There are two marching armies in the Meyersdale mining region; one marching to work and the other marching to the boardpiles and other places to play cards and empty bottles. The latter is standing on a "principle," the former earning an honest living for their families.—Cumberland Courier.

Our friend Edward Flynn orders THE STAR sent to his address at Branch, Arkansas, instead of Morrison, Tenn., as formerly. Edward writes that apple trees are in full bloom in Tennessee, but adds that there will be no peaches. He writes further that people down there are planting corn, and that gardens are all planted.

Backache is never known to those persons who take an occasional dose of Pineules. The value of the resin obtained from the Pine tree has long been recognized in the treatment of diseases of the bladder and kidneys. One dose of Pineules will give relief, and one bottle will cure. Sold by Elk Lick Supply Co. 6-1

John Laus, a Somerset blacksmith, fired two bullets into the body of his father-in-law, David Friedline, at about 10 o'clock a. m., Tuesday. He then turned his pistol on himself and sent a bullet into his own brain, dying about an hour later. Friedline will likely recover. Domestic trouble was the cause of the tragedy. Laus and his wife could not get along together, and the woman left him. He claimed that his wife took $600 of his money, and when her father and another man attempted to remove some of the furniture from the Laus home, Laus appeared on the scene and did the shooting.

It is difficult to cure a cough or free yourself from the discomforts of a cold unless you move the bowels. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar acts on the bowels and drives all cold out of the system. Then comes its soothing effect and strengthening influence upon the throat and lungs. For Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, and all Lung and Bronchial affections, no remedy is equal to the original Laxative Honey and Tar. Sold by Elk Lick Supply Co. 6-1

The tapeworm is the natural enemy of the germ of consumption, and the latter cannot exist when the other is present, says Consul Canada, at Vera Cruz, Mexico, in a report just received at the State Department at Washington. The consul states that two eminent scientists have discovered that the tapeworm prevents the organism from being affected with tuberculosis bacilli, and it has been proven in the case of a consumptive affected with tapeworm that he completely recovered his health. To establish the efficiency of this remedy, the doctor injected a liquid preparation from the tancia into several consumptives, which resulted in a complete cure.

Croup is quickly relieved, and Whooping Cough will not "run its course" if you use the original Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. This Cough Syrup is different from all others because it acts on the bowels. You can not cure Croup and Whooping Cough until you rid the system of all congestion, by working off the cold through a copious action of the bowels. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar does this, and cures all Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. No opiates. Sold by Elk Lick Supply Co. 6-1

Jennings Bros., of Lopez, Pa., and of Jennings, this county, both of which places they founded, have shipped two carloads of lumber through Cumberland to the new town of Jennings-town, Tucker county, W. Va., which they are establishing on the junction of the Dry Fork and the Randolph & Pocahontas railroads, thirteen miles south of Hendricks. There they own about twelve thousand acres of fine timber, which will be developed as soon as the mills can be erected. Scores of workmen are on the scene, and the town is being laid out. They will light the town with electricity, will put in sewerage, and each company house will be provided with a bath. The town will be located on the Dry Fork river. The Jennings brothers, who built a fifteen-mile railroad in Garrett county, are the promoters of the Randolph & Pocahontas railroad, to be built from Jennings-town, and the first meeting of the stockholders will be held in Elkins on April 12.—Oakland Journal.

As per announcement in THE STAR, last week, the editor's wife was taken to a Philadelphia hospital, where she had a very severe surgical operation performed on Monday. It was found that she had a floating kidney and other troubles which had to be corrected by the surgeon's knife. The operation lasted about an hour and a half, and while her suffering has since been very intense, we are nevertheless glad to report that she stood the operation well, and when we last saw her (at 4 p. m. on Tuesday) she was looking quite well, and was resting as well as could be expected. She and her physician both felt hopeful of recovery when we last saw them, and her temperature, respiration, etc., were about normal. Since then we have heard nothing of her condition, but expect a reply at any moment to a message of inquiry sent to the hospital several hours ago. It is needless to say that the awful suspense we were held in until the operation was over, caused us much grief and anguish. In fact the suspense is still very great, and will be until Mrs. Livengood is able to return home. But we must bear our suffering of mind and heart as best we can, and hope for the best. Something tells us that everything will come all right, and we feel positive of the patient and loved wife and mother's recovery. While in the city we enjoyed pleasant visits with Mrs. Evora Smith and Mr. F. J. Anspach. They both did much to cheer and comfort Mrs. Livengood, as well as lighten our own sorrow. We shall ever gratefully remember those kind friends, for their sympathy and kind words were more appreciated than anything else that could have been offered.

LATER.—We are just in receipt of the following telegram from the hospital superintendent: "Mrs. Livengood doing well. Everything normal."

CHEATED DEATH.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolf, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since, as I find they are no equal." E. H. Miller, the druggist, guarantees them at 50c. 5-1

GAS WELL GROWS STRONGER.

Lincoln Oil & Gas Company Encouraged by Strong Indications at New Well.

Word from Hon. O. P. Shaver of Friedens, who is one of the leading spirits in the Lincoln Oil and Gas Company, is that drilling on the second test well for oil or gas in Quemahoning township is progressing rapidly. The gas from the well drilled on the Long farm, near the Texas school-house, has been piped to the new well and is used to heat the boiler. The drillers say the flow of gas is growing stronger. An examination of the pipes last week showed that oil is being forced to the surface by the gas. The party who made the examination declares "it is genuine oil by smell and greasy nature." The indications for striking oil or gas at the new well are said to be strong.—Somerset Standard.

ABOUT RHEUMATISM.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by E. H. Miller. 5-1

FIRST COUSINS CROSS STATE LINE AND WED.

Social Circles of Somerset, Pa., Thrilled by News of Elopement. Somerset, Pa., April 15.—Evading their parents and friends, Geo. L. Brown and Miss Bertha Cook went to Fairmont, W. Va., today and were married.

Their wedding would have been illegal in Pennsylvania, as they are first cousins, their mothers being sisters.

The bride is a daughter of J. M. Cook, a wealthy business man and president of the School Board of this place. She is a brunette, 21 years old. Mr. Brown is a clerk in the book store of his uncle, Chas. H. Fisher, having come here a few years ago from Baltimore.

They left Somerset on different trains this morning, Miss Cook representing that she was going to Rochester, N. Y., to visit girl friends.

News of the wedding, received here by wire, created a profound sensation in social circles to-night.

Sowing and Reaping.

Like to be off yonder,
 Where pleasant pathways lead;
 But you cannot hope for harvest
 If you never sow the seed.

The fields invite my labor,
 While the winds would sing to sleep;
 The veyard's voice is calling:
 "It's the sower who shall reap!"
 So I leave the pleasant pathways
 For the stern and rigid soil,
 And find a rich rewarding
 In the blessedness of toil!
 —FRANK L. STANTON.
