GREAT RUSSIAN DEFEAT.

Rojestvensky's Fleet Practically Annihilated by Japs.

Last Saturday the great Russian fleet under Admiral Rojestvensky gave battle to the Japanese fleet under Admiral Togo, in the Straits of Korea. It was an easy victory for the Japs, and the Russian fleet has been practically annihilated, while the Japanese losses were only trifling.
Togo captured two good battleships and several other war vessels, and sank nearly all the balance. He also captured the Russian commander, who was badly wounded, and over 3000 officers and men.
The prevailing opinion is that Russia will sue for peace at an early date, and the Japs are justly credited with having won a naval victory second to none in the world's history.

A Just Kick from Some of the County Newspapers.

Last week the Meyersdale Republican and the Rockwood Gazette made vigorous and just protests against some of the Meyersdale and Rockwood people patronizing a "Cheap John" printery in Indiana county.

We happen to know something about the Indiana county concern, and we know that it is operated by a firm that knows practically nothing about the printing business—a firm that deals only in "seconds," odd sizes and the damaged and imperfect goods that occasionally accumulate about paper factories. It is good stuff to fake mossbacks with, and the Indiana county concern daubs it with the cheapest kind of ink, and in the most unworkmanlike manner, then goes fishing for cheap "suckers." In every community there are a few cheap skates who "bite," but an up-to-date business man is never caught by patronizing such fakirs, for their flimsy, dirty, daubly stuff is dear at any price.

We know of one business man in this town, one who does not use over $5.00 worth of stationery in a year, who gave the Indiana county fakirs an order, thinking to save a few cents thereby. But he lost by the transaction, as the editor of this paper had an order for not less than $80.00 worth of goods in the fakir patronizer's line, which he intended to buy of him this month. But now the order goes to Meyersdale, the next nearest place where the goods can be bought, and where we can save a good deal more money than the Salisbury business man saved when he patronized a fake concern abroad in preference to a reliable print shop at home. "What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

Last year a representative of the great and reliable J. C. Blair printing establishment, of Huntingdon, Pa., which has patrons in every civilized country in the world, was here soliciting orders. He called at the First National Bank, where he was informed that nearly all the printed matter used by that firm was purchased from the home print shop. He asked to be shown some samples of our work and for a comparison of prices. His request was complied with, and he told the bankers that our work was as good as Blair's, while in some cases our prices were slightly lower. That was an honest confession by an honest and reliable firm's agent.

We are not afraid of honest, reliable competition, but we do not pretend to match prices with blacksmith printers and dealers in "seconds" and damaged goods. Mossback business firms alone patronize the Indiana county fakirs and their class, and up-to-date people usually give such firms as wide a berth as they conveniently can.

Outside print shops do not spend one penny with most of the people that deal with them, they do not pay any taxes here, and they furnish no employment to people who spend their money in Salisbury. Neither do they print the marriage, death, birth, real estate and other news of this community, nor in any way help to bring our town and resources before the public. The man who cut his nose off to spite his face was fully as much of a patriot and a philosopher as the cheap skate, mossback business (?) man who sends away for bum printing when he can get good printing done at home.

FAYETTE IN IT.

She Has Two of the 19 Leading Banks of the Country.

New York, May 23.—Attention is called to the fact that of the leading 19 national banks of the United States that can show surplus and undivided profits in excess of capital stock, seven are in Pittsburg and vicinity. Of the first 19 banks there is no other district in the country that exceeds the number reported by Pittsburg. Even New York, with its big institutions, must take a back seat. According to the last annual statement, the comptroller says there were about 5,500 national banks in the country, of which 747 showed surplus and undivided profits in excess of capital stock. The Pittsburg district banks that stand at the head of the list in ratio of surplus and undivided profits to stock are: Farmers Deposit National, Union National, Second National, of Pittsburg; First National, Uniontown; National Bank of Lawrence County, New Castle; National Deposit, Brownsville, and Braddock National, Braddock. The earning power of the Pittsburg banks is self-evident.

Decoration Day in Salisbury.

Our band is greatly censured by some of our people for going to Petersburg on Decoration Day instead of remaining at home and participating in the home decoration exercises. The censure is unjust, as no special or organized arrangement was made here to observe the day, and the band was not invited by anybody to remain and participate in any arrangement or program whatever, but the boys did have an invitation from the Knights of Pythias, at Petersburg, who paid them for their services. Anyway, what are the people kicking about? There was no arrangement made in Salisbury for anything special on that day, yet we had the Boynton band, and a big crowd of people that seemed to be thirsty for booze and to know just where to find it in large quantities.

Now people are kicking about the music and about many other things. They have no right to kick, and the discordant music of the Boynton band was even too good for them. And furthermore, even in past years when some of the local secret societies had Decoration Day matters in hand, the affair was usually very badly managed and anything but a credit to the town and those in charge of arrangements.

We don't blame the band or anybody else for making their escape from Salisbury on Decoration Day, for the day seems to have lost its significance here. More other graves than soldiers' graves are usually decorated, and too many people seem to think that the day is intended for nose decorating at the saloons. Even some of the old soldiers seem to regard the day as a fitting one to get howling drunk on.

Fifty-Fourth Gets Monument.

In the batch of bills approved by Gov. Pennypacker, last week, was that appropriating $2,000 for the Fifty-fourth Regiment's monument at Newmarket, Va. This was introduced by Assemblyman Lambert, of this county, himself a Civil War veteran, and was ably pushed by Cambria county's representatives in the Senate and House.

The project of erecting a monument at New Market was given birth in Johnstown, last fall, when the Fifty-fourth's survivors had as their guests their former enemies from Winchester, Va. Besides the appropriation from the state, survivors of the regiment and their friends are contributing to the fund, and a meeting will be held shortly, now that the state's share is certain, to take further steps toward marking the spot where the Fifty-fourth had its most bloody fight.
