AN ELOQUENT SENATOR.

Mr. Bailey's Speech on a Proposal to Divide Texas.

In the course of a speech in the Senate recently on a proposition to divide the state of Texas, Mr. Bailey said in part:

"If Texas had contained a popula-tion in 1845 sufficient to have justi-fied her admission as five states, it is my opinion that she would have been so admitted then, because the all-ab-sorbing slavery issue, which, happily, no longer vexes us, but which com-pletely dominated American politics pletely dominated American politics at that time, would have led to that result. I will go further even than that, and I will say that if Texas were now five states there would not be five men in either state who would seriously propose their consolidation into one. But, sir, Texas was not divided in the beginning, Texas is not divided in the beginning, Texas is not divided now and under the Proviwided in the beginning, Texas is not divided now, and under the Providence of God she will not be divided until the end of time. Her position is exceptional, and excites within the minds of all her citizens a just and natural pride. She is now the greatest of all the states in area, and certain to become the greatest of all in population, wealth and influence. With such a primacy assured to her she could not be expected to surrender it even to obtain an increased representation in this body.

"But, Mr. President, while from her proud prominence today she looks upon a future as bright with promise as ever beckoned a people to follow where fate and fortune lead, it is not so much the promise of the future as it is the memory of a glorious past it is the memory of a glorious past which appeals to her against division. She could partition her fertile valleys and her broad prairies; she could apand her broad prairies; she could apportion her thriving towns and growing cities; she could distribute her splendid population and her wonderful resources, but she could not divide the fadeless glory of those days that are past and gone. To which ot her daughters could she assign without irreparable injustice to all the others the priceless inheritance of Goliad, the Alamo and San Jacinto? To which would she hequest the pame of House. would she bequeath the name of Hous-ton, and Austin, and Fannin, and Bowie, and Crockett? Sir, the fame of these men and their less illustrious but not less worthy comrades cannot be severed. They are the common glory of all, and their names are written upon the tables of her grateful memory so that all time shall not of-face them. The story of their mighty deeds which rescued Texas from the condition of a despised and oppressed Mexican province and made her a free and independent republic still rouses the blood of her men like the sound of a trumpet, and we would not forfeit the right to repeat it to our children even for many ac seats in this august assembly. additional

"The world has never witnessed a sublimer courage or a more unselfish patriotism than that which illuminates almost every page in the early history of Texas. Students may know more about other battlefields, but none was ever consecrated by the blood of braver men than those who fell at Goliad. Historians may not record it as one of the great and de-cisive battles, but the victory of the Texans at San Jacinto is destined to exert a better influence upon the hap-piness of the human race than all the conflicts which established or sub-verted the petty kingdoms of the ancient world. Poets have not yet im-mortalized it in their most enduring verse, but the Alamo is more resplend-ent with herioc sacrifice than was Thermopylae itself, because Thermopylae had her messenger of death, while the Alamo had none.

"Mr. President, if I might be permitted to borrow the apostrophe to liberty and union pronounced by a distinguished Senator, I would say of Texas: 'She is one and inseparable, now and forever.'"

There are several species of fish, reptiles and insects which never sleep in the whole of their existence. On a certain goose farm in the Middle West there is an incubator with a capacity for ten thousand eggs. These eggs are not, however, placed in the incubator at one time, but are so arranged that one section will hatch each day, being refilled as soon as the goslings are taken out. The geese are raised on this farm for their feathers alone, which are used in the upholstering business.

NEW RECORD MADE

Railways Severely Taxed by Extraordinary Shipments of Merchandise-Floods Stop Some Mills

R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says: Spring trade respends to seasonable weather and shipments of merchandise have increased so rapidly that railway facilities are severely taxed. At many points there is complaint of car and motive power shortage and navigation on lakes and rivers at the north has not opened as promptly as business demands. The customary damage from floods has rendered many mills idle and several minor events added to the number of unemployed, but these temporary adverse tures are more than offset by the resumption of outdoor work, especially in building operations and on the farms. Buyers are arriving in large numbers at primary markets, warm weather accelerating preparations for Easter trade. Manufacturing activity continues, the best news of the week coming from the iron and steel in-dustry, where new records are constantly established. Textil are also increasingly busy.

steatly established. Textile plants are also increasingly busy.

Rallway earnings for the first two weeks of March were 7.96 per cent. larger than last year and foreign commerce at this port for the last week shows a gain of $2.077,012 in exports and $152,528 in imports, as compared with 1594. Holders and makers of fron and steel products appear to have secured control of the situation. It is no longer considered desirable to delay the placing of contracts in expectation of better terms. Although boom conditions have been avoided inus far and comparatively steady quotations prevail, it is possible that in some departments of the industry urgent orders may soon go abroad.

Two special features have developed during the past week, a. maximum movement of iron ore was announced and the largest single contract on record for steel billets was placed. In addition the recent record breaking output of coke was further increased. Strength is seen in the hide market. Leather is quiet.

Fallures for the week number 255 in the United States, against 226 last year, and 16 in Canada, compared with 5 a year ago.

That popular fictions die hard is a well known maxim. Of all such myths that of premature burial is one of the most cruel, while at the same time it resis on no established foundation of ascertained fact, declares the Medical Press and Circular. In the absence of scientific evidence of live burial, the birth of a socety, engens dered by medical men, to prevent such an occurrence, becomes a laughing-stock for all wise men.

This Statement Has Been Unjustly Made, Because Modest Women Evade Questions Asked By Male Physicians.

An eminent physician says that "Women are not truthful; they will lie to their physician." This statement should be qualified; women do tell the truth, but not the whole truth, to a male physician, but this is only in regard to those painful and troublesome disorders peculiar to their sex.

There can be no more terrible ordead to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions when those questions are asked, even by her family physician. This is especially the case with unmarried women.

Is it any wonder, then, that women continue to suffer and that doctors fail to cure female diseases when they cannot get the proper information to work on?

This is the reason why thousands and thousands of women are now corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham. To her they can and do give every symptom, so that she really knows more about the true condition of her patients, through her correspondence with them than the physician who personally questions them.

If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to other words and independent of the proper information to work on?

If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to questions them.

If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will advise you free of charge.

The fact that this great boon, which is extended freely to women by Mrs. Pinkham, is appreciated, the thousands of letters received by her prove. Many such grateful letters as the following are constantly pouring in.

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored
