Workingmen of Pennsylvania Repudiate Professional Democratic Campaigners.

THEY STOOD BY THE PRESIDENT

A Scheme of the Parker Machine Which Has Not Worked Well Here.

[Special Correspondence.]

Scranton, Oct. 25 Discovery has been made of the fact that the Democratic national emmit-tee has seen fit to employ a number of professional agitators and to publish what would appear to be special editions of papers apparently printed in the interest of labor to bolster up the Democratic campaign.

A desperate attempt is being made to swing the votes of the workingmen of the country to Parker and free trade and to the Democratic candidates for congress who are committed to a re-peal of the tariff and to other policies calculated to destroy the business in-

While the Democratic managers do not hope to carry Pennsylvania for Parker, they have devoted their campaign in this state to a scheme to get workingmen to vote for the Democratic nominees for congress.

They have flooded some of the congressional districts with these news-papers manufactured specially for the campaign, but they have failed signally in this undertaking.

The workingmen of Pennsylvania have become acquainted with the influences back of this campaign, and they have taken steps to inform all who might be fooled by these tactics as to the true condition of affairs.

At a meeting of representative men of the anthracite coal regions held in Scranton a few days ago, action was taken which will completely upset the taken which will completely upset the plans of the Democrats. A committee, of which E. C. Patterson is chairman and Thomas Henry secretary, was appointed to present the facts to the voters of the country, and as the result of their deliberations resolutions were unanimously adopted which have the time of supervity and stemp of truth ring of sincerity and stamp of truth.

These resolutions, among other things, set forth:
Whereas, We have seen by the press reports that an organization known as the Western Federation of Miners has at the connivance and solicitation of the Democratic national committee sent some of its members through the Middle, Western and Eastern States to advocate the election of the Democratio nominees for president and vice president of the United States, hoping to finduce other workmen to support said nominees by their votes at the coming

November election; and bor organization to advocate or give preference to any politician or any po-litical party, but to be true to those who by their actions respect, uphold and support the rights of labor; and

Whereas. We know from past experience, and the people of our country know by the press reports of the past, that Hon. Theodore Roosevelt was imbued with the American spirit of fair play when he appointed the commis-sion to inquire into the grievances of which the anthracite miners and work-men complained, and by such actions gave us a chance to show to the people gave us a chance to show to the people of our country that we had just cause for complaint, and to ask redress for those wrongs, as may be seen by the report of said commission; therefore, be it

Resolved, That inasmuch as those mational Democratic committeemen have seen fit to hire those so-called part of calamity howlers, hoping there-by to impose upon the liberal by to impose upon the liberal minds and tender sympathies of workingmen to the detriment of those entitled to well-merited support, we earnestly ask all lovers of fair play to consider well, before voting, the merits of the princi-pals in this campaign, and having done so, to vote conscientiously for the men who best deserve their suffrages, and consistently maintain the rights of American freemen, and not be led, pulled or gulled by any base hirelings or sychophants who dare approach them to solicit their votes because of their membership in a labor union; and be it further

Resolved, That appreciating the man-Resolved, That appreciating the mani-liness, of the man who had the courage of his convictions to at his country's call leave all that he held near and dear in this world and hasten to the front, ready and willing to yield up his life on the altar of his country, would the sacrifice be necessary for the liberty of the down-trodden and oppressed, and who has always shown his sympathetic feeling for the lowly and the tolling masses of the people, and on many ec-casions has publicly displayed his good will for the plain people, and by his love of fair play and justice to men aceording to merits, that we, appreciating what he has done to promote his and our country's welfare, and knowing his many sacrifices in behalf of our country. try's interests and our own, ask all try's interests and our own, ask all lovers of liberty and fair play to support Hon. Theodore Roosevelt's candidacy for the office of president of these United States, and show to the world that the workingmen of this country, regardless of partisan strife, are not unmindful of what he has done for them; and that we at this time and in this way express our appreciation of his worth, and by these presents send greeting to the workingmen of our country, and ask all men who believe in honoring merit, justice and fair play to march resolutely to the polls on the eighth day of neat November and cast their votes for the election of Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, the friend of the people.

The resolutions further declare that The resolutions further declare that 150,000 men of this region "refterate their faith in the president's judgment and ability, and pledge to him, as an active friend of the workingmen, our sincere support; and we earnestly ask the workingmen of all crafts throughout our country to join with us in alding his election by a stupendous vote, as a just tribute to his merits, that we as a just tribute to his merits, that we may all have in the White House a man whose worth we appreciate, and whose friendship we esteem, and we jointly and severally pledge to do all in our power to the end that we may for fou years more hall him as our worthy and honored chief executive."

Not only are the members of this hody of representative workingmen laboring for the election of Roosevelt, but they are supporting Republican candidates for congress upon the prin-ciple that Roosevelt's action in the coal strike indicated the policy of the Republican party in favor of giving labor a fair show and honest treatment under all circumstances.

STURDY SUPPORT FOR TICKET

Editorial Comemnt That Indicates Popular Sentiment In the Keystone

State. An enthusiastic interest in the cam paign for the election of Roosevelt and Fairbanks and Republican nomi-nees generally continues to be taken by the Republican press of Pennsyl vania. Here are some recent utter-ances from editorial pages in the state touching upon the political situation:

A Change Not Wanted. A Change Not Wanted.

Vote for a change! Just pause a moment and consider what that means. It means leaving a certainty for an uncertainty, and once launched upon the sea of uncertainty, who can tell where he will fetch up? If a Republican bouse is elected as well as publican house is elected, as well as a Republican president, there will be no convulsions in legislation and consequently no convulsions in business.

The tariff will be safe, American labor will be protected, capital will not be withdrawn, the railroads will not des-charge their help, the farmers will continue to have a market for their products. There will be no change in the financial system, banks will con-tinue to have confidence and continue to make loans. That is what it means to "stand pat."—Butler Eagle.

Democrats As Obstructionists. It cannot be successfully denied that Democratic party is essentially one of obstruction, hostility and re-cusancy, with a decidedly marked pro-pensity for opposition to anything and everything. It sometimes combines with the Prohibition party, whose principles are as diametrically op-posed to its own as are those of heat to cold or right to wrong, but over and above all else it is a "fer rinst" party. Its caucuses, primaries and cor ventions are rarely if ever held until after the Republicans have taken the initiative and blazed the way. Had there been any Democrats, in the days of General Washington, they would doubtless have objected to his method of crossing the Delaware, and argued in favor of building a bridge.—Oil City Blizzard.

Now Get a Move On. But a few days more remain until election time. This fact ought to stir those who have anything to do to insure the success of the Republican ticket to get their coats off and go to work. Success in any line is not attended by successing any line is not attended by successing the succession of the s work. Success in any methods. It requires work—hard, vigorous work! Committeemen in their respective districts should begin to stir up tardy or disaffected voters and impress them with the idea that every American citizen has a duty to perform at the polls.
Work, and nothing less than work, will accomplish this.—Tunkhannock Republican and News Age.

These Figures Speak Eloquently.
We know that our Democratic friends dislike comparisons and we fear the following will hurt: The number of business failures for nine months of this year was 7718. In 1893, when the Democrats came into power, the failures in the corresponding time ne failures in the corresponding time numbered 11,140, and in 1896, the last year of Cleveland's administration, they numbered in nine months 11,280, and that was before the defeat of his party. Then the failures fell off greatly.—Lewisburg Saturday News.

Democratic Hypecrisy.
The hypocrisy of the Democratic leaders is displayed to perfection in their solicitude for the welfare of the Filipinos, while they utterly ignore the deprivation of rights whereby eight or nine millions of American citizens in southern states are debarred from the exercise of privileges guaranteed by the constitution of the country. This is an example of inconsistency that American voters generally will not everlook.—Norristown Herald.

Easy to Vete Straight.

A Republican who desires to vote a straight ticket will find a square on the left side of the ballot in which the word "Republican" is printed in black letters. All that is necessary is to make a cross mark in the space at the right of this party name and it will count as a vote for every Republican candidate on the ballot. It is the easiest thing in the world to vote a straight ticket on the new form of ballot.—Wellsboro Agitator.

HAUL UP THE FLAG

Patriotic Inspiration For First Voters In the Roosevelt Campaign.

FIGHT FOR NATIONAL PROSPERITY

Chairman Penrose and Secretary Andrews Working Hard For a Big Vote in This State.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 25. A patriotic call has gone forth to the citizens of the great American republic to be on their guard against the Democracy as they were in the last two presidential campaigns when the national honor was at stake. While the Parker managers insist an issue, Bryan is on the stump declaring that the election of Parker will ultimately bring about the "great reforms" for which he fought in 1896

The entire plan of campaign of the present Democratic national machine is in line with the assaults upon the nor and the flag of the which were made under the Chicago and the Kansas City platforms. The patriotic young American must be roused to action now as they were then.

It has been suggested that there could be no better way to inject the proper spirit into the "First Voters" of the country than that which was adopted when the credit of the nation was in peril. Then many hundreds of thousands of citizens, Democrats of the old school, as well as Republicans, run up the American flag and kept it flying until the people demonstrated that Bryen and his analysis of the contract of archistic doctrines had no place in the hearts of a great majority of the Parker's recent sensational utter ances, which were calculated to in-cite the Filipinos to attack the Ameri-can troops now stationed in the Phil-ippines, and Cleveland's free trade deliverances, are quite in line with the Bryanistic campaigning of four and eight years ago. It is declared that there is just as much need now to run up the American flag for the honor and glory of the nation and to show that the voters are not in sympathy with such teachings, as there was in the last two nationti campaigns.

The flag is the emblem, not of a party, but of the people as a whole. Let those who believe that the honor and greatness of the flag will be best promoted by continuing the policy of protection and sound currency display their country's banner, and with it th names of Roosevelt and Fairbanks, the champions who stand for the policy which has made and will keep this country strong and prosperous.

Hang out the flag, and show that you stand for the flag, for protection and prosperity!

ACTIVITY AT HEADQUARTERS. These are busy days at the Repub lican state committee headquarters in this city. Senator Boles Penrose, the chairman of the committee, and Col-onel Wesley R. Andrews, the secretary, rarely leave the headquarters on Locust street until midnight, and frequently the secretary is obliged to remain until 2 o'clock in the morning getting off the mail. While the election of the Republi can electors in Pennsylvania is a fore gone conclusion, the Republican cam paign has been run upon the policy that there must be nothing taken for granted, and that the size of the Re publican majority in this state will have much influence upon public sen-timent throughout the country after

It is pointed out that with the De rats reviving their campaign for a reduction of the tariff, a falling off in the Republican vote in Pennsylvania, the home of the American policy of protection, would properly be taken as indicating an indifference to the result of tariff tinkering at the coming majority in this state, the Democrats would surely declare that the agita-tion for free trade meets with favor in Pennsylvania, and therefore it is necessary to roll up a crushing ma-jority in order to emphasize Pennsylvania's protest against any interfer vania's protest against any interference with the protective tariff system through the provisions of which the state has grown to be one of the most prosperous in the Union.

It is the duty of Republicans who are active in the party organization to warn the voters of their respective precinets of the plans of the Democracy and to see to it that a full Republican vote shall be polled.

The chief danger at this time lies in the attack of the Democrats in the congressional, senatorial and representative districts.

Every effort should be made to preserve the present Republican ma-preserve the present Republican ma-jority in the national house of repre forty in the national house of repre-sentatives and in the legislature at Harrisburg. The loss of a single con-gressman in Pennsylvania might en-danger the election of a Republican speaker of the house at Washington. an event which would create serious disturbances to the business interests of the country, and might imperil national prosperity.

What is true of the congressional situation can be said as well of the loss of candidates for election to the coming session of the legislature, which will be called to elect a United States senator for the full term of six years.
