TIME TO "STAND PAT"

Democrats Always Seek Encouragement In "Off-Year" Campaigns.

REPUBLICANS LOOK AHEAD

Party in Pennsylvania Must Line Up With the President for Coming Congressional Contests.

[Special Correspondence.]
Harrisburg, July 11.

Republicans of Pennsylvania are going to "stand pat."

They are going to line up again with President Roosevelt and show him that he has their full confidence and support.

Within the last 24 hours the chairman of the Republican county committee throughout Pennsylvania have received communications from Chairman Wesley R. Andrews, of the Republican State committee, warning them of the danger that lies in over confidence and seeking to impress upon them the importance of perfecting the county organizations so as to insure the polling of a large Republican vote in November next.

While it is not to be expected that Pennsylvania will, in this "off year," be able to repeat the unprecedented majority of 505,000 given Roosevelt at the presidential election, Chairman Andrews is eager that every effort shall be made to get out a large percentage of the Republican vote so as to keep the majority under the circumstances up to the highest possible figures. That the chairman and other members of county committees throughout the commonwealth intend to co-operate in this laudable work is quite manifest from the reports that are being received from every quarter of the state.

The Republican organization throughout Pennsylvania is harmonious and aggressive and there is a disposition shown on every hand to maintain the prestige and the influence of the Pennsylvania organization in the party in the nation.

Must Stand By Roosevelt.

Pennsylvania is the bulwark of national Republicanism and any faltering on the part of Pennsylvania Republicans at the coming election which would result in any material decrease in the Republican majority would be taken as indicating a lack of interest and a lack of sympathy in the great policies which the Republican national administration is fathering and is endeavoring to carry out to a successful conclusion.

President Roosevelt needs the full support of Pennsylvania Republicans now as much as he did when he was a candidate before the people for the presidency. He requires the moral and substantial backing of the great Republican state of Pennsylvania in his magnificent undertakings. The opponents of the national administration at home and the Democracy throughout the union would hail with delight the news of a great falling off in the Republican majority in Pennsylvania next fall and would herald it as the turning of the tide from Republicanism all over the country.

Pennsylvania Republicans are too patriotic and too loyal to their party to allow anything of the kind to happen in November.

They are also too practical from a business standpoint to permit that to occur. No state in the union has as much at stake as Pennsylvania in the continued success of Republicanism.

Her vast industrial and manufacturing interests which have thriven under the policy of a protective tariff and which give employment to so many hundreds of thousands of her people, and which have added so much to the wealth and happiness of her citizens and those of other states, have been nurtured and developed under Republican administrations. Their continued prosperity depends largely upon the ascendancy of the Republican party in the state and the nation.

The large majorities for Republican candidates in this state which have been greatly due to the activity of the members of the Republican committees in the several counties must be again recorded at the coming election.

Look Ahead to Congress.

This is essential that the Democracy shall not be emboldened to seek to make a desperate battle at next year's highly important elections. Pennsylvania today, with her 31 Republican members, has the largest Republican delegation of any state in the union on the floor of the National House of Representatives. This delegation has been a powerful factor in obtaining much needed recognition of Pennsylvania's interests at Washington.

Appropriations of great sums of money have been secured for the deepening of the Delaware channel, which means the ultimate completion of a harbor which will bring many millions annually to the port of Philadelphia, and which will directly and indirectly benefit almost every county in the state.

Improvements on the Monongahela, Ohio and Allegheny rivers are now under way, the appropriations for which were made by congress as the result of the united efforts of the entire Pennsylvania delegation. It was the same influence which secured for the harbor of Erie an appropriation which is destined to make that one of the greatest harbors on the great lakes. These and other special considerations which come to Pennsylvania are obtained through the fact that the Republican voters of Pennsylvania have held their party organization solid and compact and have refused to be deceived by the allurements of the men who from time to time have sought to encourage and support independent political movements to fuse with the Democracy in local or personal campaigns.

Next year there will be 32 congressmen to elect in Pennsylvania and the canvass for these congressional seats is already under way. The Democrats are eager to have the Republican vote in this state cut down this fall and are talking fusion at every opportunity.

They know that they cannot elect their nominee for state treasurer this fall as well as they know anything. They know also that if by a fusion campaign for state treasurer they can lure Republicans away from their party candidates and their party organization, or keep them from voting, they will be making their initial advances toward capturing several congressional districts in this state next year. They are aware of the fact that some of the districts which are now represented by Republican congressmen were only carried by the Republicans by small majorities, and they are looking to these districts as the battle grounds for next year's congressional campaigning.

They want the Republican vote cut down in those districts this fall, so as to encourage Democrats to get into line for the big prizes to be fought for next year.

Republicans of Pennsylvania are determined to meet every issue in the coming campaign squarely and fairly, and they have no fear of the outcome at the polls.

AS KNOX VIEWS IT

Republicans Competent to Take Care of Their Own Affairs.

Under the caption, "Good Advice From Senator Knox," the editor of the Erie Daily Times says:

"United States Senator Knox, in a brief interview on the political situation in Pennsylvania, stated to a Pittsburg Dispatch representative Wednesday that he did not see any reason for resorting to any reform movement to regulate any evils that may exist in the Republican party. The senator stated in a few, but well chosen words, his idea of the situation, and it was for the Republicans to take care of their own affairs and to let the Democrats do the same thing.

"There are, of course, a good many people who call themselves reformers, but who are mostly soreheads, disappointed aspirants for office or hopeful Democrats who are anxious for a break in the Republican ranks for no other reason than that they may profit thereby. Senator Knox is a safe, thoroughgoing, highly respected official, and it did not take him long to size up the situation and put it in the proper light before the people of this commonwealth. The Republican party will attend to whatever reforms are necessary, and there will be no disposition shown to prevent all sincere reformers and good Democrats going along in the band wagon, but the leader of the band will be a Republican, and the Republicans will attend to the necessary reforms themselves. That much may as well be understood first as last."

DEMOCRATS BETTER WAIT

Republicans Not Ready to Let Them Parcel Out Offices.

After surveying the situation in the Quaker City through his long distance glasses Editor Brown, of the Columbia County Republican, makes this editorial comment:

"Republicans throughout the interior of the state need not be unduly alarmed because of the big hue and cry raised by certain reformers over some crooked revelations in municipal affairs in Philadelphia. Such things like these happen everywhere, and when they do it does not mean that the party in power is corrupt and must be turned out. The country would be more anxious did it not become more evident every day that the 'reform' is prompted more by an effort to set up a rival organization than to really uncover political or business rotteness. Why should this not be so when it is noted that Mayor Weaver's right hand man is Ex-Judge Gordon, a discredited Democrat of Philadelphia. The mayor certainly cannot divest himself of all charges of playing to the galleries so long as he allows Gordon to lead and control him.

"The Democrats of Pennsylvania need not get ready to parcel out the offices among themselves just yet. The Philadelphia matters will be settled in the courts and not in the yellow journals and when this is done the Republican party will be found doing business at the old stand."

Will Vote Straight Ticket.

"Republicans outside of Philadelphia will not be disturbed in their party fidelity by what may occur in that city," says Editor Frank J. Over, of the Hollidaysburg Register. "They will vote the straight ticket as heretofore, and sustain by the usual majorities the policies so necessary to the welfare and prosperity of the country and record a united and emphatic approval of the excellent, capable and patriotic administration of President Roosevelt."

The Party All Right.

There can be no real objection to reform within the party in Philadelphia. The party is not to blame for the scandals in that city. It is said that many crimes are committed in the name of religion and patriotism; but these still live and are as potent as ever.

While a party necessarily occupies a lower plane, it is none the less liable to misuse and abuse by the self-seeking.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

HOME DRESSMAKING
By May Manton.
A MODEL SHIRT WAIST GOWN.

Surplice Blouse 8027, Size 22 to 40 bust. Five Gored Umbrella Skirt 5081, Size 22 to 32 waist.

Shirt waist gowns are essential both to style and to comfort and are worn in all seasons materials. This one is made of heavy white linen with headings of the material finishing the skirt and trimming of embroidery on the blouse while the chemise is of embroidered muslin and is as dainty and as attractive as any warm weather gown could be, but it makes an admirable suggestion for other materials as well. White is exceedingly fashionable just now and the dress would be selected from mohair or any similar material but it is adapted to the colored linens, colored cottons and... used to the entire range of fashionable materials. The waist is the favorite one, made in surplice style, while the skirt is cut in five gores that are shaped to be continuously full at their lower portions. Material required for medium size for waist 4 1/2 yds, 21, 23 1/2 yds, 27 or 29 yds, 44 inches wide with 1/4 yds, 18 inches wide for skirt and 3/4 yds, 44 inches wide. Patterns mailed by Fashion Department ten cents each.

A FASHIONABLE BLOUSE.

Tuck Shirred Yoke Waist 8036, Size 22 to 40 bust.

Silks have been made so soft, so pliable and so thin that they are worn at all seasons of the year and can be shirred and made as full as possible without a sense of bulk. In the illustration is shown a most effective waist that is made of one of the new flowered lousines with cuffs of lace and which is exceedingly charming at the same time that the model is simplicity itself. There is a fitted lining. Made high with long sleeves and completed by collar and cuffs of lace, the waist is in every way suited to afternoon wear but it can be cut low and finished with the elbow sleeves so becoming suited to evening and serving two purposes equally well. Material required for the medium size 6 yds, 21, 5 yds, 27 or 29 1/2 yds, 44 inches wide with 1/4 yds, 44 inches wide. Patterns mailed by Fashion Department ten cents each.

A SMART LITTLE COAT.

Girls' Reefer 5037, Size, 4 to 12 years.

Reefer coats are always among the most popular of all models for little girls and this one is especially to be desired for the reason that it can be made from serge, from cheviot or from cloth, from silk or from linen or pique. The flat collar at the neck is exceedingly becoming as well as exceedingly fashionable and there is a choice allowed of two sorts of sleeves, the full ones that are gathered into bands beneath the cuffs and the plain ones in leg-of-mutton style that are finished with the cuffs only. In this instance the material is white serge with trimming of fancy braid combined with narrow scarlet. Material required for medium size (10 years) 6 yds, 27, 29 1/2 yds, 44 or 45 yds, 38 inches wide. Patterns mailed by Fashion Department ten cents each.

Men Wanted at Big Canal Job.

There is still a lack of men on the isthmus, and the Washington office is now trying to secure the services of several mechanical draughtsmen, several expert lumber inspectors, 50 stenographers, several rodmen; 150 track foremen, 100 boss carpenters, 50 bricklayers, and 50 lathers. Men who desire these positions should address the Panama Canal Commission, Washington. If accepted they will be furnished transportation from New York to Colon.

One Dollar Reward.

I will pay a reward of one dollar to any person who will furnish information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person who stole a large store box from me that I had left on the sidewalk in front of Haselbarth's store. I will also pay a reward of one dollar to any person furnishing information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person who stole some left-over fencing boards away from my lot in the Beachy addition, a little over a year ago. P. L. LIVENGOOD.

KEEP YOUR GRIT.

Hang on! Cling on! No matter what they say.
Push on! Push on! Things will come your way.
Sitting down and whining never helps a bit;
Best way to get there is by keeping up your grit.
Don't give up hope when the ship goes down;
Grab a spar or something—just refuse to drown.
Don't think you're dying just because you're hit.
Smile in face of danger and hang to your grit.
Folks die too easy—they sort of fade away;
Make a little error, and give up in dismay.
Kind of man that's needed is the man of ready wit
To laugh at pain and trouble and keep his grit.
—Louis E. Thayer, in Woman's Home Companion.

Why the Russian-Japanese War Continues.

A private letter recently received in this city from a Russian woman quotes the following little folk story as an illustration of the present situation and the popular attitude in Russia: Japan would have consented to peace with Russia some time ago if the Czar had been able to send the Mikado the following persons: Two functionaries who do not steal; two priests who do not drink; one moujik who has never been whipped; one workman who has always had enough to eat. But the Czar was unable to find such persons in his whole country, and offered instead: Admiral Alexieff, Grand Duke Sergius, General Orloff, Admiral Ouchtomsky, and the priest, Jean de Cronstadt. But the Mikado would not accept these substitutes, and that is why the war still goes on.—New York Tribune.

BENT HER DOUBLE.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at E. H. Miller's drug store; price 50c.
