Attack on Bridgrooms.
 The bridegroom is generally the most depressing feature of the modern wedding. If he is well off he is either bald, with a decided tendency to adipose tissue, or else of a pale sandy type, with equally pale eyes and a retreating chin. In ordinary life he wears spectacles, which at the request of the bride he discards at his wedding, with the result that he stumbles over the last step leading from the chancel to the altar rails, and is saved only from falling flat on his face by desperately clutching at the bride's bouquet.—Ladies Field.

BOY'S TERRIBLE ECZEMA
 Mouth and Eyes Covered With Crusts—Hands Pained—Eyes—Miraculous Cure by Cuticura.
 "When my little boy was six months old he had eczema. The sores extended so quickly over the whole body that we at once called in the doctor. We went then to another doctor, but he could not help him, and in our despair we went to a third one. Matters became so bad that he had regular holes in his cheeks, large enough to put a finger into. The food had to be given with a spoon, for his mouth was covered with crusts as thick as a finger, and whenever he opened the mouth they began to bleed and suppurate, as did also his eyes. Hands, arms, chest and back, in short, the whole body, was covered over and over. We had no rest by day or night. Whenever he was laid in his bed we had to pin his hands down, otherwise he would scratch his face, and make an open sore. I think his face must have itched most fearfully.
 "We finally thought nothing could help, and I had made up my mind to send my wife with me to Europe, hoping that the sea air might cure him, otherwise he was to be put under medical care there. But, Lord be blessed, matters came differently, and we soon saw a miracle. A friend of ours spoke about Cuticura. We made a trial with Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent, and within ten days or two weeks we noticed a decided improvement. Just as quickly as the sickness had appeared it also began to disappear, and within two weeks the child was absolutely well, and his skin was smooth and white as never before. F. Hohrath, President of the C. L. Hohrath Company, Manufacturers of Silk Ribbons, 4 to 20 Rink Alley, South Bethlehem, Pa. June 4, 1905."

Shifting Mountains.
 In spectacular geology the Yavapai volcano in Samoa seems to have a place by itself. The crater is seven miles inland, and it forms lava mountains that are slowly carried great distances by the molten sea beneath, as many as five or six of these shifting mountain chains seeming to be now in existence. The mountains may have a length of four or five miles, with a width of a quarter of a mile in places, and a height of 200 feet.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?
 Cure the Kidneys and the Pain Will Never Return.
 Only one way to cure an aching back. Cure the kidneys. Thousands tell of cures made by Doan's Kidney Pills. John C. Coleman, a prominent merchant of Sylvania, Ohio, says: "For several years my kidneys were affected, and my back ached day and night. I was languid, nervous and miserable in the morning. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me right away, and the great relief that followed has been permanent." Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Monkey With Spectacles.
 In the Breslau zoological gardens there is a splendid monkey which was operated upon for cataract, and now wears glasses. For more than a year after it was received at the zoo it was very healthy and lively, then it became very quiet, ceased to play and crouched in a corner. It was examined and found to be suffering from cataract, so was immediately taken to the eye hospital and operated upon. In less than a month it was fitted with a pair of spectacles, which it wears with becoming gravity.—London Tit-Bits.

The United States Senate.
 The Washington Post says: "The Senate was created to protect the small states against the overwhelming power of a single legislative body, based on population; to serve as a buffer against popular clamor, and thus to endorse our form of government with great conservatism. To make assurance doubly sure, the fathers placed the equality of states in the Senate beyond the reach of any amendatory process: guaranteed that extremely anti-democratic provision a longevity coextensive with the life of the Union. During the 116 years of the existence of the 'more perfect Union,' the Senate has met the expectations and realized the hopes of the fathers with a fullness and completeness unexcelled by any other feature of our governmental plan."

Smallest City in World.
 The smallest city in population east of the Mississippi river. The smallest city in area, probably in the world. The oldest city but one in New England. Such is Vergennes, Vermont, a little gem of a municipality, embowered by masses of emerald and encircled by silvered streams, possessing points of peculiar prominence which entitle it to distinction. Selected by Ethan Allen as the best located and most advantageous site for the metropolis of the Green Mountain state, today it proudly tells of its manifold natural advantages, discusses its beauty and healthfulness, dilates on the value of a water power and navigation that practically the same point, declares what it is going to do, and then turns over and goes to sleep again to dream of what might have been.—New York Globe.

Chair Made White Growing.
 Oriental gardeners are adepts at their work, the most striking production of one of their number being a natural arm chair, in which the required shape was attained during the growth of a vine. Almost from its first appearance the vine had been carefully treated in anticipation of the use to which it was to be put. By the time it attained full growth it was formed into a rustic arm chair. All of the joints were made by grafting, so that the chair is practically in one solid piece, and after it had attained a growth of some three feet it was cut and thoroughly dried, and finally polished, the wood taking a finish not unlike mahogany.—Chicago Journal.

Labouchere Covets Stays.
 I have often thought of getting a pair myself—not for the sake of appearances, but in order to enable me dispense with an overcoat, and possibly other garments. If you have them lined with flannel I do not know that you need wear anything else, except, of course, for decency and ornament. I believe the only place where a man (or woman) really wants clothing is the small of the back—the place where you put a horse cloth when your animal is standing in the rain. With a few thicknesses of stuff round that part of your anatomy you can defy anything but property and convention. Fortified by stays, some women even manage to defy them.—London Truth.

Banker Cutting Wood
 Many men mistake their proper vocation in life. A former Nebraska banker who got away with $100,000 of the bank's funds is now, pending trial, chopping wood at $1.75 per day and his employer says he is "the best ever" at that sort of work. It is a pity he ever exchanged that occupation, at which he was evidently brought up, for that of handling other people's money.

Cataract Cannot Be Cured
 With LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Cataract is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surface. Must Give Us Pause.
 A million immigrants in a year is quite a rush of humanity to America, and the matter furnishes a theme for political economists and others to consider. The immigrants, instead of seeking employment and homes in sparsely settled districts of the country, remain in the over-crowded sections. What can be done about it?—Bradford Era.

BOX OF WAFERS FREE—NO DRUGS—CURES BY ABSORPTION.
 Cures Belching of Gas—Bad Breath and Bad Stomach—Short Breath—Bloating—Sour Eructations—Irregular Bowels, Etc.
 Take a Mull's Wafer any time of the day or night, and note the immediate good effect on your stomach. It absorbs the gas, disinfects the stomach, kills the poison germs and cures the disease. Catarrh of the head and throat, unwholesome food and overeating make bad stomachs. Scarcely any stomach is entirely free from taint of some kind. Mull's Anti-Belch Wafers will make your stomach healthy by absorbing foul gases which arise from the undigested food, and by reinforcing the lining of the stomach, enabling it to thoroughly mix the food with the gastric juices. This cures stomach trouble, promotes digestion, sweetens the breath, stops belching and fermentation. Heart action becomes strong and regular through this process. Discard drugs, as you know from experience they do not cure stomach trouble. Try a common-sense (Nature's) method that does cure. A soothing, healing sensation results instantly. We know Mull's Anti-Belch Wafers will do this, and we want you to know it. SPECIAL OFFER—The regular price of Mull's Anti-Belch Wafers is 50c. a box, but to introduce it to thousands of sufferers we will send two (2) boxes upon receipt of 75c, and this advertisement, or we will send you a free sample for this coupon.

FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW

DUN'S WEEKLY SUMMARY

Most Mills Have Resumed Operations and Have Orders Booked for Months in Advance.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says: Erratic weather and the customary difficulties encountered in resuming normal conditions after a lengthy holiday have restricted operations during the past week, especially in retail and jobbing departments.
 Annual settlements are promptly made and inventories show the favorable results anticipated. In some parts of the country it is impossible to fill orders for lumber and building materials, open weather making structural work an unusual feature for the season.
 Manufacturing plants are resuming advance orders assuring activity for some months in most cases and in many divisions of the iron and steel industry, idleness in 1906 can only be produced by extensive cancellation. Thus far the railways have had little adverse weather with which to contend, earnings in December rising 6.4 per cent, above last year's, and reports of foreign commerce are even more strikingly favorable. At New York alone for the last week imports exceeded those of a year previous by $3,137,254 or about 50 per cent, while exports gained $2,005,771. Textile industries continue in a strong position as to the amount of business in sight. The export situation shows no improvement, but the majority of lines are sold so far ahead that producers are complacent regarding the future. Commercial failures for the week in the United States are 253, against 221 last year, 226 the preceding week and 290 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 32, against 27 last week, 33 the preceding week, and 25 last year.

Farming at Night.
 An interesting trial made in England on a farm near Biggleswade shows that fields can be illuminated by acetylene gas that harvesting may be easily carried on at night. In this test two mowers, each cutting a six-foot swath, were employed and a field of 15 acres was mowed in three hours and thirty-five minutes. A gasoline traction engine furnished the power.

The Plummer Coal and Coke company has awarded to John L. Darby, of Fairchance, the contract for 100 new coke ovens at Leekmore, also a large number of new dwellings for the workmen. Work will start at once. Suit has been entered against Washington county by R. H. McClary of Canton township, who asks $33 damages for the alleged destruction of an old wooden water tower.

Former County Auditor James A. McGowan was appointed mercantile appraiser of Butler county for the coming year.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused It to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

Yours for Health,

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1874 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising for whoever used it, and by the time the medicine was recommended to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham's her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward many years ago but still she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to secure a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equalled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With womanly assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.
