Let every young man remember that "sowing wild oats" is a species of moral agriculture whose harvest always injures a bumper crop. This crop may be sown promiscuously and broadcast and in company, but the day of reaping must be endured alone in shame and humiliation.

If the Goulds build all the railroads they are credited with projecting through Washington, Greene and Somerset counties, there won't be room enough to turn a hay wagon around without encroaching on the right-of-way of the omnipresent octopus, says the Connellsville Courier.

The original is always the best—imitations are cheap. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the original Laxative Cough Syrup. It is different from all others—it is better than all others—it is better than all others, because it cures all coughs and colds and leaves the system stronger than before. The letter B in red is on every package. Sold by Elk Lick Supply Co. 9-1

A. T. Reckner, a well known and highly respected citizen of Frostburg, Md., died very suddenly at his home, yesterday, after an illness of short duration. He was aged about 67 years, and was married to a daughter of the late John Wright, Sr., about the year 1860. His wife survives him.

The Somerset County Telephone Company is planning to extend its already large system into all parts of the county, placing every town and hamlet in direct communication with all the others, and at the same time giving its patrons an advantage of long-distance service direct from their homes.

Mr. Norman T. Walter, of Somerset, Pa., and Miss Ida J. Bittner, of Garrett, Pa., were united in marriage at the bride's home, Sabbath evening, June 18, 1905. The ceremony was performed by S. M. Cousins, pastor of U. E. church. May their sea of life be blessed with many long and happy years.

Pinealve contains the antiseptic properties of the native pine, and is a sure cure for sunburn, tan, tetter, eczema and all other skin diseases. Heals a sore, cut or burn without a scar. Sold by Elk Lick Supply Co. 9-1

The Berwind-White Co. last month broke all previous records in output of coal, the tonnage being over 300,000 tons. No. 36 mine also broke all previous records for individual mine outputs. This coal loaded in railroad cars would make a gigantic train 98 miles in length, if coupled together, says the Windber Era.

Mr. E. C. Saylor, a bright young man who recently graduated from the Baltimore Dental College, has rented rooms in the Henry DeHaven residence, on Union street, where he will hang out his "shingle" in about a week. Mr. Saylor's home is in Summit township, this county, and he comes here well recommended.

A train one mile long started from station "A." The engine leaves the station and the conductor waits until the caboose comes. He jumps into the caboose and walks forward over the train. When the engine reaches the next station, "B," four miles distant from "A," the conductor steps from the engine. How far does the conductor ride, and how far does he walk?

The most wonderful cure for piles is Manzan, put up in collapsible tubes with nozzle attached. It reaches the spot, stops pain instantly, and cures all kinds of blind, bleeding, itching or protruding piles. Sold by Elk Lick Supply Co. 9-1

Last week the teamsters who had been delivering pipe for the Southern Pipe Line Company, struck for more money. At first the company paid teamsters $1.75 per pipe for delivering, then reduced the price to $1.00. This brought on a strike which lasted several days, when a compromise was effected by the company agreeing to pay $1.25 per pipe. The teamsters went to work on Monday morning, and finished the job on Tuesday.

Tomorrow it will be four weeks since the editor's wife has been obliged to take to her bed since returning from the hospital. She continues to be very weak and nervous, and as yet she is neither able to sit up or to partake of any solid food. Under existing circumstances we are obliged to neglect our paper to a great extent, but we trust that our readers will be patient with us so long as the hand of affliction rests so heavily upon our family.

The Kansas City Journal says a young lady stepped into a Jefferson City drug store the other day and asked how to take a dose of castor oil without tasting it. The proprietor fooled around a little while and then asked her if she would like a glass of lemonade. Of course, she would. Then he wanted to know if she tasted the castor oil. "Heavens, no!" she exclaimed. "Did you put it in the lemonade?" He told her he had. "Oh, Lord! I wanted it for my mother," she groaned, as she began to sprint for home. The proprietor is still hiding out.

All old-time cough syrups were designed to treat throat, lung and bronchial affections without due regard for the stomach and bowels, hence most of them produce constipation. Bee's, the original Laxative Honey and Tar, gently moves the bowels and cures all coughs, colds, croup, etc. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the original Laxative Cough Syrup. Look for the letter B in red on every package. Sold by Elk Lick Supply Co. 9-1

Among the visitors in this section at present is the venerable Jacob Keim, a native of Elk Lick township, Somerset county, who left the hills of Pennsylvania over 50 years ago. He first settled on the prairies of Indiana, and later moved into the state of Missouri, where he is living at present. This is only his second visit back since he left, the first one having been about 22 years ago. He expects to remain some weeks with friends and relatives in this section. He is a cousin of Judge M. W. Keim, of the Seventeenth ward, and a brother of Elder David Keim, a prominent Mennonite churchman in the southern portion of Somerset county.—Johnstown Democrat.

On Monday evening a young son of Luther Romesburg was caught in the act of stealing a lot of pocket knives from Mrs. C. T. Hay's variety store. The lad fled from the building with the knives as soon as he saw that he was detected, but he was closely pursued by a lot of other boys who were started in pursuit of the young thief. He was captured at the intersection of Smith avenue and Ord street, but was promptly rescued from his captors by a man who was passing by and did not know of the boy's theft. As soon as he was liberated he again took to his heels, but the pursuing lads captured him a second time near M. J. Glatfely's residence. Mr. Glatfely seeing the scuffle, and not knowing anything of the theft, also made the other boys release their prisoner. Thus "Romesy" was enabled to reach his home in safety, but the next day he was locked up in the borough bastille, from which he was liberated in the evening. The knives were tossed away when the young thief saw he was going to be captured, but most of them have been recovered by the owner. Young Romesburg is a very bad boy, and if he keeps on in his present career he will surely land in state's prison.

A BAD SCARE.

Some day you will get a bad scare, when you feel a pain in your bowels, and fear appendicitis. Safety lies in Dr. King's New Life Pills, a sure cure, for all bowel and stomach diseases, such as headache, biliousness, costiveness, etc. Guaranteed at E. H. Miller's drug store, only 25c. Try them. 7-1

Huckleberry Orchards Pay.

Elmer Brant, on Irons Mountain, thinks there will be two hundred bushels of huckleberries on his farm, this season. He has two orchards. Last season he sold $75 worth of berries, and didn't get half of them gathered.—Cumberland Courier.

F. J. Anspach Dead.

It is with much sorrow that we announce the death of Mr. F. J. Anspach, which occurred at 5:20 p. m., yesterday, in Philadelphia. We have learned no particulars, but knew that he had been ill with rheumatism. Just as we go to press we are in receipt of a card from his son, conveying the sad tidings of his death. We will try to pay a fitting tribute to our dear old friend in our next issue.

Demonstration Didn't Work.

A demonstration was given in fire-fighting, opposite the Palace hotel, Monday evening, when two agents intended to show the merits of hand extinguishers. The representatives poured oil over some boxes and allowed the flames to get such a headway that all efforts to extinguish them with the "world-renowned" hand grenades were futile, and amid the guys and jeers of the crowd, the "oily-tongued" agents slipped back of the crowd and left the town in utter disgust.—Windber Era.

Deadlock in School Board.

The Salisbury School Board had quite a monkey and parrot time of it, last week, over the matter of hiring a principal for the coming school term. There were six applicants for the position, but only two of them were considered by the board, and every ballot taken showed three votes for Prof. O. O. Saylor and the same number for Prof. Pool, who was elected principal of the Salisbury schools last year, but went back on his engagement to accept a better position at Holidaysburg.

The supporters of Pool were Dr. A. M. Lichty, C. T. Hay and A. B. Newman, and the supporters of Saylor were I. J. Engle, C. S. Lichter and S. R. McKinley. Had Pool not gone back on his engagement, last year, he would have been an easy winner, but some of the directors were not yet ready to forgive him for going back on them only about a year ago.

It is openly charged by some of the directors that other members of the board are trying to drag church matters into the selection of a principal, and those charges are met by counter charges of mixing factional politics with school matters. The STAR believes that there is more or less truth in all of the charges, and we don't care a straw which gang wins out. However, we were much pleased when the board voted to drop both Saylor and Pool, which was done at their meeting, last Saturday night. Most of our citizens do not seem to want either of them for principal, and we think the board did well to drop them both and call a meeting for next Saturday night, when other candidates are to be balloted for.
