GLADSTONE AND DOROTHY.

Her Literal Translation of the Bible If Bill was there-Saved the Day.

This is the season when good house wives have trouble with the servants who cannot get up. But I doubt if  $\pi$  ever occurs to them, as it did to Miss Dorothy Drew when she was not more than seven, that the Scriptures emphasize the vanity of early rising, says the "Tattler." Dorothy positively refused to get up, and her grandfather, Mr. Gladstone, had to be called to overawe the rebel.

'Why don't you get up, Dorothy?" he asked.
"Because the Bible doesn't approv

of early rising, grandfather," was the "Really, Dorothy," said the astonished statesman, "you must be mis-

"Oh, no, I'm not," she persisted;

"here is it," and she turned up the second verse of the 127th Psalm: "It is vain for you to rise up early." The old parliamentarian had nothing more to say. The argument floored him.

Spontaneous Irish Wit.

American travelers in Ireland make a point of extracting spontaneous Irish wit, and often are rewarded. Cyrus W. Field, of Atlantic cable fame, once stopped a peasant to make inquiries about Blarney Castle. Receiving the information, he gave the Irishman the following conun-

"Now, Mike, suppose that Lucifer sure of us both; which would he first, do you think?" The Irishman looked thoughtfully a moment, then said: "Yer honor I think he'd take me."

"Why," asked Feld.
"Because he's always sure of you."
On another occasion a well known American writer for young people, upon landing at Queenstown, was on the alert to hear an Irish bull or some witty remark. She took an express train to Dublin direct, which did not stop at any other station on the way Several persons mistook the train and rose to get off when nearing one of the way stations.

"Keep your sates!" roared the conductor. "Keep your sates! thrain niver stops at all."

How He Paid His Fine.

Senator Dubois of Idaho, was practicing once in Boise City, and, becoming too vehement, was fined $50 for contempt of court. The next day, according to a custom followed in the Idaho courts, the judge called upon Mr. Dubois to occupy the bench for him during the transaction of some comparatively unimportant business After the judge's departure from the court room, and before anything alse could come up, Mr. Dubois exhibited an instance of that remarkable pres-ence of mind for which he has never been noted. The future senator said been noted. The future senator said to the clerk of the court: "Turning to the records of this court for yesterday, Mr. Clerk you will observe recorded a fine of $50 against one Frederick T. Dubois. You will kindly make a note to the effect that such a fine has been remitted by order of the court."

Where Everything is Canned.
At the session of the House of Bishops which was held at Boston last fall, the Bishop of Alaska told the following story:

The difficulty in obtaining and transporting fresh food in Alaska has resulted in an excessive use of can-ned goods. In fact, the natives consider Americans and canned goods as inseparable. Recently some one sent a phonograph to the Bishop. It was the first one is Alaska, and was made the drawing card at a meeting held in Sitka. The natives were much interested, and gathered about to hear the first piece which was the Lord's

After it was concluded there was a moment's impressive silence, and then one of the Indian chiefs, point-ing to the phonograph, said: "Him canned missionary?"

"Mabel," said Archibald, "now that we are engaged, we should have no secrets from each other, should we dear?"

In many battles' noisy din, Jap fought desperately, that ri might win.

Vafaugow and Nanshan Hill—
It makes the blood within us thrill!

"No," said Mabel, after she had assured herself that her mother was not listening in the next room. "Well, then," he said, "do please tell me just how old you are."

"With pleasure," said Mabel. "But first, Archibald, please tell me just how much you get a week." Archibald pondered. His mind ran ahead into the future.

"Forgive me, Mabel," he responded,
"It was none of my business to ask."— Illustrated Bits.

Weeping at the Ice House. An attendant at Mount Vernon not long since, found a lady weeping most bitterly and audibly with her hand-kerchief at her eyes. He stepped up to her and said: "Are you in any trouble, madam?"

"No, sir," she sobbed.

"I saw you weeping,"
"Ah!" said she, "how can one help eeping at the grave of the Father of

"Oh! indeed, madam," said he, "that's it! The tomb is over yonder. This is the ice house."—Indianapolis

A Voice From the Hay Loft.
At a provincial theatre the spectators were kept waiting a long time for the play to begin. The "gods" became impatient, and kicked up a terrible row. "Be quiet, you beasts!" exclaimed a gentleman in the pit, angrily. "You are mistaken!" cried a voice from the gallery; "this is the hay loft; the stable is down there."

IF BILL WAS THERE.

There where the Jap and Russ Are raisin' such a fuss— The cables would be sizzin' hot For Bill-he's got the whole thing plan-

How each one ought to make a stand And just how either could begin And, with no trick at all, could win. There would be trouble in the air
If Bill was there.

If Rill was there-

And rapid-fire machines and tow 'em slowly, after dark, Right up to where he's put a mark Runs out some fifteen miles to sea And then you bet there'd something .drop

He'd fight below 'em and on top, And some one sure would get a scare If Bill was there.

If Bill was there-He's stuck a dozen pins To mark the outs and ins Of how he'd march a million men Across the land and back again And put the foemen in the ditch Whose men? Which side? He don't care which!

He says sometimes he fairly aches To see how both sides make mistakes. There would be fightin' everywhere If Bill was there.

If Bill was there-

But he's at Miller's store— Him and a dozen more Of our town's keenest strategists, With stubby pencils in their fists, Concoctin' battles and campaigns That take in all the seas and plains. If either one—the Russ or Jap— Is lookin' for a likely chap

To run the war with tact and skill. They'll send for Bill.

We have been transferring all freight and express from broad to narrow gauge cars at this point, for some time but in a couple of weeks will move the transfer to Shurz. Shurz is on an Indian reservation of about 500 Indians. They are quite numerous all over this country. Walker's lake is also located there. It is a fine lake about 30 miles long, and at some points 2 miles wide. There are lots of fine fish in it, and millions of ducks on its surface thing that would suit both the editor and Hans Wilhelmi. I am engaged as foreman of the transfer at night. A pretty rough element is passing through here to the gold fields.
