THE JUDGE'S PLAN FAILED.

He Trapped the Editor, Who Promptly Made Way with the Trap.

A correspondent of "Law Notes" writes of the administration of justice in a certain insular possession of the United States when the island was under Spanish rule. Judge Z. had had a quarrel with an editor. The judge arranged with a hoodlum to insult the editor in order to provoke him to a breach of peace. A policeman to arrest the editor was a part of the "plant." The plot was carried out, but the editor kept his temper. The officer arrested him, none the less. He was hauled before Judge Z., who found there was no case. The Judge took from a drawer of his desk a revolver, silver plated and beautifully inlaid with gold and mother-of-pearl, showed it to the prisoner and informed him that the policeman had delivered the weapon to him as one taken from the person of the defendant, and asked him what he had to say to the charge of carrying arms. The editor examined the weapon, put it in his pocket, admitted that he had had it in his possession, produced a permit from the Spanish authorities to carry arms, and, with true Castilian politeness, bowed himself out and off with the Judge's beautiful pistol.

Right You Are, Editor Smith.

Three of our young lads and a Salisbury lad drove to Salisbury Monday and made an exhibition of themselves by getting drunk and driving like fury through the streets of the town; one of the Meyersdale boys and the Salisbury lad were pulled in, while the others escaped. We hope the Salisbury officials will keep these two in mind and salt them good and hard when they get them. It is the only way to deal with smart alecks.—Meyersdale Commercial.

A TOUCHING STORY

is the saving from death, of the baby girl of Geo. A. Eyer, Cumberland, Md. He writes: "At the age of 11 months, our little girl was in declining health, with serious Throat Trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. The first bottle gave relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and is now in perfect health." Never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. At E. H. Miller's drug store; 50c. and $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free. 9-1

To Furnish Free Anti-Toxin.

Harrisburg, Aug. 24.—Anti-toxin for use by diphtheria patients who cannot afford to pay for it, will hereafter be distributed free throughout the state, through the new Department of Health, of which Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, of Philadelphia, is the official head. Distribution stations will be established immediately in every county, and the distribution will be made on the order of the physicians in charge of all such cases.

According to some medical journals, anti-toxin is a good thing to let alone.

A Tramp's Lecture.

A tramp asked for a drink in a saloon. The request was granted, and when in the act of drinking the proffered beverage, one of the young men present exclaimed:

"Stop! make us a speech. It is poor liquor that doesn't loosen a man's tongue."

The tramp hastily swallowed down the drink, and as the rich liquor coursed through his blood, he straightened himself and stood before them with a grace and dignity that all his rags and dirt could not obscure.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I look tonight at you and myself, and I look upon the picture of my blighted manhood. This bloated face was once as handsome as yours. This shambling figure once walked as proudly as yours, for I was a man in the world of men. I, too, once had a home and friends and position. I had a wife as beautiful as an artist's dream, but I dropped the priceless pearl of her honor and respect into a cup of wine, and, like Cleopatra, saw it dissolve, then quaffed it down in the brimming draught. I had children sweet and pure as the flowers of spring, and saw them fade and die under the blighting curse of a drunken father. I had a home where love lit its flame upon the altar and ministered before it, but I put out the holy fire, and darkness and desolation reigned in its stead. I had aspirations and ambition that soared as high as the morning star, but I broke and bruised those beautiful forms and strangled them that I might hear their cries no more. Today I am a husband without a wife, a father without a child, a tramp without a home, and a man in whom every good impulse is dead. All have been swallowed up in the maelstrom of drink."

The tramp ceased speaking. The glass fell from his nervous fingers and was shattered into a thousand fragments on the floor. The swinging doors were pushed open and shut again, and when the group looked up the tramp was gone.—Exchange.

WEDDING Invitations at THE STAR office.

A nice new stock just received.

THE ART OF "DOING" PEOPLE.

Under this head THE STAR will from week to week expose some of the fraudulent advertising schemes by which shrewd charlatans in various cities and towns gather in the hard-earned coin of unsuspecting persons who are usually on the lookout to get something of considerable value for a trifling consideration, or who are looking for easy employment at good wages. Read this column closely, as it may save you from being a "sucker" and foolishly parting with your money.

THE RING GAME.

It often happens that a fraudulent scheme is based upon the supposition that there is a streak of dishonesty in the person to be "done." The ring game is a case in point. This scheme has been operated in various parts of the country, the most recent instance having been discovered and suppressed in Chicago. These fakirs do not advertise in the newspapers, but send out circular letters, broadcast, usually to women. Here is a sample of the letter used:

DEAR MADAM—In going over the repair department of a large jewelry concern which we have just purchased, we find a number of rings, watches, etc. of whose ownership we are uncertain. One ring bears your name, hence we infer it belongs to you. If such is the case, please send us 25 cents for repair and refinishing charges, together with 14 cents to pay cost of sending by registered mail, and we will send the ring to you at once.

If the person addressed "bites," she receives in return for her ninety-nine cents a ring similar to the kind that is sometimes found in pop-corn bags; but the victim usually holds her peace, realizing that except for her own dishonesty in claiming the ring she would not have been taken in. Among the papers forwarded to the Postoffice Department by the inspector who investigated the doings of this Chicago concern is an amusing letter written on the back of one of the fakir's imitation typewritten communications. It seems that among the addresses obtained by these people was that of "Horra W. Reed, San Francisco." A circular letter similar to that quoted above was accordingly sent to "Miss Horra W. Reed, San Francisco," but instead of the expected ninety-nine cents it produced the following reply:

GENTLEMEN—I am not a girl—I am a retired naval officer. I never had a ring such as you describe. Many thanks for your consideration.
(Signed) HORRA WILLIAM REED.

Similar to the ring game, in so far as it relies on the dishonesty of the victim to be effective, is the scheme worked until recently by an individual at North Pembroke, New York. This man advertised:

MONEY—F. A. M. $2.00 bill sent to any address for 25 cents; will give $25.00 to any one who can detect it.

The "Easy Mark" who parts with his quarter in the expectation of receiving a counterfeit two-dollar bill receives, as a matter of fact, eight slips of paper each containing the same recipe for making a carbolic acid salve. Accompanying these printed slips is another reading:

KIND FRIENDS—The name of the $2.00 bill enclosed—eight twenty-five cent receipts, which I enclose—total bill of receipts $2.00.

Some Snakes.

Irvin W. Walter, locomotive engineer on the Bare Rocks railroad, received a letter from a friend in New York City, several weeks ago, in which the Gothamite said he should like to have several rattlesnake skins to make a belt, as he had been told such a belt is a sovereign remedy for rheumatism. Monday last week traffic being dull on the road, Irve "hoofed it" up to the Snake Den, which is located near the Eli Walker place, close to the Brothersvalley line, and in exactly twenty-three minutes by the clock, twenty-three rattlers were hustled to "Kingdom Come," and the knight of the throttle proceeded to strip off pelts for the rheumatism annihilator. This is no snake story, but the solemn truth, as we saw the defunct "varmint" measured and are willing to testify that they varied in length from 14 to 56 inches.—Somerset Democrat.

CAMPAIGN IS OPENED

Scene of Activity at the Republican State Headquarters.

ANDREWS RUNS UP THE FLAG

Opposition's Forces Are Divided Over Bitter Rews Among Democrats and Prohibitionists.

[Special Correspondence.]
Philadelphia, Aug. 29.

The headquarters of the Republican state committee were formally opened this week, and the campaign for the election of the Republican state ticket has been inaugurated under the most favorable conditions. A large force of clerks have been put to work, and a staff of stenographers are kept busy until late every night turning out the heavy mail, to which Chairman Wesley R. Andrews gives personal attention.

Owing to the fact that the preliminary work of the canvass was started unusually early this year, matters are in shape to begin active and strenuous campaigning without interruption of any kind.

"We have run up our flag, we have our forces thoroughly organized, we are prepared for a sharp and aggressive campaign and we have not the slightest doubt about the outcome," declared Colonel Andrews, as he sat at his desk at the state headquarters. "We are confronted by the same old enemy," he continued, "although a desperate attempt is being made to make it appear otherwise, and we intend to administer one of those same old lickings which we have been giving them as they confront us at the polls year after year. The Republican ticket will be triumphant this fall as usual, and the majorities will be quite up to the average for an off-year campaign."

Fusion Game Falls.

The Democrats and their insurgent Republican allies have been making a play for a fusion campaign in Pennsylvania this fall, but they have not been successful in their efforts. While they did get the Democrats to put Justice Stewart, the Republican nominee, on their ticket for the supreme court nomination, this act was not only pleasing to the stalwart Republicans because it demonstrated the wisdom of their action in nominating Justice Stewart, but also because it has disrupted the Democracy.

There are thousands of Democrats who will not vote for a Republican under any circumstances. They always resent the placing of a Republican on the Democratic ticket. When this is done they generally remain away from the polls. If they do not do that, they vote for the Democrats on their ticket and cut the Republicans who may be put on their ticket to encourage fusion schemes.

This year the Democracy, what is left of it, in Pennsylvania is in a very bad way. They not only have a Republican, Justice Stewart, at the head of their ticket, but they also have a Prohibitionist, W. H. Berry, running for state treasurer. There are already being organized anti-Berry Democratic clubs by old-line Democrats who cannot stand for a Prohibitionist. Democrats of the Jacksonian school in counties like Schuylkill, Berks, Luzerne, Lackawanna, Westmoreland, Northampton, Pike, Carbon and elsewhere resent the nomination of Prohibitionist Berry and propose to assert themselves at the coming election by voting for J. Lee Plummer, the Republican candidate for state treasurer.

The "boss" of the state Democracy, shall be taught a lesson at the coming election, and that it shall be impressed upon him that he cannot command the Democrats of Pennsylvania to vote for either Republicans or Prohibitionists to serve his own selfish purposes. They say that if they are to vote for any candidates other than Democrats they reserve to themselves the right to select such candidates themselves. Democratic leaders, they argue, are chosen to elect Democrats to office, not Prohibitionists or members of any other party.

A Pretty Fight, This.

This is a pretty fight that has sprung up among the Democrats. It not only disgusts the Democratic leaders, but it is a supreme disappointment to the sorehead Republicans or so-called insurgents who had hoped that the Democrats would be united in support of Berry, whose campaign they have been counting upon to help them in their local factional games in several counties in which they are fighting the regular Republican nominees.

With the Democracy hopelessly divided over their state ticket, and with a number of Democratic county leaders up in arms against Guffey's bossism, there can be no effective fusion campaigning in any county in the state this fall.

The Prohibition state convention, with its sensational scenes over the brutal tactics resorted to in the scheming resulting in the nomination of Berry for state treasurer, furnishes additional cause for alarm and chagrin among the fusion conspirators. When they succeeded in landing Guffey for the nomination of Berry by the Democratic state convention, the next move was to hunt for delegates among the Prohibitionists. Through insurgent Republican influences in this city, the Philadelphia delegation to the Prohibition state convention was lined up for Berry, and this, with other delegations under like control, gave the nucleus for a Berry movement in the Williamsport Prohibition convention.

The bitter and personal attacks upon Berry which were made upon the floor of the Prohibition state convention were not anticipated, and the large vote polled against his nomination was a complete surprise to the fusion crowd.

Since the adjournment of the Williamsport convention, hundreds of the most prominent and influential Prohibitionists in the state have publicly declared that they will not vote for Berry for state treasurer, and others have gone so far as to announce that this year they are going to vote the full Republican ticket.

Berry's Coat of Many Colors.

They say they have not renounced the cause of Prohibition, but they look upon Berry as an office-seeking jobber, who has successively espoused the cause of free silver, Bryanism, free trade, Parkerism, and now is a Prohibitionist, and no one knows what next he will advocate in order to land in a fat state office. A large majority of Prohibitionists of Pennsylvania sympathize with Republicanism, aside from their views on the prohibition of the liquor traffic. If they cannot get sincere and loyal Prohibitionists to vote for, the chances are that they will support the Republican nominees.

There has been much indignation expressed at the manipulations by the Democratic and insurgent Republican leaders which resulted in the endorsement of Berry at Williamsport, and the returns at the coming election are bound to show a falling off of the Prohibition vote for the candidate for state treasurer.

Meanwhile, with the Democrats and the Prohibitionists at odds over the selection of Berry, the Republicans throughout the state are supporting their candidate for state treasurer, J. Lee Plummer, with enthusiasm, and his election by an overwhelming majority is confidently predicted by State Chairman Andrews.

STALWARTS ARE TRUE

Republicans Lined Up Loyally For Their Party Nominees.

DEMOCRATIC GAMES EXPOSED

Guffey and His Outfit Have Not the Confidence of the Voters of the State.

[Special Correspondence.]
Harrisburg, Aug. 29.

It is a noteworthy fact that in the campaign now under way in Pennsylvania the Republican newspapers, without exception, are loyally supporting the nominees on the state ticket. There are a few so-called insurgent sheets that are working along their well-worn lines in support of the Democratic candidates, but these journals are no longer regarded as being in sympathy with the Republican party. They have been so long assailing Republican nominees in the interest of the Democracy that they are now classed as out and out Democratic adherents.

On the other hand, the recognized Republican newspapers are all heartily for the Republican ticket.

Neighbor of Plummer Speaks.

The editor of the Altoona Morning Tribune, in commenting upon the Democracy's program, among other things, says:

"They hope to elect their candidate for state treasurer this year, and by means of the enthusiasm thus created to open the way for a vigorous campaign for the election of a Democratic governor and a lot of Democratic congressmen. Yet, in spite of their vague talk, there is nothing about the administration of the state government which they could better. Every department is being vigorously and carefully administered in the public interest by honest men. The state treasury is open always to the inspection of the citizens of the state, and even the Pharisee whom the Democrats have nominated for state treasurer did not dare bring an accusation against the present incumbent.

"There is not a human being, friend or foe, who knows J. Lee Plummer who does not know that the money of the state would be sacredly guarded while in his custody. His entire life has been spent in this county, and the only charge his worst enemies can bring against him is that he is a stalwart Republican and that all his life he has supported Republican measures and voted for Republican candidates. He believes in the Republican party and he has adhered to it with all the enthusiasm of a patriotic nature from his boyhood up. It is preposterous, therefore, to suppose that the Republican rank and file will vote for Mr. Plummer's Democratic opponent because the situation is not what it ought to be in Philadelphia or because the Democrats, making a virtue of political chicanery, have nominated the Republican candidate for justice of the supreme court for the same office.

"Judge Stewart need not flatter his soul that his pre-eminent ability as a jurist, his stainless character as a man, or his reputation for political independence, moved Mr. Guffey to the action which he prompted his convention to take. Oh, no; it was simply the desperate hope that this bit of down right demagoguery might bring some independent Republicans into the Democratic camp and thus swell the vote of Berry. In view of the general efficiency of our state government and of the Republican purpose to grant everything desired by a majority of the people, we do not think Mr. Guffey's scheme will work out into a brilliant success."

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF SALISBURY.

Something that Ought to Interest Salisbury People Who Have Located Elsewhere.

THE STAR has for sale a limited number of very fine pictures of Salisbury, size 22x32 inches, printed on extra heavy, smooth paper, from a very fine engraving. The sketching was done by T. M. Fowler, of Morrisville, Pa., who is an expert in his line and has been following his business in many different states of the Union.

The picture is very clear and distinct, showing all the streets plainly marked, and those familiar with the town can plainly recognize every building in it. The pictures have sold like "hot cakes" here, and a limited number have been placed with THE STAR to supply those at a distance, who may desire them.

Every former citizen of Salisbury ought to have one of these fine engravings, as they show the progress the old town has been making, which has been very great in recent years. But we cannot supply them all, and those who apply first will get them. The picture includes West Salisbury, the surrounding landscape and some of the farm houses in the immediate vicinity, also a large number of the principal buildings printed around the margin of the engraving, from special drawings.
