BIRDSEYE VIEW OF SALISBURY.

Something that Ought to Interest Salisbury People Who Have Located Elsewhere.

THE STAR has for sale a limited number of very fine pictures of Salisbury, size 22x32 inches, printed on extra heavy, smooth paper, from a very fine engraving. The sketching was done by T. M. Fowler, of Morrisville, Pa., who is an expert in his line and has been following his business in many different states of the Union.

The picture is very clear and distinct, showing all the streets plainly marked, and those familiar with the town can plainly recognize every building in it. The pictures have sold like "hot cakes" here, and a limited number have been placed with THE STAR to supply those at a distance, who may desire them.

Every former citizen of Salisbury ought to have one of these fine engravings, as they show the progress the old town has been making, which has been very great in recent years. But we cannot supply them all, and those who apply first will get them. The picture includes West Salisbury, the surrounding landscape and some of the farm houses in the immediate vicinity, also a large number of the principal buildings printed around the margin of the engraving, from special drawings.

Price, $1.50 per copy, plus 7 cents for postage. Address: THE STAR, Elk Lick, Pa.

From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." BLOWN STORE UP.

Schell Hardware Company's Building at Somerset Set Fire.

Somerset, June 30.—Residents of the central part of town were awakened Thursday morning by a terrific explosion in the cellar of the Schell Hardware Company's store. Daniel Pyle, one of the company's employes, was filling a five-gallon can with graphite, when the paint exploded. All Pyle remembers is that he saw a flash across his can and he was carried up an elevator shaft to the first floor.

There was a considerable quantity of dynamite in the cellar and it is remarkable that this explosive did not let go. Russell Pullin was also in the cellar. The Somerset Coal Company's offices are located on the second floor and a number of their clerks and engineers had narrow escapes. The Farmers' National Bank is located in the same block, and for some time it was feared that the entire building would be destroyed, as the firemen were unable to reach the blaze on account of the smoke and the crowded condition of the cellar.

Three from the Johnstown Tribune.

The Here and There Man narrowly escaped a terrible catastrophe last night. He had just stepped into his $4,000 automobile when it started to run off, and, after having acquired a speed of seventy miles an hour, was making straight for a telegraph pole. Fortunately, just at this point a bed slat broke and the Here and There Man woke up.

This is probably slander, but they tell it on a doctor in a town a good many miles away from Johnstown. They say he bought an automobile so he could scare horses and hurt people and make business for himself.

A Johnstown girl who graduated had for her essay the subject, "Reaching for the High Places." In order to carry out the "motif," her mother a few days ago gave her the ceilings to look after in the housecleaning stunt, but she wouldn't do it.

THE DIAMOND CURE.

The latest news from Paris, is, that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee, of Vanleer, Tenn. "I had a cough, for fourteen years. Nothing helped me, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief, and effected a permanent cure." Unequaled quick cure, for Throat and Lung Troubles. At E. H. Miller's drug store; price 50c. and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free. 8-1

Berlin Shoe Factory Sold.

At the public sale of the shoe factory, Wednesday afternoon, the property was knocked off to P. T. Miller for the sum of $3000, who, we understand, was acting for himself and some of the others who had ownership interest in the concern. The record is informed that the new owners contemplate continuing the factory in operation, a purpose much to be wished for, as the number of people to which the concern gives employment makes it a good thing for the town. The factory became involved during the first several months of operation, through the difficulties attending the getting the new venture in successful running order. During the last three months it showed a good working profit.—Record.

It's Different Up This Way.

Last week Leon Rice, out near Centenary, saw some one in the house with a light and he concluded he would show the intruder whose house he was prowling around in looking for money and things, so he called out seven big stout pipe line workers, loaded his shotgun heavy, and they marched abreast boldly from the barn to the house, shaking in their boots, thinking of the funeral that would soon take place. But when they got close it was all moonshine, and all their bravery vanished. Now all you have to say to Leon is "moonshine," and he says "Dog-gone you, hush and don't tell the Nugder."—Cumberland Courier.

It's different up this way when anybody says "moonshine." Whenever that word is uttered here in Somerset county, Pa., nearly everybody says: "Certainly, bring me a gallon or two of it."
