Real Life.

Larkins—"Stringer should be a happy and contented man."
Hawkins—"Why do you think so?"
Larkins—"He passes two-thirds of his time fishing and the other third lying about it."

Didn't Like 'Em.

He—"Are you in this anti-spitting crusade?"
She—"Indeed, I am! I'd like to see every spitter in the country annihilated!"

These Girls.

Stella—"He wore my picture right over his heart, and it stopped the bullet."
Bella—"No wonder, dear; it would stop a clock.—New York Sun.

Harsh Analysis.

"Mr. Bliggins seems very affectionate toward his wife in public."
"That isn't affection," answered Miss Cayenne. "That's discipline."—Washington Star.

Slight Reduction.

Pennibs—"My vacation was anything but satisfactory. It turned out to be a sort of bargain-counter affair."
Inkerton—"Too cheap, eh?"
Pennibs—"Oh, no; but I tipped the scales at 150 when I went away and at 148 when I returned."

Entitled to a Profit.

"I suppose," said Homer, "that you would not take its weight in gold for that baby of yours, eh?"
"Of course not," answered Newpopp. "What would be the use in selling out at cost?"

Better Than Medicine.

"Did you tell my wife that I had made my will and left all my property to her?" asked the sick man.
"I did," replied the lawyer.
"What did she say?" queried the invalid.
"Oh," answered his legal adviser, "she glanced in the mirror and asked if I thought she would look well in black."
And that is why the undertaker lost a job.

As in Neighbourhood.

"Oh, George," sighed the romantic girl, "I wish you were like the old-time knights. I wish you'd do something brave to show your love for me."
"Gracious!" cried her fiancé, "haven't I agreed to marry you, and me only getting $50 a week?"—Philadelphia Press.

In Honor Bound.

Mother—"So, Johnny, you have been fighting again?"
Johnny—"I couldn't help it. The last time I loked Tommy Smith I promised to give him another chance."

Not Improbable.

Wandering Wilder—"No, leddy; Mevor never touched my lips."
Lady—"No; probably you open your mouth and throw it down."

Puzzling.

Larry (reading)—"Oh see where they are going to revolve 'King Henry the Eighth.'"
Denny—"Revolve him? Arrah, go wan! Phoy, the mon's been dead too long."

In After Years.

Mrs. Meeker—"Hub, you evidently think you know it all."
Meeker—"Not guilty. But there was a time when I thought I knew a little."
Mrs. M.—"When was that?"
Meeker—"Before I was married."

Only a Comparison.

He—"What would you think if I were to steal just one little kiss?"
She—"What would you think of a burglar who had a chance to swipe a hundred dollars and took only a dime?"

Where Experience Counts.

Timpkins—"I understand your friend Eggbert has left the stage?"
Simkins—"Yes. He quit the stage to accept a job as track walker with some railroad company out west."

Thoroughly at Ease.

"You appear to take life pretty easy," said the housewife.
"Yes, indeed, mum," grinned Sandy Pike, "the whole world is a 'cosy corner' wid me."

Unreliable.

Edyth—"So your engagement with Tom has been declared off, eh?"
Mayme—"Yes. He promised to return the lock of my hair that adorns his locket, but he has failed to do so."
Edyth—"Well, I never did have much faith in those alleged hair restorers."—Chicago News.

Sageville Sage.

"When does a man begin to want to get married?" asked the inquisitive youth.
"When the woman in the case begins to want him to want to," replied the sage from Sageville.

So There!

Patience—"She says she never made a mistake in her life."
Patrice—"Well, neither have I; and I don't believe her!"

Were and Was.

Little Willie—"Say, pa, what is a man whose wife is dead?"
Pa—"A widower, my son."
Little Willie—"And if he marries again he's a widower, isn't he, pa?"

Newspaper Interests in Combination.

A RECENT invention has revolutionized the art of making printing inks, and a substantial reduction in the cost of manufacture has given The Standard Ink Works such a strategical advantage over their competitors in the ink trade that the editors and publishers who control and largely own the business have decided to invite the financial co-operation of the general public in an immediate enlargement of the working plant.

The purpose of the corporation is to secure to American newspapers the absolute control of their ink supply independently of any industrial combination or other outside influence, and, at the same time, to make money for its stockholders through the sale of printing inks to publishers and printers in all parts of the civilized world.

The corporation owns and operates, in New York City, a printing ink factory having a capacity of 10,000 pounds of printing ink a day. The factory is equipped with the latest and most highly improved machinery for the manufacture of all grades and colors of printing inks.

The corporation owns and operates, outside of New York, a modern and fully equipped factory for the preparation of the materials from which printing inks are made. This factory represents an outlay of between $50,000 and $100,000 in cash. It has a capacity at present of 100,000 pounds a day.

It is the intention of the corporation to bring the capacity of its New York City factory up to the full capacity of the works.

By reason of the recent improvement in the quality of the materials and the reduction in the cost of manufacture, the corporation is able to offer to investors this plain business proposition: It can manufacture better printing inks at a lower cost than any other maker of inks in existence. It can sell good inks for less than it costs other concerns to make poor inks, and still earn generous dividends on its outstanding investment. The profits of manufacture, under the new and more favorable conditions, will range from 100% to 300%.

The corporation has no debt, no preferred stock, no bonds. All stock is common stock, full-paid and non-assessable. Only stock actually issued counts as capital. Dividends are paid only on issued stock.

The active management of the business is in the hands of practical and experienced men, all except two of whom have had many years' experience as editors and publishers. The Executive Board of Directors is made up as follows:

For the purpose of extending its business by the construction in New York City of a larger factory for the manufacture on an extensive scale of all grades and colors of printing inks, the parent corporation now offers for sale a limited allotment of its capital stock at the low price of fifty cents a share (par value, $1.00, full-paid and non-assessable). When this sale is closed (which may be at any time without notice), the price of stock will be advanced to $1.00 a share.

Subscriptions to this allotment of stock should be sent to Mr. William Willard Howard, Treasurer, 17 Broadway, New York City. Circulars describing the enterprise in detail will be sent free to any address on application.
