Diminutive Bird of Prey.

There is a strange little bird, about as big as a robin, which nearly every winter brings us. He is generally alone, like a tiny black and gray hawk in many of his ways, but related truly to the gentle vireos and waxwings. He is the northern shrike, or butcher bird, and he gets a cruel living by catching mice, and little birds, which he hangs on locust thorns, sharp twigs, or the points of a wire fence, as his little feet, unlike the hawk's are not strong enough to hold his prey. But he is a handsome fellow, and rarely one may hear a very sweet little song as he sits on the top of some leafless bush, particularly late in the winter. But generally he is silent, like the true bird of prey or at best gives only a rasping squeal.—St. Nicholas.

American Way the Best.

An English speaker, at a meeting of the Friends' Educational association in Philadelphia, gives us a bit of needed encouragement. This observer, Professor John Lester, says that the manners of boys in the United States are better than those of English lad. He says that the influence of our mothers and women teachers in the schools is responsible for this. This point of view he places picturesquely by declaring that "American boys learn their first lessons of morality at their mothers' knee. English boys generally learn theirs across their fathers."—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

UNCONSCIOUS POISONING.

How It Often Happens From Coffee.

"I had no idea," writes a Duluth man, "that it was the coffee I had been drinking all my life that was responsible for the headaches which were growing upon me, for the dyspepsia that no medicines would relieve, and for the acute nervousness which unfitted me not only for work but also for the most ordinary social functions.

"But at last the truth dawned upon me, forthwith bade the harmful beverage a prompt farewell, ordered in some Postum and began to use it. The good effects of the new food drink were apparent within a very few days. My headaches grew less frequent, and decreased in violence, my stomach grew strong and able to digest my food without distress of any kind, my nervousness was gone and I am able to enjoy life with my neighbors and sleep soundly o'nights. My physical strength and nerve power have increased so much that I can do double the work I used to do and I feel no undue fatigue afterwards.

"This improvement set in just as soon as the old coffee poison had so worked out of my system as to allow the food elements in the Postum to get a hold to build me up again. I cheerfully testify that it was Postum and Postum alone that did all this, for when I began to drink it I 'threw physic to the dogs.'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW

OUTLOOK IS PROMISING

Payments Being Promptly Met, Mills Busy and Car Supply Better—Higher Prices for Steel.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says: Seasonable weather more than offset the effect on business conditions of increased strife between labor and capital. Low temperature and snow brought out the backward demand for heavy-weight wearing apparel and rubber goods, restoring the one lagging trade factor, and the other departments of jobbing and manufacturing continued vigorously engaged in preparing for the future, except where a few strikes produced hesitation. This far these struggles have not affected any large percentage of the wage earners, while in other industries the higher scales effective January 1 have added to the purchasing power of many thousand workers.

Railway blockades cause complaint in several important centers, yet earnings for December were 8.2 per cent. larger than in 1904. Foreign commerce returns at New York for the last week showed an increase of $3,233,053 over the exports a year ago, while imports decreased $979,447, a trifling loss after the sensational gain of the previous week. Annual reports are surpassing expectations in most cases and settlements are made with desirable promptness.

Several advances in quotations of steel shapes testify to the pressure that is felt in some divisions of the iron and steel industry, and it is especially gratifying to note that there is no evidence of speculative influence in the gains of one or two dollars per ton for sheets, plates and wire products. Inquiries in these departments have merely surpassed the supply available for prompt delivery. Conditions show distinct improvement in the textile industries business, increasing as stock-taking is concluded, although buyers are still somewhat scarce in the primary markets for cottons. The raw material situation is considered a supporting influence.

Failures numbered 309 in the United States, against 324 last year and 51 in Canada, compared with 28 a year ago.

Cost of Colonies.

Colonial empires are fashionable; but those nations that caught the fever late have found that the fashion is expensive. Even the British taxpayer grumbles at the expense of the colonial establishment, and calls loudly upon the colonists to bear their share of the expenses of the empire. But the British were lucky enough to acquire some of the best quarters of the globe, and their colonial establishment is exceptionally well organized. Some of the newer builders of colonial empire are not so fortunate in the showing made by the balance sheet. This fact is brought to mind by some figures in reference to the war in Southwest Africa. Thus far the German loss is 1,842 lives, including civilians. Perhaps $50,000,000 has been spent upon the war. And it is said that the territory in dispute with rebellious nattives will not support more than 5,000 white families. Bismarck once said that the Eastern question was not worth the bones of one Pomeranian grenadier. What would he think of the cost of the African colonial empire?—Buffalo Express.

Gold Hunters Rattled.

That it is a good deal of a strain on the nerves to discover gold is shown by the story of an Australian official, who wished to telegraph the news of the finding of the precious metal in his district. A small boy, seeking for a stone to throw at a crow, had picked up what proved to be a nugget of pure gold. In his excitement the official overlooked the main point entirely and wrote this: "Boy picked up a stone to throw at a crow," and nothing more.

The Perils of Table Salt.

Apropos of the recent death of Charles T. Yerkes of Bright's disease, Dr. Samuel G. Tracy sounds a warning of the danger attending the excessive use of common table salt. Dr. Tracy says that the reason a person who has nephritis should use but little common salt is because the excessive use of it produces dropsy and retards the activity of the sweat glands by increasing the osmotic pressure of the blood. It has been demonstrated by well-known physiologists. Dr. Tracy says, that only small amounts of sodium chloride (common salt) are essential for the well-being of man. Refraining from a too strenuous life and the avoidance of excesses, particularly in diet, alcholic drinks and common salt, will do much. the physician continued, toward the prevention of diseases of the kidney. Recent reports from the New York board of health show that the mortality from kidney disease is greatly on the increase.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Telephoning in Paris.

The telephone service of Paris leaves considerable to be desired, and meets with constant complaint on the part of the subscribers. One of the latter endeavored to test the speed of the various means of communication of the city, sending messages in different ways from his rooms in the Rue Richelieu, in the center of the city, to a friend on the Avenue de la Grande Armee near the Bois de Boulogne. He found that a bicycle messenger made the trip in 11 minutes and 15 seconds, as compared with 23 minutes for a cab. A message sent via the metropolitan railway required 31 minutes, by omnibus 34 minutes, a telegram 35 minutes, a message by the pneumatic tube 3 hours, while the message sent by telephone did not arrive at all.—Harper's Weekly.

Our Petroleum Exports.

For years the United States has produced more oil than it could consume, and the surplus has had to find a market abroad. This has made petroleum one of our most important exports and prior to 1905, it constituted the largest single item in the statement of the exports of manufactures. In that year, copper, for the first time, exceeded petroleum in the value of our exports. The total value of all classes of iron and steel manufactures exported is greater by far than the total of our petroleum shipments, but no single item under the head of iron and steel manufacturers is as large as the item of illuminating oil exported.—Oil City Derrick.

I spent in all about fifty dollars with doctors, but still it got worse. A friend of mine wanted me to try the Cuticura Remedies. As I had tried everything, I was discouraged. Franklin's Last Days.

Two of the last incidents of his (Franklin's) life are lovingly remembered. It was he who introduced the motion in the Constitutional Convention to open their meetings with prayer. His last public act was to indite from his deathbed, as president of the Society for the Abolition of Slavery, a noble and touching appeal "for those unhappy men who, amidst the general joy of surrounding freemen, are groaning in servile subjection," in which the warm heart of the aged philanthropist seems united to the unerring conscience of the glorified saint. It is fitting that this beneficient and symmetrical life should be closed with this large utterance of humanity.—Century.

While in New York she lives in a quiet uptown apartment hotel and keeps only one servant. She is far from rich.

LOST EYESIGHT
Through Coffee Drinking.

Some people question the statements that coffee hurts the delicate nerves of the body. Personal experience with thousands prove the general statement true, and physicians have records of great numbers of cases that add to the testimony.

The following is from the Rockford, Ill., Register-Gazette:

Dr. William Langhorst, of Aurora, has been treating one of the queerest cases of lost eyesight ever in history. The patient is O. A. Leach, of Beach County, and in the last four months he has doctored with all of the specialists about the country, and has at last returned home with the fact impressed on his mind that his case is incurable.

A portion of the optic nerve has been ruined, rendering his sight so limited that he is unable to see anything before him, but he can see plainly anything at the side of him. There have been but few cases of its kind before, and they have been caused by whisky or tobacco. Leach has never used either, but has been a great coffee drinker, and the specialists have decided that the case has been caused by this. Leach stated himself that for several years he had drank three cups of coffee for breakfast, two at noon and one at night. According to the records of the specialists of this country this is the first case ever caused by the use of coffee.

The nerve is ruined beyond aid and his case is incurable. The fact that makes the case a queer one is that the sight forward has been lost and the side sight has been retained. According to the doctor's statement the young man will have to give up coffee or the rest of his sight will follow and the entire nerve be ruined.—Register Gazette.

Let it be remembered that the eyes may be attacked in one case and the stomach in another, while in others it may be kidneys, heart, bowels or general nervous prostration. The remedy is obvious and should be adopted before too late.

Quit coffee if you show incipient disease.

It is easy if one can have well-boiled Postum Food Coffee to serve for the hot morning beverage. The withdrawal of the old kind of coffee that is doing the harm and the supply of the elements in the Postum, which Nature uses to rebuild the broken down nerve cells, insures a quick return to the old joy of strength and health, and it's well worth while to be able again to "do things" and feel well. There's a reason for
