Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Delayed Liquor Licenses Granted.

Somerset, Pa., June 5.—After having been closed ever since April 1st, the saloons of Somerset county, which were in March refused license by Judge Francis J. Kooser on the ground that their applications were defective owing to the fact that the petitions failed to name the bondsmen, are now at liberty to lift their licenses and reopen for business. The announcement this evening that Judge Kooser had granted 11 of the 14 previously rejected licenses came like a bolt from a clear sky, as few persons were expecting him to act until the Supreme court had passed on the motion of the attorneys of the so-called temperance element (in reality W. H. Ruppel and J. C. Lowry) to appeal from the decree of the Superior court. Judge Kooser filed a brief opinion in which he bows gracefully to the mandate of the Superior court. The order of the court follows:

"Upon the opinion and order of the Superior court, the record is ordered amended as prayed for, the license granted and bond approved."

The licenses granted are to Hosea Bloom, Somerset township; Albert E. Falkner, Berlin; Francis E. Straub, New Baltimore; Elbridge C. Kyle, Meyersdale; Grant A. Tressler, Wellersburg; Charles McIntyre, Berlin; Elsie E. Regan, Garrett; John R. Fair, West Salisbury; Albert Koeppe, Meyersdale; W. D. Gilchrist, Confluence. No action was taken on the petition of Henry Loechel, of Salisbury, pending argument in the Superior court in October. In the cases of the petitions of James A. and James I. Gruver, of Berlin, and Levy Kaufmann, of Paint Creek, no order was made, owing to the fact that the petitioners have left the county.

The Steers Cut Loose.

She screams of a woman, the wails of a child and the curses of a man attracted a large crowd to a house on Main street, Saturday evening. The place is occupied by a man sailing under the suggestive name of Steer, with his family, and it seems that the dove of peace does not hover over the stall of the Steers to any alarming extent. Steer drifted into Berlin with the shoe factory, coming from Philadelphia. Saturday evening he saturated his anatomy with distilled "through freight" and went home prepared for anything that might be doin', and he apparently got what he was looking for.

Finding the other Steer of the family in bed sleeping off a fully developed "jag," he proceeded to yank her from bed by the hair, to which Mrs. Steer loudly bellowed her objections. In the melee the Steer of the weaker construction seized a knife, and with a few well directed thrusts at the cranium of the belligerent Steer, brought him to grass. A physician was summoned and dressed the wounds of the injured Steer, which were found not to be of a serious nature, and he was able to resume his occupation of hammering soles at the shoe factory, Monday morning. Steer should steer clear of "liquid damnation" in the future.—Berlin Gleaner.

The Berlin Steer should not only steer clear of "liquid damnation," but in following his occupation of hammering soles, he should stick to his last, and not hammer his own soul out by trying to drink the last drop of booze at the Berlin bars, which may land him behind bars instead of guzzling rotgut in front of them.

Mr. Steer.

It's very clear
You drink more than your "sheer."
Take "keer."
Poor Mr. Steer,
For booze leads to the bier.

A Cruel and Cowardly Act.

Not long ago some cowardly and cruel scoundrel committed a most dastardly deed by killing one of John Tipton's cows while the animal was in a pasture field near Coal Run. The cow was knocked in the head with a sledge or some other blunt instrument, and, of course, the deed was committed at night, when all cowardly curs sally forth to commit crimes they would be afraid to do in daytime.

It is believed, however, that whoever committed the crime did not kill the cow he intended to kill, as there were several other cows in the same field, and one of them closely resembling the one that was killed. It is believed that the cow the slayer intended to kill was one owned by Orlando Fleisher, the well known mine foreman, who made a great many enemies among the Coal Run strikers, last winter, because he refused to give up his position at the mines, during the strike. At any rate that is what some of the men who had been on strike themselves think of the matter, and we think their surmises are correct.

No matter who did the deed, or what the motive or intention, it was an act most cowardly, a crime most cruel and foul. Any man who would take the life of a poor, innocent dumb brute in order to "get even" with some fellow man, deserves a very hot corner in hades when he "shuffles off," and a cell in a penitentiary while he remains in the flesh.

General Alexander Hotspur Coffroth sustains the same relation to the Democratic party of Somerset county as Joe Berg, of Saltlick township, used to sustain to the Republican party of Fayette county. The General was the one and only delegate to the late Democratic State Convention. For years, it was said that Joe was the only Republican in Saltlick township. General Coffroth is not the only Democrat in Somerset county, but he is one of the few.—Connellsville Courier.

Some Queer Contradictions.

If the Panama canal strip is not territory of the United States, as the New York Tribune maintains, whose territory is it? If the United States flag flies over it and the affairs of the place are controlled by United States officials, can it be described as a foreign territory? Many curious contradictions have been put forward since we set out a colonizing, but the most curious of all is the repudiation of ownership of a place of which we have got possession and intend to hold while grass grows and yellow fever exists.—Catholic Standard.

HIS NEW BROTHER.

Say, I've got a new brother;
Never teased to have him, nuther,
But he's here.
They just went ahead and bought him,
And last week the doctor brought him,
Wa'n, that queer?

When I heard the news from Molly,
Why, I thought at first 'twas jolly,
'Cause you see,
I thought I could go and get him,
And then mamma, course, could let him
Play with me.

But when I had once looked at him,
'Why?' I said, 'My sakes, is that him?
Just that mite!'
They said, 'Yes,' and 'Ain't he cunning?'
And I thought they must be funnin',
He's a sight!

He's so small it's just amazin',
And you'd think that he was blazin',
He's so red;
And his nose is like a berry,
And he's bald as Uncle Jerry
On his head.

Why, he isn't worth a dollar!
All he does is cry and holler
More and more.
Won't sit up; you can't arrange him;
I don't see why Pa don't change him
At the store.

Now we've got to dress and feed him,
And we really didn't need him
More'n a frog;
Why'd they buy a baby brother
When they knew I'd good deal ruther
Have a dog!

—JOE LINCOLN.

Lawson's Encounter With a Wind Clock.

Thomas W. Lawson, himself an adept in unconventional tactics, recently received a shock at his own specialty. He was driving a spirited horse to a light vehicle. Having occasion to leave it in order to enter an office building, he called to a street urchin.

"Sonny, hold my horse?"

"Cert," was the pert reply; "what do I git?"

"A dollar an hour," said Mr. Lawson, laughing.

"By that clock?" continued the lad, pointing to a street clock in front of a jeweler's.

"Yes," said the financier, much amused.

"All right," assented the boy, with a sudden alacrity in contrast with his previous hesitation.

Mr. Lawson performed his errand and emerged again from the office building.

"How much do I owe you?" he asked the boy.

"Two hundred and seven dollars."

"What?"

"By the clock, mister."

Mr. Lawson glanced at the clock—an advertisement. It contained no works, but was operated by currents of air and the hands were revolving with the rapidity of a pin wheel.

"I thought Wall streeters could do more business on wind than anybody else," gaped Mr. Lawson, "but this takes my time!"—Success.

A Sense of Humor.

Fritz (aged seven)—Oh, mama, come quick! There's a stranger in the drawing-room kissing the new maid!

Mama walks to the door with a shocked expression. As she looks in Fritz claps his hands and cries: "April fool! It isn't a stranger at all; it's papa!"—Simplicissimus.

NO SECRET ABOUT IT.

It is no secret, that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "I didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c. at E. H. Miller's drug store. 7-1
