ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

A farmer's good wife in old Elk Lick, who imagined she had reasons to believe that her "hubby" was making love to the hired girl, proceeded to do a little detective work on her own hook, and if possible catch him. One evening recently she noticed "hubby" pass quietly into the kitchen. The hired girl was out, and the kitchen was dark. The jealous wife took a few matches in her hand, hastily placed a shawl on her head, as the hired girl often did, entered the back door, and she was immediately seized, hugged, kissed and embraced in a very rough-and-tumble manner. With heart almost bursting, the wife prepared a terrible rebuke for faithless "hubby," and tearing herself from his fond embrace, struck a match, and there she stood, face to face with the hired man. Oh, mama, but didn't it jolt her?

Urias Hutzler, a prosperous Nebraska farmer, called at THE STAR office yesterday. He was a welcome guest, not only because he planked down a few shekels for STAR light, but because he is one of our old-time friends. For years he worked for our friend Milton J. Beachy, saved his money, then married Miss Minnie Wagner, one of Frostburg's most charming and estimable young women, after which he emigrated to Nebraska, bought a good farm and settled down to enjoy life. He has prospered well in the west, all of which his many friends here will be glad to learn, and his old-time friends in and about Salisbury are all glad to take him by the hand once more and welcome him within their home. The wife and three children remained at home, this trip, but on some other occasion we hope to see them among their eastern friends, who have a royal welcome in store for them.

One of THE STAR's chief defamers and borrowers, the holy (?) "St. Joseph" Hartline, has purchased a small farm near Somerset, and will locate thereon in the very near future. We know of a good many people that will have no tears to shed on account of "St. Joseph's" removal, which makes us feel real sad. We understand that the holy one aforesaid will go into the poultry business, which is very appropriate, as poultry and piety go hand in hand, and it will not surprise us if "St. Joseph" puts a few new strains of poultry on the market, such as Divine Doves, Jerusalem Geese, Godly Guineaes, Ducks of Divinity, St. Paul Peafowls, St. Joseph Shanghais, Celestial Cochons, Lordly Leghorns, Holy Houdans, Sacred Sage Hens, etc., etc. In the meantime we wish "St. Joseph" much success, and as he can borrow a copy of THE STAR at almost any house in Somerset, we know he will be happy in his new home.

What's in McClure's.

The October McClure's is devoted peculiarly to American life and activities. Not a story in it, nor a special article, but concerns the real and immediate things that move this country at large. Pastor Charles Wagner, the French clergyman-author of "The Simple Life," writes of his visit at the White House, and with simple directness tells of the children and the household life of the President as he saw them. He writes an interesting and important estimate of President Roosevelt as a man.

"What Kansas Did to Standard Oil" concludes Miss Tarbell's story of the oil war in Kansas, and tells excitingly of how the Kansans rushed in and won.

"Pioneer Transportation in America" is the truthful romance of traffic, an absorbingly interesting story full of curious information. In this first paper Charles F. Lummis, foremost authority on the subject, carries traffic through America's heroic age up to the beginnings of the great days on the plains.

Eugene Wood contributes "The County Fair," the best of his reminiscent stories of "Back Home."

Mrs. Mary Stewart Cutting appears again with another "little story of married life." Lloyd Osbourne, Jean Webster, Guy Wetmore Carryl, Henry C. Rowland, Albert Kinross and F. H. Lancaster are among the other contributors of fiction.

Not the least interesting feature of the magazine is the editorial announcement of a great historical series, to begin in November, Carl Schurz's "Reminiscences of a Long Life" and Ray Stannard Baker's investigation of the Railroad Problem, of which publication will begin before Congress meets.

Death of Pastors in Reformed Denomination.

Rev. Dr. John Calvin Bowman, president of the Reformed Theological Seminary at Lancaster, while in conference with members of the Westmoreland classis at Greensburg, recently, regarding the death of ministers in the Reformed denomination, said that the situation is alarming, many charges being without pastors and few are preparing for the ministry in the church institutions. Only three members of the large class graduated from Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, which is the principal feeder of the seminary, have matriculated for the three years' course of study which begins this week. Dr. Bowman said that few young men of today become ministers unless they determine upon this course early in life, and he suggested that the members of the classis exert their influence upon Sunday school teachers. An effort is being made to increase the endowment of the seminary by $150,000.

"DAD."

Some boys they call their Dad—Papa.
Oh, gee! That makes me mad,
It sounds so stiff and like a book—
You bet I call mine Dad.
And he's a ripper too, you bet.
The boys all wish they had
A father that would laugh and joke,
And love them like my Dad.
Of course, sometimes, when all the bills
Come in he's mighty mad,
And then we sit as still as mice
And here him jaw, poor Dad.
It's always over soon, and then
You bet we all feel glad.
And then we all climb on his lap
And hug and kiss our Dad!
"You can't have kids and money, too,"
He says, and so he's glad
The good Lord made him poor, or else
He mightn't been our Dad.
I don't want to be President,
Like every little tad,
When I'm grown up I'd rather be
A nice man just like Dad.

TO GIVE NO QUARTER

Lincolmites and Democrats Will Be Treated Alike.

ATTACK POLITICAL QUERILLAS

Candidate For State Treasurer Plummer Given a Splendid Reception By the Clubmen.

[Special Correspondence.] Philadelphia, Sept. 26.

The Republican campaign is now under way in earnest. The aggressive young Republicans of the State League of Clubs fired the first gun at their big convention in Easton, and since then there has been a booming of heavy artillery all along the line. From every county comes reports that the Republican skirmishers are out, that the lines are extended in every direction and that the enemy is to be pressed to speedy conclusions at every point.

"There will be no quarter asked or given," said Field Marshal Wesley R. Andrews at the Republican state committee headquarters. "The Republican colors are to be borne into the thick of the fight, and all enemies of Republicanism, whether they appear in the uniform of Democrats, Lincolmites or guerillas or insurgents of any kind or character, may expect to be treated alike and put to ignominious rout in the cause of good government and the maintenance of the principles and policies of the party which has made this the most prosperous and happy country in the world."

"Every Republican of Pennsylvania who realizes the significance of the present contest and the far-reaching effect of the result of the November election upon the future of the party will be found fighting for the entire Republican ticket."

Chairman Andrews has been overrun with callers from every county of the state during the last week, and is delighted with the situation and the outlook for a sweeping Republican majority.

Plummer Given An Ovation.
J. Lee Plummer, the Republican nominee for state treasurer, was given a great ovation by the Republican clubmen at Easton. He made a splendid speech, in which, among other things, he said:

"It is our proud boast today that the treasury of the commonwealth has never lost a dollar through the default of a state treasurer.

"When the Republican party came into power in Pennsylvania, real estate, trades and occupations, horses and cattle, household furniture and watches were all taxed for state purposes. Just as soon as the war was over the people were relieved of these taxes, so that now the only individual who pays a state tax is the one who has money at interest, and three-fourths of this tax, amounting in 1904 to $2,900,574, is returned to the counties in relief of local taxation. No man's home in Pennsylvania is taxed to support the state government.

"The policy of relieving local taxation is carried out in respect to the hotel licenses; four-fifths of the money received from this source is returned to the cities, boroughs and townships in which the hotels paying the licenses are located. More than $3,000,000 is returned to the municipalities each year from this source.

Liberal Support of Schools.
The appropriation to the public schools is also made to relieve the people in their local taxes. In 1904 the princely sum of $6,256,167 was paid to the counties for this purpose.

"During the 45 years odd administrations of the government of Pennsylvania by the Republican party taxation of real estate, etc., for state purposes has been abolished, a debt of $40,000,000 has been paid, a surplus of several millions of dollars accumulated in the treasury and over $214,461,000 returned to the counties in relief of local taxation.

"Gentlemen, this is a record to be proud of, and I challenge any state in the United States or any country in the world to equal it.

"In nothing is the policy of the Republican party in this state to be more commended than in its appropriations for charitable and educational purposes."

Pennsylvania's Shame.
J. Hampton Moore, the progressive young Republican president of the National League of Clubs, in his speech at the Easton convention stirred the delegates to a high pitch of enthusiasm, when he said:

"It is a shame and a disgrace today that Pennsylvanians that are second to none in patriotism, morals and good citizenship, are subjected to invective comment whenever they come in contact with the citizens of other states. This is due to the persistent and malignant circulation of slanderous untruths relating to the administration of public affairs, which slanders are the result solely of motives of disappointed ambition and revenge.

"The Republican candidate for state treasurer, a man of unquestioned respectability, whose home life is indorsed by his neighbors, has been the butt of misrepresentation and ridicule from the day of his nomination. Every other candidate has been subjected to the same kind of unfair criticism. And by whom?

"Mere factionists coalescing with Democrats who have offered nothing for a change of Republican faith except a nominee for state treasurer whose public life has been as varied as the hues of a chameleon."

Berry "a Human Talking Machine."
"For a stalwart Republican devoted to all the principles of freedom, protection and prosperity for which Lincoln, Grant, McKinley and Roosevelt have stood, they have offered an enigma, a human talking machine, who has never been for anything that has been successful, but who has devoted what talent he may possess to advocating destructive heresies like free trade, free silver and single tax—an anomaly in that besides being a Democrat he is a Prohibitionist.

"Such is the product of the work of factionists who have profaned the name of Lincoln that they might the more successfully deceive the Republican voters of the state. Factionists who in 1882 and in 1890 adopted similar tactics, which resulted in the defeat of the Republican candidate for governor and in the election of Grover Cleveland, the apostle of free trade, idle mills and soup houses."

WILL DO HER DUTY

So Says the Veteran "Tom" Cooper of the Old Keystone State.

NO COMFORT FOR INSURGENTS

Pennsylvania Republicans Should Heed the Words of the "Sage of Media."

The veteran and ever "hopeful Tom" Cooper, of Media—editor, statesman, politician and former state chairman of the Republican state committee—comes into the lime light with a timely warning to Republicans of the Keystone State of the danger that lurks in the insurgent political movement back of the Berry candidacy for state treasurer.

In his old established newspaper, the Delaware County American, he says: "The American has no thought of attacking the character of Mayor Berry, the Democratic-Fusion-Prohibition nominee for state treasurer. That his character is open and manly goes without saying in Delaware county. What we desire most of all other things is to discuss the future, and Berry's prediction that he will be elected. If we unite all elements opposed to the Republicans in an off-year, he is partly justified in his hopes. If he succeeds, as he has in Delaware county, in making a fusion between the Lincoln Republicans and Democrats, and this fusion extends throughout the state, then it is time for Republicans to pause and inquire as to the future.

Berry Is Bryan's Leader.
"Pennsylvania is justly regarded all over the union as the banner Republican state. If it should go Democratic this year the credit will go entirely to the Democracy—the Bryan Democracy, for Berry is Bryan's leader in Pennsylvania. He is our state's chief advocate of Bryan's silver views, and of his semi-Socialistic thoughts.

"This is the plain truth. The bitterness of faction cannot hide it, and with Berry on top in Pennsylvania, it will mean Bryan once again in full control of the Democratic party, and its presidential nominee.

"This is politics, free from personality. This goes to the future, and therefore it is that the American asks all good citizens, all Lincoln Republicans, all Gold Democrats, to pause and contemplate the political waves as they come in.

Not a Question of Men.

"This struggle is not a question of men. Plummer, the Republican candidate for state treasurer, is as upright as Mayor Berry. We know it. Six years of recent service in the house with a prominent member thereof enables us to estimate, and we say, despite all factional abuse, that J. Lee Plummer is an honest man.

"Let us contemplate the future, and govern our votes accordingly.

"Roosevelt will not again be a candidate. If our state rushes into troubled waters other states will follow, and confusion will come as it came when Delamater was defeated for governor and Cleveland elected for president. The Delamater incident looked small, the Cleveland panic was large. This is simply politics, as to the future.

"The American believes in every sensible advance, but in reaching better things it would not tear out the eyes of those whose help is very essential.

"We have been through two political revolutions; we know their meaning; we have learned to anticipate their results.

"Look at what the Republican party has done. It has met reform in six great states—in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Oregon, New Jersey, New York and Massachusetts. In these states it has passed great measures, honest measures for personal registration, uniform primaries and safe election laws. As the waves come in, for reform or otherwise, let us inquire if we cannot promote better things within ourselves.

"As sure as we live, Pennsylvania will do her duty, and through the Republican party."

Poverty Not a Bar to Progress.
"Such men as Mr. Plummer, embodying all the sterling qualities characteristic of the truest Americans afford the very best examples to the sons of the wage workers," says the editor of the Labor World of Pittsburgh. "Depend upon it they prove that poverty is not a barrier to success when determination and honesty of purpose are employed. Thus it is that these examples should be encouraged by those who benefit most by them, that is, the working men themselves.

"Let the honorable and progressive course of the quondam news boy be continued. His past gives assurance for the future. He comes from the ranks and is one of the people."

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF SALISBURY.

Something that Ought to Interest Salisbury People Who Have Located Elsewhere.

THE STAR has for sale a limited number of very fine pictures of Salisbury, size 22x32 inches, printed on extra heavy, smooth paper, from a very fine engraving. The sketching was done by T. M. Fowler, of Morrisville, Pa., who is an expert in his line and has been following his business in many different states of the Union.

The picture is very clear and distinct, showing all the streets plainly marked, and those familiar with the town can plainly recognize every building in it. The pictures have sold like "hot cakes" here, and a limited number have been placed with THE STAR to supply those at a distance, who may desire them.

Every former citizen of Salisbury ought to have one of these fine engravings, as they show the progress the old town has been making, which has been very great in recent years. But we cannot supply them all, and those who apply first will get them. The picture includes West Salisbury, the surrounding landscape and some of the farm houses in the immediate vicinity, also a large number of the principal buildings printed around the margin of the engraving, from special drawings.

TURN HIM DOWN.

Pretty maid, if you discover
That your ardent, pleading lover
Spends his time in loafing idly round
The town;
If his hair is carried bangy
On his forehead, and he's slangy,
Don't you hesitate a moment—
turn him down.
If you note his eyebrows fusing
O'er the nose that he is using,
And the very least annoyance makes him frown;
He has got a disposition
That may land you in perdition,
And you'd better nerve yourself and
turn him down.
If he pays no marked attention,
Doesn't even give it mention,
When you meet him in a new and charming gown.
Show him to the door politely;
Tell him that his Sunday nightly
Visits must be discontinued—
turn him down.
If he talks about the races,
Calls the silver dollars "cases,"
Tells you how he "done up" Smith and
Jones and Brown.
If he meets you with a swagger,
And you catch a sniff of lager,
Get your nerve in proper trim and
turn him down.
Study well your pleading lover,
Or you may too late discover
That he'll place more thorns than roses in your crown.
And if anything about him
Gives you slightest cause to doubt him,
Do it in a gentle way, but
turn him down.
