SALISBURY.

An Incomplete Write-up and Business Review of the Town, by George Phillips.

Last Friday evening THE STAR was called on by a man who gave his name as George Phillips, who claimed to be traveling from place to place and making a business of writing up the history of towns, together with business reviews of the same. He said he came here to write up this town, providing THE STAR would agree to publish his write-up at a certain price per line.

THE STAR accepted his offer, and Phillips at once went to work. He soon contracted for a number of write-ups with the business men of the town, and by noon, on Monday, we had a great deal of his matter in type.

During the forenoon of the same day, Mr. Phillips called at our office and stated that inasmuch as he was a stranger, it might be well enough to go out and collect, so as to be able to pay for the matter already in type. He asked the editor to go with him, to assure the merchants that their individual write-ups would be published, and by noon he had placed enough money in our hands to pay for all matter put in type for him up to that hour.

In the early afternoon, on Monday, Mr. Phillips again called at our office, showing us the manuscript for a number of other write-ups, which he said he first wished to revise before putting in the hands of the printer. He then left the office, stating that he was going to West Salisbury for additional business, and since that time we have seen nothing of him. His overcoat is still at Hay's hotel, where he had registered, but the man has disappeared as suddenly as if the earth had opened and swallowed him. No one has seen him in town since.

We hardly think the old fellow meant to deadbeat anyone when he went to West Salisbury, for he left some business behind that he could just as well have collected the money for as not, and he could also just as easily have taken his overcoat with him as to leave it behind.

He had been drinking before he started for West Salisbury, and his appearance indicated that he had also been using some drug. Yet, in spite of his condition, he was polite and genteel, although somewhat shabby. But what has become of George Phillips? We do not know, and as he failed to appear and finish his work, we can only publish such portion of it as he supplied, which follows. THE STAR is under no contract with the patrons of Mr. Phillips, but was under contract with him for the publication of all the write-ups he brought to us, and we have fulfilled our contract. Following we publish all the write-ups he ordered published:

S. A. LICHLITER.

One of our solid and substantial business concerns is the S. A. Lichliter store, under the able management of Mr. Levi Lichliter. This establishment is foremost in the grocery and feed trade of the town. During the many years the Lichlites have been doing business here, their dealings with the people have always been characterized by those honorable and upright principles which have won for them the highest respect and confidence of the people. They have always aimed at giving to their customers the very best value, and to this end they are careful in the selection of their stock, so as to handle only first class, reliable goods at the lowest possible prices. Their store is stocked with a large and complete line of choice family groceries, provisions and household supplies. Flour and feed are handled in large quantities. The success of the Lichlites is well deserved.

W. R. HASELBARTH.

In the purchase of household furniture, our citizens and the people of the surrounding country have superior advantages at the large and well equipped establishment we herein describe, and of which we have no hesitancy in saying is one of the best and cheapest places to buy furniture in this section of the state. Mr. Haselbarth has been established a number of years, and through energetic and capable management has built up an extensive trade. Mr. H.'s facilities for meeting the wants of the people are unsurpassed. He is a competent buyer and purchases from the leading wholesale houses, and to offer the best goods for the least money is his motto. To visit the store and inspect the stock will be an evidence of the values that he offers. Mr. Haselbarth is thoroughly prepared for the spring trade.

C. B. HASELBARTH & SON.

A good hardware establishment, where the public can obtain its requirements of everything needed in this branch of trade, is an important business in a town. In this respect our town is fortunately situated, having the advantages of the flourishing establishment we herein describe, which is known as one of the most desirable hardware stores at which to deal in the county. Messrs. Haselbarth & Son are both progressive business men, and competent hardware merchants. They buy from the leading manufacturers and aim to handle only first class, reliable goods. The shelves are filled with all kinds of builders' tools and materials. Miscellaneous lines, as paints, oils, glass, nails, wire, cutlery, etc., are handled. Stoves are a specialty, and all kinds of tin, iron and copper wares. In connection they have a well equipped job department, and all kinds of general jobbing is done in tin and sheetiron work, as roofing, spouting, furnace work, etc. This firm also does a large trade in farm machinery, vehicles, harness, etc. As one of our leading business firms, their success is well deserved.

JOHN J. LIVENGOOD.

In this article we wish to take for the subject of our sketch the old established and reliable horse-shoeing and general blacksmithing establishment of Mr. J. J. Livengood. This gentleman's business is too well and favorably known to need extended mention. His many patrons will agree with us when we say that he turns out the finest class of work, and at all times can be depended upon when good work is required. Mr. L. is an expert horse-shoer, and knows not only how to shoe a horse scientifically, but understands the proper care of the hoof, which is so important. General blacksmithing, plan work and repairing of every description is done. Satisfaction always guaranteed, and prices reasonable.

NEWMAN & BRO.

We bespeak for this enterprising firm a prosperous business. Messrs. Newman & Bro. recently bought out H. McCulloch, and the intentions are to supply the town with one of the best meat markets it has ever had. They are progressive business men and are well and favorably known to the people. Nothing will be neglected to make the market all that can be desired. They handle only the best of meats and have always everything in the line of fresh and cured meats, sausage, pure lard, fish and oysters in season, etc. It pays to deal here.

E. E. CODER.

We wish to make prominent mention in our review of the popular jewelry business of the gentleman mentioned above. In the first place, Mr. Coder is a thoroughly practical jeweler and understands the business in all its branches. One can deal here just as cheaply and advantageously as anywhere in the county, if not more so. Mr. Coder deals with leading manufacturers, and if he has not in stock what is wanted, he can soon get it. He has, however, a very nice line of watches, clocks, jewelry, spectacles, etc. In prices he cannot be discounted. He is an expert workman and gives special attention to all kinds of repairing.

MORT. A. WAGNER.

Our town possesses the advantages of a first class bakery and confectionery establishment, of which the gentleman mentioned above is the proprietor. Mr. Wagner has built up a splendid trade. In the first place, he is a thoroughly competent baker and understands every detail of the business. His establishment is noted for the superior quality of bread turned out, which is unsurpassed for purity and excellence. He has always on hand a choice stock of all kinds of bakery goods, groceries, confectionery, cigars, ice cream, etc.

THE ELK LICK DRUG STORE.

One of the establishments of our town which is noted for the high standard of excellence to which it is maintained, is the splendidly equipped drug store of Mr. E. H. Miller. This establishment is undoubtedly one of the best equipped in its line of this section of the state, and by the energy and ability of the proprietor it has been made what it is. Mr. Miller has been identified with the drug trade of Salisbury a number of years. A year or more ago he purchased the building he now occupies and had it remodeled. He is not only an honorable business man, but is a competent and experienced chemist and druggist. He buys from the leading drug manufacturers and handles a full line of all kinds of pure drugs, sundries, the leading proprietary medicines, stationery, fancy goods, physicians' supplies, sick room requisites, etc. The store has an elegant soda fountain. Prescriptions promptly and accurately compounded.

CASPER WAHL.

Salisbury's old established, popular and reliable meat market, of which the gentleman mentioned above is the proprietor, should occupy a prominent place in this review. Mr. Wahl is one of our reliable business men and is well and favorably known to the people. He knows how to conduct a first class market, and he aims to handle only the best. Here the public can always depend upon getting the best in fresh or cured meats, sausage, pure lard and everything to be had in an up-to-date market.

M. J. JEFFERY.

We come next in our review to the popular and flourishing grocery establishment of Mrs. M. J. Jeffery, under the management of Mr. J. T. Jeffery. Mr. Jeffery's establishing in business here dates back about 11 years. He has each year carried his business forward, increasing its trade and popularity with the people. If we should make any comments upon the store, its nice appearance, taste and neatness is first noticeable, and the term, "up-to-dateness," seems particularly applicable. Mrs. J. does now, and always has made it a point to handle the best in the market. Discriminating in buying, the superiority in the stock is in its freshness, purity and general excellence. For choice teas, coffees, canned goods and all table delicacies, this store can be depended upon. A nice line of cigars and tobaccos is always on hand. Mr. Jeffery attends strictly and faithfully to the business, and his success is well deserved.

IRA F. HAY & CO.

A few words in our review in reference to the advantages to be had in dealing at the popular store of Ira F. Hay & Co., will be of interest and profit to our readers. Mr. Hay has, through energy and capable management made his store known as one of the most desirable and advantageous places at which to deal in the town. His lines are shoes, hats, caps, and furnishing goods, and in these branches the store excels. He buys from the leading manufacturers, keeps an up-to-date stock and sells at the lowest prices. Give him a call.

THE VALLEY HOUSE.

A write-up of Salisbury would be incomplete without prominent mention of the Valley House, one of the leading hotels of Somerset county. Henry Loechel, the genial proprietor, is a man of pleasant address and very gentlemanly bearing. He conducts a very orderly house, and unlike many hotels, the selling of liquor is a secondary matter with him. Mr. Loechel's first concern is to give the public such accommodations as people have a right to expect at a licensed hotel. His tables are constantly supplied with the best that the market affords, his bed rooms are finely furnished, he has a fine private water system, bath room and other modern equipments. The entire house is neat, clean and well kept, which speaks volumes for the good hostess, as well as the host. The bar is stocked only with the best of spirits, vinous and malt liquors, and Mr. Loechel sees to it that it is not dispensed in harmful quantities to any one, or to persons known to be habitual drunkards or in needy circumstances.

THE DULL MERCANTILE CO.

This company has a large number of well-appointed stores throughout Somerset county, and Salisbury is indeed fortunate in having one of them, especially as George C. Biser is the manager. Mr. Biser is a man of fine business ability, and he is noted for the courteous and generous treatment he accords to all the customers of this store. He exercises the best of judgment in buying goods, and the customer may rest assured that everything bought at this store is just as represented. This store always carries a superb line of dry goods, groceries, boots and shoes, hats and caps, miners' supplies, etc. Here the farmers find a ready market for their butter, eggs and other produce, and nowhere are better inducements offered to them in the way of merchandise that they need. This store is a favorite trading place for all classes of people, and Mr. Biser's motto is the same as that of President Roosevelt—"a square deal for every man."

H. H. REITZ.

This gentleman has erected in Salisbury an applebutter factory and cider mill, and the same is truly a credit to the town. Beginning in a small way about fifteen years ago, Mr. Reitz nevertheless took a deep interest in his business, and owing to the very excellent reputation of his goods from the start, and the straight-forward, upright manner he has of dealing with his customers, the business has grown by leaps and bounds. Several times Mr. Reitz has been obliged to enlarge his plant in order to handle his rapidly increasing patronage, and the excellent quality of goods turned out has achieved a wide reputation for purity, flavor and cleanliness. Mr. Reitz is an inventor as well as a manufacturer, having perfected a number of very clever labor-saving devices that are used in his factory. One of these is a sauce separator which is used for separating the cores, peel, etc., from the boiled apples which go into the applebutter. He also manufactures boiling outfits for other manufacturers. His own factory gives employment to a number of men during the fruit season, and the profitable business Mr. Reitz has built up is well merited.

INCREDIBLE BRUTALITY.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye. Good for burns and ulcers, too. Only 25c. at E. H. Miller's drug store. 4-1"

Foley's Honey and Tar heals lungs and stops the cough.

PNEUMONIA

follows a cold, but never follows the use of

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

It stops the cough and heals the lungs and prevents a cold from settling on your lungs and resulting in Pneumonia, Pleurisy, or Consumption.

You are in no danger of serious results if FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR is taken, as it soothes and heals the inflamed air passages and the cough disappears.

Be sure and get FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, as preparations containing opiates stop the cough temporarily by paralyzing the nerves in the throat and leave the germs of serious lung trouble as you get one cold on another because the first one was not cured properly.

Saved Her Life From Pneumonia.

"My wife had a severe attack of Pneumonia which followed a severe attack of La Grippe and I believe that FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR saved her life," writes James Coffee, of Raymond, Missouri.

Dr. C. J. Bishop, Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR in three very severe cases of Pneumonia with good results in every case."

Cured When Very Low In Pneumonia.

J. W. Bryan, of Lowder, Ia., writes: "My little boy was very low with Pneumonia. Unknown to the doctor we gave him FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR. The result was magical and puzzled the doctor, as it immediately stopped the racking cough and he quickly recovered."

Three Sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00

The 50-cent size contains 2 1-2 times as much as the small size, and the $1.00 size almost 6 times as much.
