slaughtering arrives. A clean bed of straw, with a dry house, so as to afford them comfort at night, will also promote thrift and growth. The hog is naturally a clean animal and enjoys a bath. If considered a fittly animal that devours filtly food it is because of the treatment given. Hogs will select clean and wholesome food always if given the opportunity to do so.

Mrs. Haskell, Worthy Vice Templar, Independent Order Good Templars, of Silver Lake, Mass., tells of her cure by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dean Mrs. Pinkham: Four years ago I was nearly dead with inflammation and ulceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicines and washes internally and externally until I made up my mind that there was no relief for me. Calling at the home of a friend, I noticed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My friend endorsed it highly and I decided to give it a trial to see if it would help me. It took patience and perseverence for I was in bad condition, and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nestly five months before I was cured, but what's change, from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful exhilarating feeling health always brings. I would not change back for a thousand dollars, and your Vegetable Compound is a grand medicine.

"I wish every sick woman would try it and be convinced." — Mrs. Iod Hassell, Silver Lake, Mass. Worthy Vice Templar, Independent Order of Good Templars.

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me."?

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. You have some derangement of the feminine organism, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as surely as it has others.
