Elk Lick Supply Company, Limited.

From the Sunny South.

H. G. Wilhelm, who several weeks ago went to Pensacola, Florida, where he will remain for a time, writes as follows, under date of Feb. 7th:
 "Enclosed find $1.00 on subscription I am working at the plumbing trade here and go fishing between times. I catch some big fish, too. No ice and snow here, but plenty of rain and sickness—grip and pneumonia. I have seen a funeral every day since I am here and have been told of four today. Three-fourths of them are of negroes. Tell H. McCulloch there is a 'land office' business here in undertaking. I will be home as soon as work picks up again in Salisbury. I hope this finds you well."

THE STAR returns thanks to Brother Wilhelm and trusts that the fish will continue to bite well for him. It is a little early for fish stories, but as spring poetry has not yet put in its appearance, we will agree to publish all the fish and snake stories that we can get from the Land of Flowers.

STARTLING BUT TRUE.

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theater in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, yet more than five times this number or over 3,000 people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have warded it off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I believe saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia." W. D. WILCOX, Logan, New York. Sold by E. H. Miller. 3-1

Arrival of the Inevitable.

A special to the Indianapolis News from Marion, Ind., says that after a hard fight of seventeen years against competitors who advertised, Gunder Brothers, dry-goods merchants, the oldest mercantile firm in Marion and at one time the largest retail house in Northern Indiana, have given up the hopeless struggle and sold out their business. When gas was discovered in Marion the town began to grow rapidly, and competition in all business was soon encountered by all the old local merchants. The new merchants advertised, but many of the old-established firms were slow in believing that it was necessary for them to use printers' ink, as they knew nearly every man in the county. All of them who are now in business concluded that it was necessary to advertise in order to hold what trade they had and to increase it, except Gunder Brothers, who absolutely refused, claiming it was money thrown away. The firm had the best business site in the city, but the store was never filled with shoppers. Thousands passed and repassed the place day after day without stopping. The firm carried an excellent line of goods and treated customers well, but only a few farmers and some of the old citizens of Marion patronized the place. The store is now closed for invoice.—Newspaperdom.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE MOTHER'S FAVORITE.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children, for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. Eat 10,000 Dogs a Month.

The new Paris slaughter houses for the killing of horses, donkeys and mules have been inaugurated with much pomp and ceremony. The handsome building, which is situated in the Rue Brancion, cost 350,000 francs. The stables will hold 300 horses, and the sanitary arrangements of the vast building are perfect. Horse diet is more and more entering into the food of Parisians, although the introduction thereof is comparatively recent. While in Belgium and Germany horses were consumed as food as far back as 1845, it was really not until the siege of Paris, in 1870-71, that the people found that horseflesh, always believed to be a disagreeable food, was an excellent and nutritive diet.

The following statistics will show to what extent now Parisians eat horses. Before the siege perhaps 1,000 horses a year were slaughtered, but in 1872 the figure rose to 5,034, and in 1883 to 12,776. Ten years ago Paris ate annually 23,188 horses, while the returns for last year placed the number at 38,091. Mule flesh and roast donkey are equally as good as horseflesh, and they are included in the above figures. The dogs slaughtered for sausages and other foods numbered on an average 10,000 per month.—Paris; Correspondence, Detroit Tribune.
