Crude Thoughts As They Fall From the Editorial Pen—Pleasant Evening Reveries.

Home Circle Department.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers As They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

THE OLD-FASHIONED WOMAN.
No clever, brilliant thinker, she, With college record and degree; She has not known the paths of fame; The world has never heard her name; She walks in old, well-trodden ways—The valleys of the yesterdays.

Around her, childish hearts are twined, As with some reverent saint enshrined; And following hers, the childish feet Are led to ideals true and sweet, And find all purity and good In her divinest motherhood.

She keeps her faith unshadowed still, God rules the world in good and ill; Men, in her creed, are brave and true, And women pure as pearls of dew; And life for her is high and grand, By work and glad endeavor spanned.

This sad old earth's a brighter place All for the sunshine of her face; Her very smile a blessing throws, And hearts are happier where she goes. A gentle clear-eyed messenger, To whisper love—thank God for her!

Boys, you have but one mother; care for her and spare her. She is not a beast of burden to drive along the highway of life. There is no love like your mother's love; you may not know it now, but you will some day.

A lady received the following reply from a neighbor in answer to the question why she allowed her children and husband to litter up every room in the house, and the sentiment will find lodgment in the heart of every home-loving person in the land: "The mark of the little muddy feet upon the floor can be easier removed than the stain when those little feet go down into the highways of evil. The prints of the little fingers on the window pane cannot shut out the sunshine half so much as the shadow that darkens the mother's heart over the one who is but a name through the coming years. And if my John finds his home a refuge from care and trouble, and his greatest happiness within its four walls, he can put his boots in the rocking chair, and hang his coat up on the floor every day in the week. And if I can stand it and he enjoys it, I cannot see that it is anybody else's business."

Many a time a cheerful home and happy face does more to make good men and women than all the learning and eloquence that can be used. It has been said that the sweetest words in our language are "Mother, Home and Heaven," and one might almost say the word home includes them all, for who can think of home without remembering the gentle mother who sanctified it by her presence? And is not home the dearest name in heaven? We think of the better land as a home where brightness will never end in night. Oh, then, may our homes on earth be the centers of all our joys; may they be as green spots in the desert, to which we can retire when weary of the cares and perplexities of life, and drink the clear waters of love which we know to be sincere and always unending.

LOVE AT HOME.
Let love at home always stand with her arms over us to help lift the burdens that otherwise would weigh us down. Love lights a lamp that glows on when all might be shrouded in gloom. Love, sweet angel, strengthens the weary and steadies the hand that carries cordial to the sufferer's lips. "Time will softly, sweetly glide, When there's love at home."

Admit and keep love as a member of your household. Never for one moment think that your doing is unimportant, even if much of the wife and mother's time is passed in the kitchen. The noblest and the wisest live by eating, non-poetic and common as it may seem. Think, tired housewife, not of piano-trained fingers as becoming stiff and awkward and flushed from moulding the "staff of life," but consider what the members of your home are accomplishing. Your son is taking high rank in college and your daughter is to go as a missionary, and they derive strength of mind, frame and muscle from "mother's table." Are you not doing something indispensable? Your kitchen efforts help to run all the machinery of life. What would become of home if in discouragement the mother and home girls cease their doings? Out of the well-kept homes come the noblest of the land.

FOR THE BOYS.
Boys, be industrious. The world wants earnest workers. God never intended for any one to be idle. The more work you do the sweeter will be your sleep and brighter and happier your holidays. Take off your coat and make a dust in the world. But we would not repress your buoyant spirits or shut you out from all that is glad and happy in this beautiful world. We would like to pass an ordinance for each neighborhood to have a large playground, where the boys could meet at least once a week, and enjoy a holiday. We would have it just as pleasant as it could be made, shaded by lovely trees, plenty of soft grass to tumble on, and singing birds overhead. This would be so much nicer for our boys than loitering on street corners. We would have the old-fashioned games our grandfathers played, and all modern improvements for developing the muscles. But, listen boys, we would not have any pastime you would blush for your parents or sisters to witness, such as scotch and wiber every high and noble aspiration, degrade the soul and prepare the way for many of the sins that now corrupt society.

Enforcement of Commercial Feeding Stuffs Law.

The Feeding Stuffs Law of Pennsylvania provides for the inspection of concentrated feeding stuffs found in the markets of the State to ascertain whether they are pure and up to the standard of excellence guaranteed by the manufacturers, and the Secretary of Agriculture is charged with the enforcement of this law, which is now operating to the great advantage of consumers.

Periodical visits are made by an agent of the Department into the various sections of the state for the purpose of collecting samples of goods sold for feeding purposes. These samples are forwarded to the chemist of the Feeding Stuffs control Department of Agriculture, at Harrisburg, who carefully analyzes each sample, notices any violations of the law and reports the results to the Secretary of Agriculture. During the past year over 300 samples have been taken and sent to Harrisburg for examination. The chemical work is now going on, and when completed, the results of the analyses, together with such additional information as may be considered necessary, will be published in a bulletin and sent free to all interested parties.

Only one serious adulteration has thus far been reported by the chemist. In October, a firm in Westmoreland county was selling as bran, a mixture of wheat bran and rice hulls. As soon as the chemist made his report, information was made against these dealers, who pleaded guilty and paid the stipulated fine, and the sale of the goods was stopped.

Between forty and fifty prosecutions have been brought within the last month, in ten different counties, of which fourteen cases were against dealers handling a feed manufactured by a company outside of the state. This brand of feed contained from one to four per cent. less protein and about one and five-tenths per cent. less fat than was guaranteed by the manufacturer. The deficiency in protein and fat, the two most important nutrients in feeding stuffs, caused a serious loss to the consumer, varying from five to seven dollars per ton. The company that sold this material to Pennsylvania dealers has very wisely agreed to pay the fine of $50.00 and analysis fee of $5.00 for each dealer, withdraw the inferior article from the market, or either lower the guarantees or improve the quality of this brand of feed. This is an important step in the right direction, and will prove a great benefit to dairymen and others using the feeds manufactured by this firm.

As a result of these prosecutions, about $2000.00 have been and will be collected in fines and analysis fees and covered into the state treasury. To be used in carrying out the provisions of the Feeding Stuffs Law. This fact, however, is of minor importance when compared with the amount of benefit which will accrue to dairymen and other dealers within the state.

Manufacturers or jobbers shipping goods into this state should properly brand and guarantee their articles as required by the Pennsylvania law, for the protection of the dealers of the state who are responsible for the proper branding or tagging of feeds they offer for sale. The Department of Agriculture is anxious to promote the best interests of all parties. It believes in mutual good will and honest cooperation, and will in no way interfere with legitimate trade.

The Department will gladly furnish copies of the law on application.

The Allegheny Township Idea is "O. K."

A Somerset dispatch to the Johnstown Democrat states that a director from Allegheny township, in attendance at court, said: "We are having no trouble whatever with the vaccination law in our township. It is regarded as a dead letter from A to Z. The teachers and the directors both ignore the law, and that is the end of it."

A very good idea, indeed, when a law is not based on common sense and common decency. We have a few hysterical people here in Salisbury who have been nearly tearing their shirts in order to have the vaccination outrage enforced upon the pupils of our public schools, and they have been putting much stress on observance of the law. But they don't say a word about enforcing the fool vaccination law in the Sunday schools. They know better, and they know that such enforcement would put hundreds of Sunday schools throughout Pennsylvania clean out of business. That would arouse the churches into demanding the repeal of the odious law, and that's what the vaccination fakirs are afraid of.

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is the magazine. Why?

FIRST—THE PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a number, for over thirteen hundred two-column pages of reading matter. This amounts in actual bulk to twenty or twenty-five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short story writers, the best writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's Reminiscences of Baker's Railroad articles.

THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next twelve months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and rebates and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is never a line in it that a young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.

McClure's Magazine

in your home is intended to work only for good. Send $1.00 to-day for one year's subscription, or leave an order at your book-store. November and December free with new subscriptions for 1906.

S. S. McCLURE COMPANY, 47 East 34th Street NEW YORK.

You can earn a good income by taking up the business of securing subscribers for McClure's. It is clean and self-respecting—publication any man or woman would like to represent. The pay is 25 cents for each $1.00 subscription, in addition to big cash prizes for the best work. Write to-day for full particulars.

YOU ARE TO BE THE JUDGE!

We will send you, FREE, upon receipt of your request, one of our FAULTLESS SPRUNG WASHING MACHINES for thirty days practical test FREE. If you are not satisfied that it is the best washer made, and at the most reasonable price, return it at our expense.

This is the only washer with the SUCTION and SQUEEZING principle, and does not grind the clothes to pieces, like most of the other methods.

It washes anything from the daintiest fabric to the coarsest clothing, one piece or a whole tub full, with the same ease and satisfaction; it's truly a wonder washer and there's no doubt about it. We'll take all the risk in trying to prove its merits to you. Write to-day for further information.
