Tragic Poverty.
Dr. N. Lucock in his address at the anniversary of Carleton College, while speaking on the "Fundamentals of Christian Education," said: "A man's supreme achievement in life is himself, not what he may know, possess or do—but what he is. Tragic poverty is not so much an empty pocket or even an empty head, but an empty heart. We meet them every day, men with souls entombed, having much to live on and nothing to live for, no far-reaching purpose connecting them with God's kingdom on earth and eternal life beyond."

Greenland Cure for Consumptives.
Since Dr. Srohn's experiments seem to have demonstrated that it is impossible for tuberculosis germs to live in Greenland, and since his theories are substantiated by his own experience, the outcome of the present venture will be awaited with much interest by physicians as well as victims of this disease. The method outlined has been tried in Europe, but not on a sufficiently comprehensive scale to afford conclusive data.—Atlanta Constitution.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Uterine Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Can we dispute the well-known fact that American women are nervous? How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, it seems as if I should fly," or, "Don't speak to me." Little things make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children.

The relation of the nerves and generative organs in women is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman. Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability. Spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps. Pain in the ovaries and between the shoulders. Loss of voice, nervous dyspepsia. A tendency to cry at the least provocation. All this points to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell, of 103 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I cannot express the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headaches, loss of appetite, I could not sleep and would work the floor almost every night."

"I had three doctors and got no better, and my life was a burden. I was advised to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has worked wonders for me."

"I am a well woman, my nerves are all gone and my friends say I look ten years younger."

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick and weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.

EARLY INVENTIONS.

Primitive Man Understood Principles We Use in Mechanics Today.

The first knife was, of course, a flint flake, and the earliest spoon a shell, to which primitive man learned in the course of ages to fasten a handle of wood.

Such articles as these, together with hammers, axes and needles, are easily recognized as having come down to us direct from savagery. It is, however, more startling to find that such a comparatively modern invention as the lift has been used for ages by tribes which we designated as savages. The application of principle of the modern vertical lift may be seen today among the bee hunters of the island of Timor.

To get a honeycomb seventy feet overhead, with nothing between it and the ground but a smooth and branchless trunk, seems at first sight impossible without ladders or ropes. It is a simple matter to the Polynesian. He cuts a few yards from the tough stem of a creeper and forms of it a rush rope. With this he makes a loop around the trunk and his body. Jerking the loop a little above his head, he leans back and begins walking up, his bare feet pressed against the trunk. Repeating the operation he gradually gains the top. The whole ascent is made without exhausting use of muscles by utilizing the principle of friction.

Cotton weaving has done more for Great Britain within the last century than any one other industry. The Indians of Central and South America have for centuries used a loom so elaborate that ours is comparatively speaking, but a slight improvement upon it.

We should never have had the Panama hat but for the quick-fingered Indians of the Isthmus of Panama. Even today their secret process of seasoning the grass blades used in weaving these hats remains unrivaled. Basket matters of the same region make baskets which hold water without leaking—another invention which is quite beyond us.

Peltung was invented by Polynesian savages, and brought by the Hawaiian natives to a perfection we have never excelled. They not only make coverings for their houses and blankets out of the felt, but by pounding the inner bark of certain trees succeeded in producing soft and comfortable seamless garments of this material, such as sleeveless coats and cloaks.

Mortar was made by the people of Tahiti when our ancestors were shivering in holes in the rocks. They divided into the sea, brought up lumps of coral, burned them in pits, using wood as fuel, and mixed the lime they got in this fashion with sharp sand and water. With this mixture the ingenious savages plastered the walls and floors of his house, and a better mortar could not be obtained.

Another purely savage invention, which is perhaps the most familiar object of modern life, is the tobacco pipe—not only the common clay which the North American Indians moulded centuries ago out of the red sandstone of Colorado, but the wooden pipe, the prototype of the everyday brier.—London Answers.

A Mean Trick.

It was a mean trick, of course, and some day she will doubtless get even with him. She saw him take a piece of paper from his pocket, carefully fold it up, and put it in an envelope, and then place the envelope in one of the far corners of the drawer of the library table.

"What's that?" she asked.
"Oh, nothing of any consequence," he replied.

Now, if he had simply thrown it carelessly into the drawer she would have thought nothing of it, but the care he took to put it clear to the far corner, and the fact that he seemed ill at ease after he found that his action had been observed, aroused her curiosity. She wondered what it was, and she reasoned with herself that he had said it was "nothing of importance," so he would have nobody but himself to blame if she looked at it. She was justified in inferring from his words there was no reason why she should not. And this is what she read scribbled on a piece of paper: "I'll bet you a new hat your curiosity will not permit you to let this alone."

It was a terrible predicament in which to place a woman. How could she claim the new hat without giving herself away?

Advantages of Good Temper.
There is always good policy in keeping one's temper. As often as temper is lost a degree of influence is lost with it; and while the former may be recovered, it will be found much more difficult to recover the latter. The politician who allows himself to get angry—whatever may be the provocation—does his cause an injury which his soundest argument will hardly repair. Just so with men of all professions, and with men of no profession; if they would be able to exert a sway in their sphere they must learn to keep cool.

Who ever listened to a discussion in which one party went raving mad, while the other maintained his composure, without having his sympathies enlisted with the latter, even though, in the beginning, his prejudice might have been in favor of the former.—Christian World.

No Apology Needed.

Mrs. Lamb—Oh, well, I don't think you have any cause to apologize. Husbands are not so plentiful these times that a girl can afford to be too particular.—Boston Transcript.

FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW

DUN'S WEEKLY SUMMARY

Steel Mills Busy—Little New Business in Pig Iron—Railway Earnings Are Higher.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says: Moderate improvement is noted in commercial conditions, although progress is along conservative lines, and there is no evidence of speculative excesses. Seasonable weather has stimulated retail sales of light-weight wearing apparel and jobbers report more disposition among dealers to place orders for fall and winter goods. Mercantile payments are also more prompt, the brighter crop outlook having a salutary effect on all commercial operations. Although little new business is noted in pig iron, the steel mills are busy and confidence is expressed in developments next month. Textile manufacturing is in better condition than in any recent date, high prices for raw material exerting no retarding influence as yet.

Railway earnings thus far available for June average 8.7 per cent. higher than last year's, and foreign commerce at this port for the last week shows gains of $1,397,312 in exports and $2,636,896 in imports. In every department of business the past week makes a strikingly favorable comparison with the corresponding week of 1904 when prices were tending downward and there was much complaint of the early summer dullness. Yet there is no indication at the present time of the unreasonable optimism that threatens stability through reckless purchases in excess of wholesome consumptive requirements. Irregularly continues in the hide market. Many divisions are nominal and foreign dry hides have declined another fraction, making a loss of a full cent from the recent top point.

Beaver reports are received regarding the leather situation, particularly Hemlock sale. Conditions in the footwear industry are without material alteration.

Failures this week numbered 229 in the United States, against 257 last year and 25 in Canada compared with 16 a year ago.

A Vacation Hint
If you have some duplicates of books you are fond of re-reading, take one of those with you to the country, and it may be you will find an opportunity to leave it with an appreciative friend who has not read it. Then you will bestow a kindness and make room on your shelves for some new friend in covers.—St. Nicholas.

The average fruit-growing farmer has been putting off the spray problem from year to year, dreading the expense a little, but disliking still more to learn a new process, says the Massachusetts roughman. But the time is right at hand when many of us will have to buy a spraying outfit and learn to use it right, or make up our minds to get out of the orchard business. The new scale insect and the brown-tail moth have added the finishing touch to an already threatening situation.

ALL DONE OUT.

Veteran Joshua Heller, of 706 South Walnut street, Urbana, Ill., says: "In the fall of 1899, after taking Doan's Kidney Pills I told the readers of this paper that they had relieved me of kidney trouble, disposed of a lame back with pain across my loins and beneath the shoulder blades. During the interval which has elapsed I have had occasion to resort to Doan's Kidney Pills when I noticed warnings of an attack. On each and every occasion the results obtained were just as satisfactory as when the pills were first brought to my notice. I just as emphatically endorse the preparation to-day as I did over two years ago."

Bluebird Occupies Mail Box.
A bluebird which took possession of a mail box on the South road in Woodstock, Vt., last year and successfully raised two broods of little ones, promptly returned this spring, rebuilt her home, deposited her eggs therein, and is now waiting patiently for the appearance of her little family. The owners of the box have ably aided in her favor, putting up another box for their own accommodation.

AN AWFUL SKIN HUMOR

Covered Head, Neck and Shoulders—Suffered Aged For Twenty-Five Years Until Cured by Cuticura.

"For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck and shoulders, discharging matter of such offensiveness to sight and smell that I became an object of dread. I consulted the most able doctors far and near, to no avail. Then I got Cuticura, and in a surprisingly short time I was completely cured. I advise all those suffering from skin humors to get Cuticura and end their misery at once. S. P. Keyes, 149 Congress Street, Boston, Mass."

Industrial Progress in China.

In the last consular reports an American consul at a Chinese port presents a brief and interesting exhibit of the industrial and commercial development of the Chinese empire at this time. There are at present more than 1,246 miles of railway in operation in China. But to a Chinese capitalist, accustomed to a 12 per cent. legal rate of interest in China, and who is in a position to invest his money in other enterprises, which will insure him 20 per cent., railway construction offers no inducements. In spite of this peculiar condition, however, it is quite possible that within a few years' time 6,000 miles of railway will have been constructed and many inland cities brought in touch with the sea coast, and opened to the trade of the world.—Pittsburg Post.

Stonewall Jackson's Looks.

His form was tall, gaunt and angular. His feet and hands were large, and his walk was singularly ungraceful. He always spoke quickly, in short sentences, devoid of ornament, but to the point. A habit of "battering his eyes" added no little to the peculiarity of his appearance. His eyes were gray and ordinarily dull and expressionless; but when excited by drill, which always seemed to rouse him, especially when charges were fired, the whole man would change, as if he were transported by the roar of the guns to the exciting scenes of an actual field of battle.—Century.

FOOD IN SERMONS.

Feed the Dominie Right and the Sermons Are Brilliant.

A conscientious, hard-working and ingeniously successful clergyman writes: "I am glad to bear testimony to the pleasure and increased measure of efficiency and health that have come to me from adopting Grape-Nuts food as one of my articles of diet."

"For several years I was much distressed during the early part of each day by indigestion. My breakfast, usually consisting of oatmeal, milk and eggs, seemed to turn sour and failed to digest. After dinner the headache and other symptoms following the breakfast would wear away, only to return, however, next morning."

"Having heard of Grape-Nuts food, I finally concluded to give it a fair trial. I quit the use of oatmeal and eggs, and made my breakfasts of Grape-Nuts, cream, toast and Postum. The result was surprising in improved health and total absence of the distress that had, for so long a time, followed the morning meal. My digestion became once more satisfactory, the headaches ceased, and the old feeling of energy returned. Since that time, four years ago, I have always had Grape-Nuts food on my breakfast table."

"I was delighted to find also, that whereas before I began to use Grape-Nuts food I was quite nervous and became easily wearied in the work of preparing sermons and in study, a marked improvement in this respect resulted from the change in my diet. I am convinced that Grape-Nuts food produced this result and helped me to a sturdy condition of mental and physical strength."

"I have known several persons who were formerly troubled as I was, and who have been helped as I have been, by the use of Grape-Nuts food, on my recommendation, among whom may be mentioned the Rev. —, now a missionary to China." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason."

MEXICAN DISCOVERIES.

Relics Dating Back to the Time of Cortez's Conquest.

Laborers, excavating trenches for the underground cable system of the telephone company, near Cinco De Mayo street, in Mexico City, have uncovered a number of clay utensils, concrete foundations of temples and pottery covered with hieroglyphics, also Spanish coins whose dates are undecipherable, but which mingling with the pottery induces the supposition that the antiquities found appertain to periods of the conquest, when Cortez razed every building in the Aztec capital. A wall uncovered shows evidence of having been built on the ruins of another city lower down. The wall is covered with hieroglyphics which were partly effaced by the drilling of conduit holes through the solid mass.

Prof. Batres is eager to obtain government permission to excavate below the present level for older remains, which he is satisfied exist underneath, especially in view of similar discoveries made in 1900.

The Liquor Cure in Denmark.

"The Danish method would do away with a great deal of drunkenness," said a woman with a white ribbon fixed to her breast.

"The Danish method? What is that?"

"In Denmark," was the answer, "when a drunken man comes forth from a saloon or cafe he is at once put in a cab and driven home, and the cabman's bill is paid by the liquor dealer from whose house the man issued. Any liquor dealer who allows a man to depart from his establishment in an intoxicated condition is compelled by the Danish law to pay that man's cab fare home."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Artistic Trolley Poles.

There comes from a manufacturing company an announcement sufficiently notable and encouraging to merit comment at nothing a line. This is the production of an artistic trolley pole. The crude bare poles in general use are among the most notable disfigurements of American city streets, marring every handsome building and mocking the expenditure put upon rich facades, against which they show conspicuously in all the immediateness of an essential foreground.—Architectural Record.

SADIE ROBINSON.

Pretty Girl Suffered From Nervousness and Pelvic Catarrh—Found Quick Relief in a Few Days.

NERVOUSNESS AND WEAKNESS CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Miss Sadie Robinson, 4 Rand street, Malden, Mass., writes: "I had been recommended to me about a year ago as an excellent remedy for the troubles peculiar to our sex, and as I found that all that was said of this medicine was true, I am pleased to endorse it."

"I began to use it about seven months ago for weakness and nervousness, caused from overwork and sleeplessness, and found that in a few days I began to grow strong, my appetite increased and I began to sleep better, consequently my nervousness passed away and the weakness in the pelvic organs soon disappeared and I have been well and strong ever since."

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.
Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee. Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use 1/2 tablespoonful of this coffee, and one extra for the pot. First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.
2. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.
3. (Don't boil it too long. Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving. Good coffee that has been boiled before.

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.
1. With Eggs. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.
2. With Cold Water instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future. (Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.) (Lion-head on every package.) (Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)
