NEW TRESPASS LAW.
Fisherman, Hunters, and Others Should Take Note.

Gov. Pennypacker approved on April 14th the act making it unlawful to trespass upon land posted as private property. The act is as follows:

Section 1. That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be unlawful for any person to enter upon any land within the limits of this Commonwealth where the owner or owners of said land has caused to be prominently posted upon said land printed notices that the said land is private property and warning all persons from trespassing thereon, under the penalties provided in this act.

Sec. 2. Every person violating the provisions of this act shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding $10, together with costs of prosecution, to be recovered before any magistrate or Justice of the Peace, and in default of payment of said fine and costs, the party convicted shall be committed to the county jail of the proper county, for one day for each dollar of fine imposed.

Sec. 3. All penalties recovered under this act shall be paid to the school fund in the district in which the trespass was committed.

Under the foregoing act no special damage need be proven. The offense under the act is complete by the entry upon the posted land. Heretofore the owner was compelled to prove some particular act of damage, but under the new law the simple act of trespassing renders the trespasser liable.

WON A NAME OF FAME.
DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills, have been made famous by their certain yet harmless action upon the bowels and liver. They have no equal for biliousness, constipation, etc. They do not weaken the stomach, gripe, or make you feel sick. Once used always preferred. They strengthen. Sold by E. H. Miller. 5-1

FISH-SCALES AND JUNK-SCALES.
The Ones "He Bought by" Were Not to Be Trusted.

It is said that when a son was born to a certain American statesman, who is also a noted fisherman, the proud father weighed him on the scales by which he and one of his fisherman friends had been in the habit of weighing the fish they catch, and that the scales declared the baby's weight to be sixty pounds. The New York Sun tells of another kind of "special" scales.

A son arrived in the family of a Harlem couple the other day, and the young father rushed out of the house to borrow a pair of scales. There were no portable scales in the neighborhood. "Any rags, any bottles?" sang a voice in the street.

"Here, you!" called the fond father. "Come here! I want you to weigh something for me."

The junkman followed the proud parent. Baby was tied up in a towel and hooked on to the scales. The indicator showed exactly seven pounds. "Seven pounds!" cried the trained scale.

"Seven pounds!" echoed the disappointed father.

"Don't let dot worry you," remarked the junkman. "Dose was der scales I buy by. I guess der childt weighs ten pounds, mebbe a leetle oder dot."—Youth's Companion.

The Market Primer.

What is the man doing behind the counter?
He is selling meat. Let us watch him.

What is the lady going up to the counter for?
To buy meat from the greasy man with the white apron.

What does she ask for?
A five-pound roast of porterhouse.

What does he give her?
A seven-pound roast.

Then does he charge her only for what she asked for?
No, indeed. He charges her for what he chose to give her.

Didn't the lady know what she wanted?
Evidently the man didn't think so. Can't he tell the weight of a piece of meat when he picks it up?
Certainly he can. Otherwise he would never be able to know that he is always selling you a piece of meat several pounds bigger than you wanted.

Why does the man do this?
It is impossible to associate constantly with greasy things and not become pretty smooth yourself. Now run and play.—Baltimore American.

Paying Small Bills.

We want to say a good word for the man who promptly pays all his small obligations. There are too few of them and the breed needs encouraging. Most men will pay sometimes, but only a few pay promptly. Almost any business man doing credit business will testify that, counting time, postage, bookkeeping, interest and the like, it costs all some accounts are worth to collect them, and still the man owing it is perfectly responsible in a financial way.

It very often happens that the worst sinners in this particular are the men most able to pay. We have known more than one case where a man having money on deposit in the banks drawing interest made a poor little shop keeper wait and wait for his pay nearly a year, so that the debtor might get the benefit of the four per cent. interest which the bank deposit drew. God bless the man who is uneasy just so long as he owes a dollar, and who, when he has the money to pay with, will hunt up his creditors with as much energy as some creditors are forced to use in hunting up their debtors. The everyday business of any community would be greatly benefited by the prompt payment of the small obligations, for a dollar can do a lot of business in 24 hours when it is on the road traveling. The slackness of a few men in this particular in a community makes it much harder for all to carry this plan into effect. If you have been one of these slack ones, turn over a new leaf.—Brockwayville Record.

Served Them Right.

The business men of Delevan have taken a unique way to get even with the mail order houses of Chicago. They paid the draymen to get the names of those who were receiving freight from the mail order houses. When one of these parties went in to buy anything on credit, he was refused, no matter how good his financial standing was. When they had butter and eggs they were told to sell their products to Montgomery Ward or Sears & Roebuck. The result was that the town was put on a cash basis, and the people were forced to quit the mail order houses.—Lanark (Ill.) Gazette.

The Tramp's Poem.

It is related that a tramp entered the office of the Wichita (Kan.) Eagle, and after applying for a job, he sat down and wrote some verses. They were printed, and since then they have been translated and published all over the world. They are as follows:

Near the campfire's flickering light
In my blanket bed I lie,
Gazing through the shades of night
At the twinkling stars on high.
O'er me spirits in the air
Silent vigils seem to keep,
As I breathe my childhood's prayer:
"Now I lay me down to sleep."

Sadly sings the whip-poor-will
In the boughs of yonder tree;
Laughingly the dancing rill
Swells the mighty melody.
Foemen may be lurking near
In the canon dark and deep—
Low I breathe in Jesus' ear:
"I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to keep."

"Mid those stars a face I see—
One the Savior called away—
Mother, who in infancy
Taught my baby lips to pray.
Her sweet spirit hovers near
In this lovely mountain brake—
Take me to her, Saviour, dear,
"If I should die before I wake."

Fainter grows the flickering light
As each ember slowly dies;
Plaintively the birds of night
Fill the air with saddening cries.
Over me they seem to cry,
"You may never more awake,"
Low I lip: "If I should die,
"I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to take."

REST A LITTLE, PLAY A LITTLE.

Rest a little, play a little,
Every passing day;
Don't be fool enough to think
Of working life away!
Rest will fit for better work,
And play will bring good cheer;
These things count for much, I tell you,
In the sojourn here.

Rest a little, play a little,
Sighs and tears will come;
Store up all you're able
Of the sunshine, while there's some.
Pluck the flowers along the way,
For evening comes so soon.
Then you'll want the memories
Of happy-hearted noon!

Rest a little, play a little,
Man was made to toil,
But got to crush his spirit out
Amid the world's turmoil.
Life is giv'n for something more
Than just to dig and plow,
Get that something out of life,
And, brother, get it now!

Rest a little, play a little,
Every passing day;
Don't be fool enough to think
Of slaving life away.
Uphill climbing's hard at best;
Brighten up the way,
With now, my friend, a little rest,
And now a little play.

ONLY NO-ACCOUNT BROTHER.

Kansas Sisters Want to Trade Him for Condemned Murderer.
Gov. Folk, of Missouri, received at Jefferson City, the other day, the following letter from Rosedale, Kan.:
To Gov. Folk.
Dear Sir: My sister and I have decided that if you will exchange we will let you take our brother and hang him instead of Mr. Bill Rudolph, as our brother is no account and never will be, and maybe Mr. Rudolph would be if you would give him a chance. We got his picture out of the paper and put it up in the parlor. We think he is a fine looking young man.
Now, if you will please exchange for our brother Jim let us know through the newspapers and we will be on hand for our man. Yours truly,
A KANSAS GIRL.
Bill Rudolph is the condemned Union (Mo.) bank robber, who killed Detective Schumacher while resisting arrest.

MAN OF THE FUTURE.

Requirements of the Strenuous Life Too Pressing.
The Man of the Future sat back at ease in his luxurious armchair, his feet arranged before him along the lines of least resistance.
At his elbow was a keyboard that connected him with the outer world.
He touched a button, and through a gold-mounted transmitter was thrust his morning paper. He touched another and a tray containing his breakfast rose before him.
It seemed an easy thing to do. He had but to lift his finger.
A phonograph began calling off the opening of the stock market. A piano attachment gave out the strains of the latest opera. Three friends in distant parts of the empire bade him good morning, and communicated some piece of gossip in response to his inquiry. He talked with the manager of his office, with his tailor, his airship maker, his architect.
With him it was indeed a busy day. Finally his head sank back. He was overcome by the unusual exertion. He looked worried.
His wife entered.
"What is the matter, dear?" she said.
"Isn't everything all right?"
"No," replied the Man of the Future, testily. "I can't stand this pressure. I've simply got to have some one press these buttons for me."—Life.

ESSAYS BY LITTLE BOBBIE.

CHICAGO.
Chicago is a big place full of people & smoke and dirt and trouble. It is bounded on one side by Milwaukee and on all the other sides by parts of Chicago which are as bad as the middle part.
Chicago is a nice place for you to go when you haven't got Ruber heels, because if you think you are going to fall down somebody will be sure to hold you up. I thought of this joke myself. I heard about a little boy who was going to move to Chicago and he was saying his prayers and he said Goodby Lord we are going to Chicago and I guess he was rite. that's all I know about Chicago it ain't much.

DIVORCES.

Divorces is where a man and his wife either one sees some one else they may like better. Then they go to a lawyer & he tells them what to say in the court house. Then the Judge takes them apart and they live happily ever after. Ma and Pa never had a divorce. I guess if they did I wouldn't hear so much scragging. When I get to be a man if I want 2 wives, one at a time, I am going to have a divorce. Alimony is what you pay for a divorce from yure wife but sumtimes its cheap.

CARNEGIE.

Mister Carnegie is a fine old man that sines checks and furnishes reeding for lots of fokes. He isent related to Cassie Chadwick, but she got him in trouble over some noats or sumthing and then she said well we can arrange this alrite, I sined the notes and your part will be to pay them.
Mister Carnegie is Skoeb by desent and looks like mister Burns but no wimmen ever maid Burns pay over any fortunes he was too foxie bekaus he was a poet and when I grow up I am going to be a poet.

IF YOUR BUSINESS will not stand advertising, advertise it for sale. You cannot afford to follow a business that will not stand advertising.

WHEN A MAN TELLS YOU it does not pay to advertise, he is simply admitting that he is conducting a business that is not worth advertising, a business conducted by a man unfit to do business, and a business which should be advertised for sale. tf
