Got What He Long Has Needed.
Last Friday James Robertson, a windy individual living in the lower part of town, got just what he long has needed—several good punches in the face. He was imposing on a son of Francis Shunk, chiding and insulting him for working in the mines. He kept up his abuse until young Shunk thought forbearance had ceased to be a virtue, and then "nothing" dropped, although "Windy Jim" measured his length twice on the street. But "Jim" is nothing, that is, nothing but dirt and thin air, and as the silly thing is in the habit of looking for trouble, young Shunk deserves credit for giving it a valuable lesson.

How Vaccination Protects.
The following is vouched for by a prominent doctor:
He was attending one of the leading medical colleges, and the lecturer had a big German woman to show the students how to vaccinate. The operation was fully explained and the reasons why it protected fully given. Ten days later the same person was exhibited to show a typical "successful" vaccination.

There were a few cases of smallpox in the city, and the quarantine was not so rigid as today, and the whole class was taken to the detention hospital to show the students the smallpox. The first patient found was the former "successfully vaccinated" class subject.
A class of twenty anti-vaccinationists came out of that school. The reporter is one of that class.

Lively Times in North of County.
Jacob Kautz, of Holsopple, a well known hotel proprietor, was in the city Wednesday afternoon and last evening. Mr. Kautz is the owner of a new hotel bearing his name. The hostelry is not yet completed, but will be shortly. It is stated that the hotel will be the most modern in Somerset county outside of Somerset town.

According to Mr. Kautz, Somerset county is on a decided boom. The new town of Jerome will give an impetus to things in the neighborhood of Holsopple. At the present time 200 men are working on the railroad extension from Holsopple toward Jerome, and from 150 to 200 men are working on the immense shaft being sunk by the Jenner & Quamboning Consolidated Coal Company at the new town. The company, it is said, is one of the strongest in this section of the state. Ex-Sheriff Good, of Somerset, and Mr. Zimmerman, of the same town, are interested, but others connected are members of the corporations in the western end of the state, and who also operate the trolley system connecting Greensburg and Conneville. Mr. Kautz said yesterday that he was sure the Johnstown Passenger Railway Company would extend its lines from Paint-cree to Holsopple, and other towns in that vicinity, as by so doing it would open up a territory occupied by many thousand people. The new Quamboning dam, projected by the Cambria Steel Company, is situated less than two miles from the new branch railroad to Jerome.—Johnstown Democrat.

A River of Fish.
Lake county, one of the most picturesque of the northern counties of California, is so named from Clear Lake, the largest body of fresh water in the state. From its varied scenery of mountain and lake, it has been called the "Switzerland of America."
Several creeks run into Clear Lake, one of the principal being Kelsey Creek. Each spring the fish run from Clear Lake up Kelsey Creek, to spawn, sometimes in so great numbers that wagons, in crossing, crush many of them. It happens in some seasons that the dry weather, coming on suddenly, causes the waters of the creek to subside rapidly. Then the fish are left stranded and die in countless millions. The farmers cart off wagonloads of them to use on their fields as fertilizer, and the stench arising from their decaying bodies makes the neighborhood almost uninhabitable.—Scientific American.

COUNTY-SEALED LETTER.
Somerset County Coal Lands in Great Demand—Bad Accident that Almost Delayed a Wedding.

[Special to THE STAR.]
Somerset, Pa., Dec. 28th.—There seems to be a rush into Somerset county by coal speculators from every quarter. The freight rate to tide water on Somerset coal is the same as that prevailing in the Clearfield, Cambria and George's Creek (Md.) regions, which probably makes the demand for Somerset coal, of which there is still a limited area unsold, so brisk at the present time. Somerset county has probably the largest area of bituminous coal of all the Pennsylvania counties. It is sixth in size of the Pennsylvania counties, having an area of 1,102 square miles, all of which is underlaid with from four to eight productive veins of coal.

A run-away in which Walter Gardner and Mrs. Mary Moore were severely injured, almost upset their matrimonial plans while on their way from Jefferson township to Somerset to procure a marriage license.
While Gardner and his bride-to-be were driving down the steep Barron Hill, west of Somerset, a holdback strap broke, and the frightened horse started on a wild run down the hill, dashing the sleigh against a telegraph pole, where it was wrecked. Gardner was thrown to the roadside, where he lay unconscious until picked up by Noah Barron, who saw the accident. Mrs. Moore, who was a widow fifty-one years old, was also hurled to the ground and fearfully bruised.

After Gardner recovered consciousness, he and Mrs. Moore were driven to Somerset, where they received medical attention. They agreed not to allow their mishap to interrupt their plans, and accordingly repaired to the home of a clergyman, after obtaining the license, and were made man and wife.

A SONG ALONG THE WAY.
By JOHN S. McGRATH.

Always a little nearer,
The day of the last farewell,
Ever a little clearer
The sound of the warning bell;
The shadows closer creeping
Through fading skies of blue,
Then, where the dead are sleeping,
We'll lie and rest us, too.

So, as we journey, brother,
Through days that are left us still,
Let us share with one another
The road that winds the hill.
If burdens of pain we carry,
As we trudge along, the while,
By the green fields let us tarry,
And search them for a smile.

Useless, on weary shoulders,
The trappings of strife we bear,
And the hate in our hearts that smolders
Makes hard the way we fare.
Let us cast away the madness
Of swords with which we fought,
And share, alike, the gladness
Love's golden pennies bought.

Breasting the winds together,
As we wander the seagown way,
Peace, with its summer weather,
Will light the skies of gray.
And then, with hearts grown fonder,
Serenes with their own delight,
We'll part in the twilight yonder,
With a tender and fond good-night.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker, of Centro, Ala. "I have used it in my family for Piles, Cuts and Burns for years and can recommend it to be the best Salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by E. H. Miller. 1-1

Warm Where He is Now.
One of our exchanges thus bids farewell to a departed citizen: "He was a man of push. He played marbles for keep, when a boy, and cheated his playmates out of alleys; he swapped a bladeless jackknife for a four-bladed, sight unseen, sold it for 50 cents, bought a pound of sugar and made a barrel of lemonade, which he sold one circus day for $9; he started in business and sold bad meat for choice out and made a fortune; when he got $1,000 he organized a company with $1,000,000 capital, mostly water, and sold the stock at par; when the company busted it was found out he had sold out some time before; when he died he was a millionaire and he left it all here. It is warm where he is now."

Newspaper Interests in Combination.

A RECENT invention has revolutionized the art of making printing inks, and a substantial reduction in the cost of manufacture has given The Standard Ink Works such a strategic advantage over their competitors in the ink trade that the editors and publishers who control and largely own the business have decided to invite the financial co-operation of the general public in an immediate enlargement of the working plant.

The purpose of the corporation is to secure to American newspapers the absolute control of their ink supply independently of any industrial combination or other outside influence, and, at the same time, to make money for its stockholders through the sale of printing inks to publishers and printers in all parts of the civilized world.

The corporation owns and operates, in New York City, a printing ink factory having a capacity of 10,000 pounds of printing ink a day. The factory is equipped with the latest and most highly improved machinery for the manufacture of all grades and colors of printing inks.

The corporation owns and operates, outside of New York, a modern and fully equipped factory for the preparation of the materials from which printing inks are made. This factory represents an outlay of between $50,000 and $100,000 in cash. It has a capacity at present of 100,000 pounds a day.

It is the intention of the corporation to bring the capacity of its New York City factory up to the full capacity of the works.
By reason of the recent improvement in the quality of the materials and the reduction in the cost of manufacture, the corporation is able to offer to investors this plain business proposition: It can manufacture better printing inks at a lower cost than any other maker of inks in existence. It can sell good inks for less than it costs other concerns to make poor inks, and still earn generous dividends on its outstanding investment. The profits of manufacture, under the new and more favorable conditions, will range from 100% to 200%.

The corporation has no debt, no preferred stock, no bonds. All stock is common stock, full-paid and non-assessable.
Only stock actually issued counts as capital. Dividends are paid only on issued stock.

The active management of the business is in the hands of practical and experienced men, all except two of whom have had many years' experience as editors and publishers. The Executive Board of Directors is made up as follows:
Major General Oliver Otis Howard, U. S. Army (retired), Burlington, Vermont; Robert Hunt Lyman, 53-63 Park Row, New York City; Henry W. B. Howard, Polytechnic Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.; B. Peele Willet, 142 Fifth Avenue, New York City; Hiram C. Haydn, 173 Bellflower Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio; Edward B. Smith, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City; William Willard Howard, 17 Broadway, New York City.

For the purpose of extending its business by the construction in New York City of a larger factory for the manufacture on an extensive scale of all grades and colors of printing inks, the parent corporation now offers for sale a limited allotment of its capital stock at the low price of fifty cents a share (par value, $1.00, full-paid and non-assessable). When this sale is closed (which may be at any time without notice), the price of stock will be advanced to $1.00 a share.
Subscriptions to this allotment of stock should be sent to Mr. William Willard Howard, Treasurer, 17 Broadway, New York City.
Circulars describing the enterprise in detail will be sent free to any address on application.
