For Thin, Poor Blood

You can trust a medicine tested 60 years! Sixty years of experience, think of that! Experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; the original Sarsaparilla; the strongest Sarsaparilla; the Sarsaparilla the doctors endorse for thin blood, weak nerves, general debility.

But even this grand old medicine cannot do its best work if the liver is inactive and the bowels constipated. For the best possible results, you should take laxative doses of Ayer's Pills while taking the Sarsaparilla. The liver will quickly respond, and so will the bowels.

Made by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The editor went to Philadelphia last Friday, where he remained until 11:00 p. m., Sunday, then returned home via the Pennsylvania railroad, the same route he took in going to the Quaker City.

An Iowa doctor committed suicide because he had no patients. In other words, the instinct was so strong that, having no one else to operate upon, he decided to tackle himself, says an exchange.

"John D.'s Income; Can You Grasp it?" asks a Pittsburg Leader headline. The Here and There Man admits that if he could, the question of it's being tainted wouldn't make it look bad.—Johnston Tribune.

Josiah Heminger, a well known resident of Somerset township, died in Lancaster, Pa., last Friday, aged 78 years. Deceased went to Lancaster on a visit, about six weeks ago, and about three weeks ago was stricken by typhoid fever, which proved fatal.

John W. Coleman, who for a number of years has been suffering with paralysis, received another stroke about a week ago, since which time he is unable to speak. Mrs. Dr. Lichty, who was similarly stricken some weeks ago, is, we are glad to say, recovering.

Mrs. Milton Beachley, one of Meyersdale's most estimable women, died yesterday, of cancer of the stomach. She suffered long and intensely with the dreadful malady, but bore her afflictions bravely and patiently. She is survived by her husband and two sons.

A negro was complaining recently because his wife asked him for money. "She wants a dollar, fifty cents, a quarter or a dime every day, he said. "What does she do with the money?" he was asked. "Doan know," was the negro's reply. "Ah ain't nebbber give huh none yit."

It is reported that Rev. Beall, of Hyndman, is teaching school in place of Mr. Kinton, whom he shot, and crippled for a pheasant while out hunting. Rev. Beall ought to be an expert at teaching the young idea how to shoot. He has had experience, you know.—Cumberland Courier.

Backache is never known to those persons who take an occasional dose of Pineules. The value of the resin obtained from the Pine tree has long been recognized in the treatment of diseases of the bladder and kidneys. One dose of Pineules will give relief, and one bottle will cure. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 12-1

Mrs. F. O. Livengood, of Somerset, was a welcome visitor at the editorial mansion, last Saturday. She came over to the old home farm at Boynton to help supervise the annual slaughtering of the fat porkers, and, of course, the editor and family were treated to a liberal quantity of sausage and spare-ribs, which were very delicious. Many thanks.

Theodore Cover, of Conemaugh township, has been exhibiting to Johnstown friends a big bundle of fragrant apple blossoms which he had just plucked from a tree in his orchard. Mr. Cover picked the apple crop from this tree about three weeks ago, and immediately it started in to bring forth a new lot of blossoms, just as though the good old summer time was immediately ahead.

It is difficult to cure a cough or free yourself from the discomforts of a cold unless you move the bowels. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar acts on the bowels and drives all cold out of the system. For Croup, Whooping-Cough, Colds, and all Lung and Bronchial affections, no remedy is equal to the original Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. A Liquid Cold Cure. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 12-1

P. M. Wahl and family were visited last Sunday by two of Mrs. Wahl's sisters, one a resident of Berlin, the other of Pittsburg. The visit, however, was anything but a pleasant one, owing to the death of Mr. and Mrs. Wahl's infant son, which occurred on Sunday evening. The child was aged about one year and died of membranous croup. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. E. S. Johnston, D. D., officiating.

Charles, the second son of Silas A. Wagner, and John, a young son of Wm. Wagner, Sr., are two typhoid fever patients that we forgot to mention last week. They are the two latest victims of the disease reported to THE STAR. It is high time for our health authorities to get a chemist or state official here to try to locate the cause of all the typhoid fever in this locality. It is a shame and a crime that no effort has yet been made to discover the cause of the epidemic.

D. I. Hay, the genial proprietor of Hay's hotel, has recently overhauled his hotel office and made of it a very attractive place. Mr. Hay has decided that the professional hotel office loafer must go, and such fellows will no longer be permitted to squirt tobacco juice where they please about his house and almost crowd guests out of the place. We see where "Dice" is right, and we wish him success in the new and creditable order of things. He has been imposed upon long enough.

Last Friday Constable M. D. Thomas took Harry Byroads to the County Home, where he should have been taken long ago. The poor fellow is badly crippled and demented, as the result of an accident in childhood, and as he was constantly being teased by men and boys who should have used better sense, Harry became a public nuisance, and when enraged was actually dangerous. The poor fellow will have a much better time of it at the County Home than away from it.

Croup is quickly relieved, and Whooping Cough will not "run its course" if you use the original Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. This Cough Syrup is different from all others because it acts on the bowels. You can not cure Croup and Whooping Cough until you rid the system of all congestion, by working off the cold through a copious action of the bowels. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar does this, and cures all Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. No opiates. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 12-1

J. C. Balliet was in Cumberland, Md., last Saturday, where he had a pleasant visit with the Billmeyer brothers, who have a host of friends in and about Salisbury. When he returned he left on the editor's desk a very convenient souvenir issued by the Billmeyer Lumber Company. It is a convenient wallet in which to carry important papers, money, etc., but editors use it to carry the "duns" in that they are constantly receiving. And it would be just as well to carry some of the "duns" in it that they send to their subscribers and never get enough returns on to pay postage.

Our old friend Alfred Wagner was over at Bedford, last week, to appear before the Pension Examining Board. While there he greatly enjoyed a visit with Dr. and Mrs. Americus Enfield, who were both born and reared in this vicinity. Mr. Wagner says he was delighted to find the genial doctor's mother still living, and he had the pleasure of being there on the 8th inst., which was the 90th anniversary of her birth. At the great age of 90 years, Grandma Enfield is still very active in mind and body, says Mr. Wagner, and she does not seem any older than many people do at the age of 70 years.

Charles H. Fisher, the prominent book dealer and stationer, had a narrow escape from accidental death, Saturday afternoon. He was attending a special meeting of Town Council in the Municipal building, and was tilting back in a chair when a bullet suddenly crashed through the wall dividing the room from another one in the rear. The missile splintered a rung in the back of the chair and passed within an inch of Mr. Fisher's body. It was all over so quickly that none of those present realized the danger. It seems a young son of Police Officer Joy was carelessly handling a 38-caliber revolver when it accidentally exploded.—Somerset Herald.

In glancing over the election returns of Thayer county, Neb., we note that David Kelso, a former Elk Lick boy who was the Republican candidate for Treasurer of Thayer county, was defeated in the county and also in his home precinct. His home paper, the Carleton Leader, waged a vigorous fight against David, charging him with using unfair means in gaining his party's nomination, and urging voters to defeat him at the general election. As to the charges, we know nothing here, but as only one other Republican in that county was defeated at the last election, it would seem that a good many Republicans agreed with the Leader that Mr. Kelso did not deserve election. We are sorry for David, but hereafter he should be good, and not arouse the temper of his home party.

Last Saturday night a number of young men got on the outside of too much booze, and, as is usually the case under such circumstances, profanity, foul talk and fighting ensued. Several arrests were made, one fellow was knocked down by the policeman's mace, and some of the disturbers were locked up and fined. Other arrests will follow, and at least one of the disturbers had to give bond for his appearance at court, Officer Thomas having sued him for resisting an officer. While we regret to see some of our young men constantly getting into trouble, yet they have only themselves to blame. One thing is sure, any man who behaves himself as a good citizen should behave, never has any trouble with the officers of the law; and whenever you hear a fellow whining about an officer "having it in for him," or taking up for other fellows that the officers have been having trouble with, there is always something wrong with such a fellow. "We didn't do nothing," is an old cry with fellows that are always having trouble with the officers of the law, but it is a cry that deceives no one. People know better.
