The family is the oldest and most valuable institution on earth. It begins properly with the first offspring. In reality there is no family until the husband and wife can say to each other, "Two times one are two, and one to carry makes three." And the little third party often binds the husband and wife closer together than anything else could possibly do.

Every wife should be a helpmate to her husband. For instance, if you have the pleasure of a large washing before you, and he has the laborious task of going to the city, or taking a trip through the country, change work with him, let him help you wash in the forenoon, and you help him ride in the afternoon. A good wife will deny herself to entertain her husband, especially on wash day. But some men will say, "When I come down to that I'll hire it done." We find no fault with hiring it done, but as to coming down to help a woman, my dear sir, who created you so far above a woman that you have to condescend to come down? We know the Bible says that "the husband shall be the head of the household," but it also says that "the wife shall be a crown to him," and you know the crown is a little higher, and just above the head. Such being the case, come up, gentlemen, on a level with your wives, and assist in the home whenever you can do so without infringing upon larger and more important duties.

HUSBAND AND WIFE.
Of course, every husband and wife know their duty toward each other, but still they grow a little negligent sometimes, and very often a few words will cause them to be more thoughtful and press them to their duty again.

They should always try to be agreeable, and, if one should become a little cross over something that has not gone just as wished, let the other be smiling and cheerful. Never both be angry at the same time.

Wife, when the husband comes in from his work, tired, always meet him with a smile, have the house neat and tidy, everything in its place, have his meals on time and something he will relish, for work gives a man an appetite, and he does not like to come in and wait for a meal when he is hungry.

Husband, if you should come in and find things different from the way you would like them to be, do not become cross and snap around about everything; and if you should be so cruel as to do such a thing, when you overcome your passion go to the dearest of all beings (the wife) and confess you have done wrong. By so doing you will heal the wound that was so painful to her.

BE YOURSELF.
One should not repudiate himself. There is no surer method of discomfort and no shorter road to failure. To speak in natural tones and to act without affectation; to dress in such a way as not to invite comment, to act without being hampered by conventionalism is undaunted by conventionalism is not to live in vain.

Sincerity is a genuine comfort as well as a great virtue. The people who are unaffected and genuine are not the people to ask, "Is life worth living?" It would be as sane for a man with sound lungs, standing in the free open of a mountain summit, to ask, "Is air worth breathing?"

Some courage is needed to be natural, and a higher kind of courage, too, than that which marches behind the safe end of a gun. That moral courage which is not intimidated by appearance nor cowed by custom is a finer article than the daring of the speculator, or the steady nerve of the soldier in physical peril. It takes bravery of the best stamp to be true to oneself.

Ridicule belittles the enterprise; expediency throws doubts upon it; circumstances embarrass and make difficult the adventure of being natural. But he who in the face of it all, manages to be loyal to the inner voice, to keep faith with himself and to maintain self-respect, has won the victory in a crucial battle.

Thus while it is true that one who keeps his self-respect has the world's, it is also true that he must discredit the world's to maintain his own. The public may chatter about what a man has, but it asks, before it quits talking, what he is, and rates him accordingly.

NO GLOOM AT HOME.
Above all things there should be no gloom in the home. The shadows of dark discontent and fretfulness should never cross the threshold, throwing their large, black shapes, like funeral pall, over the happy young spirits gathered there. If you will, you shall sit on a throne and be the presiding household deity. O faithful wife, what privileges, what treasures greater or purer than these?

And let the husband strive to forget his cares as he winds around the long narrow street, and behold the soft light illuminating his little parlor, spreading its precious beams on the pave before it. He has been harassed, perplexed, persecuted. He has born with many a cruel tone, many a cold word, and nerved himself up to an energy so desperate that his frame and spirits are weakened and depressed. And now his limbs ache with weariness; his temples throb with pain-beat caused by too constant application. He scarcely knows how to meet his wife with a pleasant smile, or sit down cheerfully to their little meal, which she has provided with so much care.

But the door is opened—the overcoat thrown hastily off. A sweet singing voice falls upon his ear, and the tones are so soft and glad that hope, like a winged angel, flies right into his bosom and nestles against his heart.

A home where gloom is banished—presided over by one who has learned to rule her household. Oh! he is thrice consoled for all his trials. It is impossible he can be unhappy.

That sweetest, best, dearest solace is his—a cheerful home. Do you wonder that the man is strengthened anew for to-morrow's care?

A Pretty September Wedding.

In the Evangelical Lutheran church, of Friedens, Pa., Miss Vida Stella Miller, of Friedens, and Mr. Edward Earnest Haselbarth, of Salisbury, Pa., were united in marriage at 1 o'clock, September 21st, Rev. Charles Lambert, the bride's pastor, officiating. Miss Emma Esken, of Berlin, Pa., presided at the organ. The church was beautifully decorated in chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The colors were white and Nile green. The bridal party, marching to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, consisted of Miss Flora Tipton, as maid of honor, Mr. V. H. Miller, brother of bride, as best man, Misses Harriet Haselbarth, sister of groom, Bessie N. Miller, sister of bride, Carrie Miller and Lucie Smucker as bridesmaids. Mr. George Haselbarth, brother of groom, Mr. Geo. Hay, Geo. Stahl and Ross Pile, acted as ushers. Miss Ina Helvey, of Hamilton, Ohio, cousin of bride, and Miss Edythe Miller were flower girls. Each wore a dress of white silk and carried basket of white asters. The bride was gown in white mauline over white taffeta silk, trimmed with valenciennes lace, and carried a shower bouquet of Lillies of the Valley. The maid of honor wore Nile green crepe dechine and carried bouquet of cut roses. The bridesmaids wore dresses of Nile green batiste, each carrying a large bouquet of asters.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party was conveyed in carriages to the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob S. Miller's, where covers were laid for ninety guests. During the breakfast, Prof. Eickaby, of Somerset College of Music, presided at the piano.

After the breakfast the bride and groom left for Salisbury, where a happy reception was tendered them at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Haselbarth, where the rooms were beautifully decorated with cut roses and carnations, and lighted with Japanese lanterns.

Amid the strains of music rendered by the Salisbury Orchestra, about one hundred friends congratulated the bride and groom, and at ten o'clock a delicious and tasty luncheon was served.

Among the out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. McMillan, of Meyersdale; Ellet Baumgardner, Gibbons Glade; the Misses Warnick, of Jennings, Md.; Mrs. Muir, of Baltimore, Md.; Miss Jennie Montgomery, Meyersdale, Pa.; Miss Rhoda Miller, Franklin Grove, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Otto, New Germany, Md.; Lucy Smucker, Geo. Stahl, V. H. Miller, Friedens, Pa.; Miss Carrie Miller, Stoystown, Pa.

The bride is a daughter of Ex-Register and Recorder Jacob S. Miller, and was several years a student in Irving College. The groom is a prominent hardware merchant of Salisbury. The newly married couple will be at home in Salisbury, Pa., where the groom has just completed and elegantly furnished and handsome home on Ord street.

The couple received a large and elegant assortment of presents, consisting of things useful and ornamental, and the good wishes of the community go with the happy couple into their beautiful new home, where all hope they may live long and happily, and never be forsaken by prosperity.

NUMEROUS AND WORTHLESS.
Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by E. H. Miller.

A Quiet Wedding.
Mr. Robert Alvin Kidner and Miss Cora Livengood were quietly married, yesterday evening, the 27th inst., at the home of the bride's parents in this borough, Rev. John H. Knepper, of Meyersdale, officiating. The only persons present were the bride's parents and Rev. and Mrs. Knepper.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jer. J. Livengood, and it can be said without any reservation whatever that she is one of the most estimable young women in all Somerset county. She has all the qualities of a good wife, and those qualities are also well balanced with intelligence and good looks.

The groom, who is the second son of Mr. Henry Kidner, has indeed drawn a valuable prize in the matrimonial lottery, and he is worthy thereof. He is an intelligent, sober and industrious young man, one who is fond of home life and will do all in his power to make a worthy wife happy.

We extend our congratulations to the happy couple, and we join their many friends in wishing them all manner of happiness and prosperity.

Joseph Logue Drops Dead at the Chapman Mines.

Joseph Logue, a driver at the Chapman mine, while working on the night shift, last night, came out on his trip about 9 o'clock, and immediately fell over and expired. The cause of his death is attributed to the bursting of a blood vessel in his chest, as he had been doing some heavy lifting and was known to have some internal trouble. Deceased was aged about 38 years, and is survived by a wife and several children.

John J. Walker Meets With Bad Accident.

Just as we go to press we learn that John J. Walker and Lester Loechel had a run-away at Meyersdale, a few hours ago, caused by the breaking of the holding-back straps of their buggy. Lester escaped with little or no injury, but Walker has a badly broken leg. One report has it that the leg is broken in two places and may have to be amputated. We are indeed very sorry to hear such bad news as this, and we earnestly hope the accident was not as bad as reported.

NO UNPLEASANT EFFECTS.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what pill pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. Sold by E. H. Miller.

Wife of Dr. A. M. Lichty Stricken by Paralysis.

The wife of Dr. A. M. Lichty was stricken by paralysis, last night, and ever since is in a very critical condition. Her whole right side is paralyzed, and her organs of speech are also affected. The sufferer is scarcely able to make an audible sound. Her friends all hope for her recovery, but the prospect for that is anything but encouraging, we are sorry to report.

A LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP.

"A cold or cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat instead of passing out of the system through the liver and kidneys. For the want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard." Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar is the original Laxative Cough Syrup. It meets and corrects the above conditions, by acting as a pleasant cathartic on the bowels—expels all colds from the system and cures all coughs, croup, whooping cough, La-Grippe, bronchitis, etc. Sold by E. H. Miller.

A Correction Which The Star is Pleased to Make.

In making mention of some new typhoid fever cases, recently, THE STAR stated that Lucinda, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Maust, had been stricken by the disease. We had been so informed, and thought our information was reliable until we received a letter from Mr. Maust stating that the report was erroneous. Mr. Maust writes that his daughter Lucinda is perfectly well and attending school every day, and further states that there is no typhoid fever in his family.

We are indeed glad to make the correction, and still more glad to know that there is no sickness in the Maust household. May their good health continue.

BEST FOR CHILDREN.

Mothers, be careful of the health of your children. Look out for Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough. Stop them in time—One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy. Harmless and pleasant. Contains no opiates. Sold by E. H. Miller.

Teachers' Institute.

The teachers of Elk Lick township will hold an institute at Springs, Saturday, Oct. 14th, 1905. Following is the program:

"Home Lessons for the higher grades"—Lydia Moser.
Paper—Miss Heiple.
Recitation—Orpha Folk.
"Civics and their relation to School Work"—Miss Kimmel.
"The merits of Classics in our Public Schools"—Pela Kutz.
"Physiological Work to beginners"—Geo. Yoder.
"The Idol of School Work"—Ralph Moser, Corda Fike.

ARE YOU ENGAGED?

Engaged people should remember, that after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." E. H. Miller, druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c. a bottle.

GOT OFF CHEAP.
He may well think he has got off cheap, who, after having contracted constipation or indigestion, is still able to perfectly restore his health. Nothing will do this but Dr. King's New Life Pills. A quick, pleasant, and certain cure for headache, constipation, etc. 25c. at E. H. Miller's drug store; guaranteed.
