THE COLONEL'S WATERLOO.
Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo, from Liver and Kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead, of these complaints, and, although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c. bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold, and guaranteed to cure. Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Kidney Disease, by E. H. Miller, druggist, at 50c. a bottle.

Stopping a Paper.
An acquaintance met Horace Greely one day and said: Mr. Greely, I've stopped your paper." "Well, that's too bad," said the old man with the white hat.
The next morning Greely met his subscriber again and said: "I thought you stopped the paper?"
"So I did."
"Then there must be some mistake," said Horace, for I just came from the office, and the presses were running, the clerks were busy as ever, the compositors were hard at work, and the business was going on the same as yesterday and the day before."
"Oh! ejaculated the subscriber, "I don't mean that I stopped the paper. I stopped only my copy of it because I don't like your editorials."

STARTLING MORTALITY.
Statistics show startling mortality, from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases, there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for Constipation and Biliousness." 25c. at E. H. Miller's, the druggist.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA:
I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in Convention at the Lyceum Theater in the city of Harrisburg, on Wednesday, April 28th, 1905, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices, viz:
One person for the office of State Treasurer.
Three persons for the office of Judge of the Superior Court, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.
In accordance with the rules governing the organization, the representation in the State Convention will be based upon the vote polled at the last Presidential election. Under the rules, each legislative district is entitled to one delegate for each 2,000 votes cast for Republican Presidential electors in 1904, and an additional delegate for every fraction of 2,000 votes polled in excess of 1,000.
By order of the State Committee.
BOIES PENROSE, Chairman.
W. R. ANDREWS, Secretary.

Men With Many Millions.
A handful of Wall-Streeters being together recently, the question as to how much money was represented in the fortunes of American's 20 leading millionaires, brought out the following estimates:

A Practical, Helpful Farm Paper.
To the Editor of The Tribune Farmer:
Sir: Again I greatly appreciate the fact that I can come to you for advice. I would wish that all the farmers fully estimated the value of "The New-York Tribune Farmer." It appears to me a choice periodical of its kind, rich in all its departments, but especially so in all that pertains to veterinary science. I have been a subscriber and reader of quite a long list of agricultural papers, but to me The New-York Tribune Farmer brings more real, practical, helpful assistance than any I have ever read. There may be others as good, or better, papers for the farmer, but I have failed to discover them as yet. Yours very truly, CHAS. S. BODMAN.
Gouverneur, N. Y., Nov. 28, 1904.

Through a special agreement with the New-York Tribune Farmer we will send it with THE SOMERSET COUNTY STAR, both papers one year, for $1.50. Send your name and address to THE SOMERSET COUNTY STAR, Elk Lick, Pa.

A Newspaper That Speaks Out.
On February 2 The Pittsburg Times was 25 years old. Its owners claim that its undiminished popularity is demonstrated by the fact that it has a larger circulation than any other morning paper in Pittsburg. During the past few years it has attracted a great deal of attention by the frankness with which it has discussed subjects of public interest. Whenever there is before the people some question of absorbing importance, newspaper readers are on the qui vive to know what The Times has to say, and what The Times says is right to the point. It hits to the line. That, however, is only one of the merits claimed for it by its publishers. Its general news service is comprehensive and complete. It is accurate in its financial department and up to date on its sporting page. Its serial stories are by the best modern authors. It pays especial attention to the news and views of all the churches, and in this respect has won the admiration of the best people. Its editorial page is a daily feast of the best and brightest thought. It endeavors to avoid the "yellow" and caters only to the people of the home and the family. It has no Sunday issue. Six cents a week, $3 a year.

BOBBY'S ARRANGEMENTS.

"It was her intensely patronizing way that nettled me!" confided Mrs. Blackburn to her husband as they sat on her porch together, after dinner. "She went on and on, you know, about her husband's phenomenal business success and kept carrying the idea that, of course, it wasn't to be expected that other men would do as much in the same length of time because Mr. Milburn has such a genius for moneymaking. And then, at last, she capped the climax by offering to present me with some of Bobby's cast-off trousers for Wilbur!"
"H'm!" was all he said, but there was a world of emphasis and ill temper in that one syllable.
"I know you'd feel that way. I just thought she'd never have it to say that Wilbur Blackburn was wearing out her son Bobby's old clothes!"

"What did you tell her?"
"Oh, I thanked her and assured her that Wilbur was supplied with all the clothes he could possibly need."
"That's right."
"As a matter of fact"—Mrs. Blackburn laughed softly—"the dear boy needs a new suit. Have you thought about it? Have you noticed how shabby he's getting?"
"No, I hadn't noticed. Can you help him along until after the 1st of the month, do you think?"
"Oh, yes, nicely."
"All right," Blackburn rose and shook down the knees of his own trousers with unusual energy. "I've got some big payments to make between now and then, but I'll have plenty after the 1st. We may not out quite so big a dash as some folks do, but I'm not afraid to measure up my 'business genius' by the side of Milburn's, any day. I believe we'll be able to dress our children for awhile yet. If we're not though, we'll not ask the Milburns to come to our assistance."

As Blackburn senior sauntered down the street toward the drug store his youngest heir laid down the hose with which he was watering the front lawn and came to the foot of the steps.
"Mamma, be began in a coaxing tone, "I saw Cousin Jean and she says I am invited to her wedding Friday night, even if my name wasn't on the envelope. I want to go over so much. Can I go?"
"Wilbur, you hinted!"
"No'm, I didn't, either, honest! At least I didn't mean to. And she says she really wants me. Please, can't I go?"
"Indeed, you may not! If it were any one else but Jean I'd be mortified to death with your begging an invitation! And you couldn't go anyway, child, even if you had been asked. Your best suit isn't fit."
Wilbur went sorrowfully back to the hose. Visions of chicken salad and ice-cream and cake and cut-glass punch-bowls brimming with entrancing drinks had suddenly faded away. Life looked flat and stale. He wondered why other little boys could have good times while he dragged away right after night, watering that grass. He wished his father could make money enough to keep a man, like Mr. Milburn—and with that name came a happy thought!

He had sat in the library that afternoon while his mother was entertaining Mrs. Milburn. Now he reflected that the only very bad feature in his Sunday suit was the worn appearance of the knees of the trousers, and the more he thought about it the more sure he felt that the time had come for him to act. He knew exactly what he would do.

Next morning he rang the Milburn door bell.
"Good morning," he said, when Mrs. Milburn appeared. "I called to get those trousers of Bobby's."
Mrs. Milburn's eyes widened. "Why, your mother said you didn't need them!"
"I know, but she wasn't thinking of Cousin Jean's wedding then. I'm invited, but my best trousers aren't fit, and if I can get that pair of Bobby's it'll help us out a lot."
He got the trousers—a heavy old winter pair—and hurried home. As he drew them on in his own room he had a harrowing fear that they were too thick for summer wear, but when he strutted into his mother's presence later, and he told the story of his enterprise he promptly discovered that Bobby's trousers were not half thick enough to meet the emergency.—Chicago News.

By the Well-Known Scientist and Physician, Dr. Franklin Miles.
A $2.50 NEW TREATMENT FREE.
Dropsy is a terrible disease. The suffering in the last stages is frightful. Yet at first no disease is apparently more harmless, a little swelling of the eyelids, feet or abdomen, but finally the unfortunate sufferer slowly drowns in the water of his own blood.
Dr. Miles has made dropsy of the heart, liver and kidneys and complications a specialty for 25 years. To introduce his marvelous new Treatment he will send $2.50 worth free as a trial. Three treatments in one.
The Grand Dropsy Treatment relieves short breath, smothering and distress the first day, removes most of the swelling in three to six days and all of it within two weeks in most cases. A permanent cure results in from one to two months.
Mr. R. Trimmer, Green Springs, Pa., writes: "The Dropsy Treatment restored Mrs. T. after many physicians pronounced her case hopeless."
Daniel W. Gardner, Huntington, Ind., says: "Two months of Grand Dropsy Treatment saved my wife from the grave."
John Fuller, Ithaca, Mich., writes: "Your Treatment worked a miracle! It saved my life."
A. P. Colburn, Blessing, Ia., writes: "Grand Dropsy Treatment restored Mrs. Colburn after her leg burst from dropsy."
Hundreds of innumerable cases cured at home after failure of from 5 to 20 physicians. Patients in every state, 1,000 testimonials sent upon request.
Through your case has been pronounced hopeless, do not hesitate to write us at once describing your symptoms. We will send you our opinion, book, chart, and trial treatment free.
Those who fail to try this marvelous cure will make a serious mistake. Address, Dr. Miles, Dept. D, 413 to 423, Main St., Elkhart, Ind. 3-16
