Interesting Career of the Republican Nominee For State Treasurer, Who Will Be Elected By An Overwhelming Majority.

J. LEE PLUMMER, Republican Nominee for State Treasurer.

From reports received from every county in the state, Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, chairman of the Republican state committee, confidently predicts the election of J. Lee Plummer, Republican nominee for state treasurer, by over 100,000 majority, and he says he would not be surprised to see the figures reach nearer 200,000.
Mr. Plummer has made a splendid candidate, and it is predicted by many that he will lead his ticket when the returns shall be finally computed.
Plummer's Interesting Career.
Mr. Plummer was born at Upper Tyrone Forge, Snyder township, Blair county, Pennsylvania, September 20, 1859. His grandfather and father were foremen and worked in the forge at that place. His father, James S. Plummer, was a member of the Tyrone Artillery Company of the state militia, and at the fall encampment, held at Hollidaysburg, in September, 1858, had the major portion of both hands blown off by the premature discharge of his cannon.
A few years later he was appointed postmaster of Tyrone, and moved there with his family. Lee attended the public school and assisted in the support of the family by selling newspapers morning and evening, and there are some men and women living in Tyrone—not so old, either—who remember very distinctly a bright-eyed urchin whom they were in the habit of addressing as "Lee," and who often persuaded them to buy a morning newspaper in spite of themselves. That was the modest beginning of his efforts after independence.
His former patrons have always remained his friends. Graduating from the Tyrone public schools at the age of 17, in the Centennial year, young Plummer secured a clerkship at the Tyrone scales of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and later was transferred to the transportation department and made passenger brakeman on the Tyrone division.
In 1881 he removed with his parents to Hollidaysburg, the county seat of Blair county, and of that town he has ever since been a resident.
Young Plummer began to take an active interest in politics while yet a mere boy. He is a Republican, and his intense interest attracted the attention of the party workers, with whom he was glad to associate from early youth, and he was actually elected to membership on the county committee before he attained his majority.
Work As a County Chairman.
He was secretary and chairman a number of times. He was county chairman in 1887, when an onslaught was made on Captain William B. Hart, Republican candidate for state treasurer.
At that time the Republican majority in Blair county was not large, the county as often being carried by the Democrats as by the Republicans, and many persons feared the county would cast a majority against Captain Hart.
As a matter of fact, he had a majority of over 1800. This brilliant campaign it was passed finally without a conference.

In this connection Speaker Walton declared it was the first time within his knowledge—certainly the first time for many years—that such a splendid compliment had been paid by the house to the ability and impartiality of the chairman of the appropriations committee.

Free Liquor Barred.
In nothing was the courage and common sense of Chairman Plummer more conspicuously illustrated than in his fearless action in barring all liquors from the committee rooms and from the cars on which the committee made its trips to various institutions coming under its supervision, and seeking the financial assistance of the state. With the private rights or habits of the committeemen there was no thought of interference, but the state purchased no liquor for the appropriations committee last session.
Something tangible was likewise done for the insane.
In connection with Speaker Walton, Mr. Plummer conceived the idea of making appropriations for certain insane hospitals for the purpose of relieving the overcrowded condition of the patients confined therein. Every one of the state institutions of this character was visited, the situation taken in and special appropriations made for Harrisburg, Danville, and Norristown. Harrisburg was given $35,000 for the temporary ward buildings; Danville, $85,000 for five temporary ward buildings, and Norristown, $70,000 for four temporary ward buildings. These temporary buildings are to be of the most comfortable condition that it is possible to make them.
They will be one story in height, wide and roomy, with a window at every cot, with amusement room connected, and with the latest modern sanitary arrangements.

Cared For Insane Poor.
The appropriations for temporary buildings are in addition to the appropriations made to the insane hospitals for permanent improvements looking to the more comfortable treatment of the inmates. For instance, the committee discovered that at Danville Insane Hospital the patients were sleeping on old wooden beds that had been in use for years. This hospital was given $10,000 for the purpose of replacing these old wooden beds with new iron beds, with springs and mattresses.
The insane hospital at Warren was given the sum of $6000 for the same purpose. All the other insane hospitals are furnished with the iron beds, etc.

In addition to the foregoing appropriations to the existing insane hospitals there was an appropriation of $150,000 for a new hospital for the criminal insane; $800,000 for the institution for epileptics located at Spring City, and $900,000 for the new insane hospital at Allentown.

In all this benevolent work the chairman of the committee was the central figure. He believed and declared that the helpless wards of the state are entitled to proper care and humane treatment, and he supported his belief by vigorous action.

Looked After Consumptives.
During the last session of the legislature Mr. Plummer prepared and introduced two bills appropriating $400,- 000 for the establishment of two state camps for the benefit of consumptives.
He had studied the problem of the great white plague for years, and was convinced that the out-door life would save the lives of hundreds of the citizens of the commonwealth if suitable camps were provided for their treatment.

The rich may provide the comforts and environment needed to check the disease in its incipency, but those in moderate circumstances, and the poor, are at its mercy unless the state comes to their rescue. The bills were passed by the legislature, but were vetoed by the governor for reasons which commended themselves to his judgment, and the consumptive who is without personal means must wait awhile.
But Mr. Plummer is not discouraged.
He is persuaded that the fight against consumption should be taken up by the state as a state institution, and that the proposed camps are needed, not only for the rescue of many already within the clutches of the dread disease, but also for the protection of the general public. And he means to push the fight and enlist the sympathy and support of others until the battle has been won.

An Exemplary Citizen.
In his private life Mr. Plummer is an exemplary citizen; gentle and kindly in manner, and modest in his deportment. In his young manhood he became an active member of the Methodist Episcopal church. He is at present secretary and treasurer of the board of trustees of the Hollidaysburg church of that denomination, and has been for the last 10 years.

On April 18, 1882, Mr. Plummer married Mary A. Silkknitter, daughter of Wesley Silkknitter, a farmer, of Huntington county. Their home life is ideal. They have been blessed with two children, a son and a daughter.
The latter has just graduated from the Hollidaysburg high school, and is the former a bright, active boy, in his junior year in the same school.
Resolute in character, fixed in principle, a Republican from conviction, a citizen without guile and without reproach, the Republican nominee for state treasurer is one of the state's most useful sons. He well deserves the honor conferred upon him by the Republican state convention, and will make a careful and vigilant guardian of the state's funds.

THE TWO GLASSES.

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

There sat two glasses filled to the brim,
On a rich man's table, rim to rim,
One was ruddy and red as blood,
And one as clear as the crystal flood.
Said the glass of wine to the paler brother:
"Let us tell the tales of the past to each other;
I can tell of banquet and revel and mirth, And the proudest and grandest souls on earth Fell under my touch as though struck by blight,
Where I was king, for I ruled in might;
From the heads of kings I have torn the crown,
From the heights of fame I have hurled men down;
I have blasted many an honored name;
I have taken virtue and given shame;
I have tempted the youth with a sip, a taste That has made his future a barren waste."
"Greater, far greater than king am I, Or any army beneath the sky.
I have made the arm of the driver fall,
And sent the train from the iron rail;
I have made good ships go down at sea, And the shrieks of the lost were sweet to me.
For they said, 'Behold how great you be!
Fame, strength, wealth, genius before you fall.
For your might and power are over all,'
"Ho! Ho! pale brother," laughed the wine, "Can you boast of deeds as great as mine?"
Said the water glass: "I cannot boast Of a king dethroned or a murdered host:
But I can tell of a heart once sad, By my crystal drops made light and glad;
Of thirsts I've quenched, of brows I've laved, Of hands I have cooled, and souls I have saved;
I have leaped through the valley, dashed down the mountain, Flowed in the river and played in the fountain, Slept in the sunshine and dropped from the sky,
And everywhere gladdened the landscape and eye.
I have eased the hot forehead of fever and pain;
I have made the parched meadows grow fertile with grain;
I can tell of the powerful wheel of the mill, That ground out the flour and turned at my will.
I can tell of manhood debased by you,
That I have lifted and crowned anew.
I cheer, I help, I strengthen and aid;
I gladden the heart of man and maid;
I set the chained wine-captive free;
And all are better for knowing me!"
These are the tales they told each other,
The glass of wine and the paler brother, As they sat together filled to the brim,
On the rich man's table, rim to rim.

Autumn Arbor Day.
Friday, October 20, is named as this fall's Arbor Day in an official message issued under recent date from the department of Public Instruction. Dr.
Schaeffer heads his proclamation by quoting Henry Abbey's poem, "Autumn Arbor Day." The proclamation proceeds:
"Since the establishment of Arbor Day, more than thirty years ago, millions of trees have been planted within the borders of our land, and thousands of acres have been set apart for the purpose of forestry. The observance of Arbor day has extended not merely to every state in the Union, but to France, Japan and other countries beyond the sea."
"Since many schools are not in session during the April Arbor days, and since trees can be planted in the fall as well as in the spring of the year, it has become customary in Pennsylvania for the schools to observe an autumn Arbor Day. For this purpose Friday, Oct. 20, 1905, is named as a suitable day for the current year, and the schools are urged to observe the day by the planting of trees and by other exercises designed to stimulate an interest in the science and art of forestry."

A SPLENDID IDEA.
A new idea in a Cough Syrup is advanced in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. Besides containing Pine Tar, Honey and other valuable remedies, it is rendered Laxative, so that its use insures a prompt and efficient evacuation of the bowels. It relaxes the nervous system, and cures all coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. A red clover blossom and the honey bee is on every bottle of the Original Laxative Cough Syrup—Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. An ideal remedy for children. Mothers praise it. It is best for all. Sold by E. H. Miller. 11-1

The Golden Rule.
"And now, my son," said the sturdy old captain of industry, "there's just one more bit of advice I want to give you before you start out on your own hook. We hear, every little while, of somebody who claims to be living in accordance with the golden rule. It's a good thing to do. I myself am doing it, and I cordially recommend it to you as a safe thing to keep in mind."
"Thank you, father," the young man replied, "but I—to tell the truth—what is the golden rule, anyway? I've forgotten it."
"You don't know the golden rule?" Thomas, I'm surprised at you—surprised and pained. Now listen and try to always remember it: 'Do unto others as you know they are going to do unto you if they get a chance!'"
