CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT.

Did you ever hear of thunder in a goblet? Of course it would have to be miniature thunder, or it would shatter the goblet; and indeed, it is so small an edition of it that the noise is like the popping of a cork from a bottle. But the principle of the thunder is, nevertheless, there—that is, the inrushing of air-to fill a vacuum.

Here is a pretty experiment showing this: Take two goblets and place them mouth to mouth; then put around them, where the brims meet, a rubber band about an inch in width, to prevent the passage of air.

Try now to pull them apart, and you is a positive cure for all those painful ailments of women. It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration. causing pain, weight and headache, is instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circum-stances it acts in harmony with the female system. It corrects about an inch in width, to prevent the passage of air.

Try now to pull them apart, and you will find that they stick together very closely, so closely, indeed, that you may swing them as a pendulum without their separating. But pull with still more force and they will come apart with the noise that I have mentioned.

Let us make another experiment with them. Immerse them in water contained in a vessel large enough to hold them both readily, and while still under water place them mouth to mouth. Put the rubber band around them while they are in this condition, and having taken them out of the water you will find that you can swing them as before, and that to pull them apart requires more force than when they were empty. The reason is that the water does not expand like air, so that, the moment you begin to pull the goblets apart, the vacuum is formed; and

THE NAUGHTY JAP BOY.

The Japanese schoolboy who is naughty is not obliged to stand in a corner with a paper cap on his head, but is given a piece of lighted punk, and must stand in front of the class and hold it until it is all burned. the pressure of the outside air makes them adhere more closely because the vacuum is greater.

You may think that it is the rubber band that is holding the goblets together, but still another experiment will show you that the only purpose served by the band is to make a tight joint so that air cannot pass through it. Cut a ring from a sheet of rubber, and put the goblets under water as before. Into one of them put a piece of ice and over its brim place the rubber ring, bringing the other goblet against the ring, too, so that they are mouth to mouth, with only the flat rubber ring between them.

Now, when the ice begins to melt, the contents of that goblet contract, forming a vacuum, and the pressure of the outside air holds the goblets so closely together that you may handle them out of the water without their separating.

To have perfect success with these experiments it is only necessary to use care in preparing for them.—New York Evening Mail.

FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW

Seasonable Weather Has Stimulated Retail Trade—Less Idle Machinery Than Usual.

tions of the country has done much to stimulate lagging retail trade in light weight wearing apparel and greatly improved the entire business to stimulate lagging retail trade in light weight wearing apparel and greatly improved the entire business situation by accelerating the maturity of agricultural products. A few more weeks of favorable climatic conditions will put large quantities of grain beyond danger, while late planted corn and cotton are rapidly recovering lost ground. These are the most important commercial influences at this season of the year, jobbers advance orders being largely dependent upon local conditions at the interior, and manufacturers guaging their activity by the outlook for fall and winter distribution.

In the leading mamifacturing industries there is less idle machinery than is customary at this time of inventories, especially at plants making textile fabrics, despite the fact that prices of raw materials are somewhat inflated. Labor controversies are not disturbing, several more agreements having been signed, and less than the usual number of siruggles are threatened for July 1.

Building operations are numerous and involve a greater amount of capital than at this time in recent preceding years; railway earnings for June thus far exceed last year's by 8.1 per cent., and foreign commerce at New York for the last week is fairly well maintained, exports gaining $338,270 in comparison with last year, while imports decreased $1,172,707. Normal midsummer quiet in the iron and steel industry is occasioning no anxiety, conditions being much better than they were at this time last year. Iregularity is still noted in the hide market. Foreign dry hides continue duil at the recent decline. Although les active than last week, leather is still moving freely. New England footwear, manufacturers are receiving a fair amount of supplementary fail orders from salesmen in the Western territory and there is also a good demand for spring samples.

Failures this week numbered 195 in the United Etates against 227 last year, and 29 in Canada, compared with 32 a year ago.

Our Cold Waves.

We Americans are always talking about our mountains of gold and coal and fron, and our fat fields of corn and wheat, but few of us ever realize that we have in our climate a great advantage over all other nations. In the cold wave which in summer and winter so often sweeps across the land and sends the thermometer tumbling thirty degrees in almost as many minutes, we have a constant, never diminishing asset of priceless value. The wave acts as a tonic, but, unlike any tonic made by man, it carries no reaction. No other land has cold waves like ours. To the cold, dry air of this periodic cold wave, which brings extraordinary changes of temperature, we owe much of the keen, alert mind, the incessant, unremitting energy of our American race.—Century.

Quay on the Gentleman Farmer.

The late Senator Quay, among his other varied pursuits, was somewhat of an agriculturist. One day there was a discussion between several of his colleagues regarding the definition of a gentleman farmer. Some contended that a farmer was a farmer, and the matter of his wealth could make no difference in the name. Presently one of the speakers appealed to Quay, and asked him if he would define the difference between the ordinary farmer and a gentleman farmer. The Senator thought for a minute, and said: "There's this difference between the two: One eats what he cannot sell, and the other sells what he cannot eat."—Harper's Weekly.

W. K. Vanderbilt was autoing up a Long Island road the other day. Ahead of him was a man and a dog. The dog was nosing around the bushes, and just as he started to cross the road the motor car hit him amidships, and doggie gave up the ghost straightway.

Mr. Vanderbilt stopped the machine and, taking out his wallet, gave the man a $50 bill, remarking:

"It was my fault; I insist that you take the money."

As the car rolled away in a cloud of dust, the man looked at the dead animal and said:

"I wonder who owned that dog, anyway."
