Crude Thoughts As They Fall From the Editorial Pen:—Pleasant Evening Reveries.

Home Circle Department.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers (As They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

There is no occupation so fascinating to the foolish-minded as thinking that the world is against them. The busy world doesn't even know they exist.

Form a habit of throwing off, before going to bed at night, all the cares and anxieties of the day—everything which can possibly cause mental wear and tear or deprive you of rest.

The only thing that walks back from the tomb with the mourners and refuses to be buried is character. That is true. What a man is, survives him. It never can be buried. It stays about the house when his footsteps are heard there no more. It lives in the community where he was known; hence, we should take care to build into our characters only beautiful things.

FRIENDS.

A friend in the house is a blessing. We all need friends. Happiness and growth depend upon the stimulus of congenial companionship. Heart and mind and body work well enough in solitude for a time, but soon the demand for companionship becomes imperative, and without it the best part of our nature dies. Life becomes a mere existence, hardly worth the living. "We loose our days, and are barren of thought for want of some person to talk to." Thought crystallizes in speech. The mental effort necessary to communicate our ideas to others stimulates the brain to renewed activity, and so the mind is brightened by conversation with a friend. The wise man has said: "The ornament of a house is the friends who frequent it. There's no event greater in life than the appearance of new persons about our hearth, except it be the progress of the character which draws them.

MISTAKES OF WOMEN.

One of the mistakes of women is not knowing how to eat. If a man is not to be fed, she thinks a cup of tea and anything handy is good enough. If she needs to save money, she does it at the butcher's cost. If she is busy, she will not waste time in eating. If she is unhappy, she goes without food. A man eats if the sheriff is at the door, if his work drives, if the undertaker interrupts; and he is right. A woman will choose ice cream instead of beefsteak, and a man will not.

Another of her mistakes is in not knowing when to rest. If she is tired, she may sit down, but she will darn stockings, crochet shawls, embroider doilies. Does she not know that such work tires? If she is exhausted, she will write letters or figure her accounts. She will laugh at you if you hinted that reading or writing could fail to rest her. All over the country women's hospitals flourish because women do not know how to rest.

Another mistake on the list is their constant worrying. Worry and hurry are their enemies, and yet they hug them to their bosoms. Women cross bridges before they come to them, and even build bridges to cross. They imagine misfortune and run out to meet it.

Women are not jolly enough. They make too serious business of life, and laugh at its humors too seldom. Men can stop in the midst of perplexities and have a hearty laugh, and it keeps them young. Women cannot, and that is one reason why they fade so early. There are other reasons, but we will pass them now. Worry not only wrinkles the face, but it wrinkles and withers the mind. Have a hearty laugh once in a while; it is a good antiseptic and will purify the mental atmosphere, drive away evil imaginings, bad temper and other ills.

Reforestation Land Spoiled for Farming Purposes.

The Secretary of Agriculture has ordered S. N. Spring, of the forestry service, to go to Scottsdale, Pa., to prepare a forest planting plan for lands of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, which recently applied to the service for co-operation in planting trees on lands over coal mines, the value of which for agriculture is so slight that their improvement by a crop of trees is sought as a means of revenue.

Mr. Spring was in the coke region several weeks during the past summer. He went over this territory, and his report to the Secretary of Agriculture has resulted in the order given above. The Frick company a year ago conceived the idea of preparing the many thousand acres of surface they own in Fayette and Westmoreland counties for agricultural and timber profit many years hence, when the coal is all exhausted from beneath it and the coke ovens have been abandoned.

Uncle Ezra on the New Shows.

"I'd like to see an oldtime show," sez Uncle Ezra Fox, "fer they hev got these new ones skinned at least a dozen blocks. There's nothin' that a man ull say, ner nothin' that he does ull make me b'lieve that shows air good ez old-time op'rys wus. The Tom show now'days ain't sincere—I'm tellin' you the facts—fer Little Eva dies an' then she dances 'tween the acts. An' Uncle Tom, who's all beat up by Simon in the show, comes out an' sings 'Dem Goo Goo Eyes' ez 'Josephine, My Jo.' Now, it ain't right, you know it ain't, to make man's tears come thick an' then to make him strain his neck to see some woman kick. Its wrong, I tell you, mighty wrong a man's heart strings to strike an' then to git him stomp'n' time to coon songs an' the like. I wish they'd come around," sez Iz. "an' op'ry of the time when shows wuz played in earnest fer I'd shorely blow a dime an' go an' see it, fellers, an' if you all went along, there ain't a one of you ull say yer Uncle Ez is wrong."—Paw Paw (Me) Bazoo.

County Teachers' Institute.

THE STAR is under obligations to County Superintendent Seibert for a copy of the program for the coming County Teachers' Institute, which will convene in the Somerset opera house, Nov. 27th, and close on Dec. 1st.

The program is a most interesting one, and a very large attendance is expected. The instructors will be State Supt. N. C. Schaeffer, Dr. W. N. Ferris, of Big Rapids, Mich., Mrs. Mary G. Noss, of California, Pa., and Dr. Frank S. Fox, of Columbus, Ohio.

The musicians hired for the occasion are Prof. O. H. Yetter, director, of Bloomsburg, Pa., Miss Edna White, cornetist, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Prof. W. J. Rickaby, pianist, of Somerset, Pa. The evening entertainments will consist of Rev. Sam P. Jones, Hamlin Garland, Lou J. Beauchamp, lecturers, and Roney's Boys Concert Company. County Superintendent Seibert makes the following ANNOUNCEMENT.

We take pleasure in announcing the forty-ninth annual session of the Somerset County Teachers' Institute, which will be held in the Opera House at Somerset, November 27th, to December 1st, 1905.

The purpose of the institute is to help the teacher. We, however, extend a cordial invitation to all friends of popular education to be present at this meeting. It is inspiring to have so many earnest and enthusiastic attendants at our County Institute.

We are convinced that the great majority of those who attend try to receive and use, rather than criticize, the work done at these annual conventions. This work, in which we all have a common interest, is one of the most serious and important avocations that can be undertaken. The discussions which we hear from the platform stimulate our interest, teach us new methods and acquaint us with the most advanced educational ideas.

We have a program which promises interest, inspiration and enlightenment.

We believe that no teacher is willing to show his lack of devotion to the cause of education by absenting himself from the sessions of the Institute. The teacher who would succeed must be earnest enough to give his own best efforts and thought to the deliberations of the possibilities for good in the schools.
D. W. SEIBERT,
County Superintendent.
