An Ever-Present Foe.

Admiral's Words Carry Weight.

Rear-Admiral Hichborn is one of the best known officers of our navy. His statements concerning Peruna will have much weight as they go out in the world. What he says is echoed by many other officers of high standing.

What the Admiral Says.

Philip Hichborn, Rear-Admiral of the U.S. Navy, Washington, D. C., writes:

"After the use of Peruna for a short period, I can now cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy to any one who is in need of an invigorating tonic,"—Philip Hichborn.

She Knew Her Grammar.

The Judge's little daughter, although she had talked several times through the telephone to her father, had never gone through the formalities necessary in calling him up. The first time she tried it she took the receiver off the hook, as she had seen others do, placed her lips to the transmitter and said:

and said:
"Hello! I want to talk to papa."
"Number, please?" said Central.
"Singular," she answered, surprised at the question, but proud that she knew something of the rudiments of grammar.—Youth's Companion.

Archduke Otto, of Austria, has been seriously ill for the last few months. His condition became so aggrevated that the operation of tracheotomy was performed and the Archduke now breathes through a silver tube inserted in the windpipe. The operation was performed when dangerous attacks of suffocation made it imperative.

"I had eczema on my hands for ten years. At first it would, break out only in winter. Then it finally came to stay. I had three good doctors to do all they could, but none of them did any good. I then used one box of Cuticura Cintment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and was completely cured. My hands were raw all over, inside and out, and the eczema was spreading all over my body and limbs. Before I had used one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, together with the Ointment, my sores were nearly healed over, and by the time I had used the third bottle I was entirely well. I had a good appetite and was fleshier than I ever was. To any one who has any skin or blood disease. FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW!

DUN'S WEEKLY SUMMARY

Open Winter Aids Building Opera tions—Steady Demand for Iron and Structural Steel.

and Structural Steel.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says. Trade Feports are more irregular, chiefly because of the vagaries of the weather. At some points results are all that could be desired, the new year starting with much heavier transactions than in 1905, but high temperature and excessive rains in other localities retard retail distribution of winter goods, and it is becoming necessary to reduce stocks by clearance sales. Nothing disturbs the vigorous prepr, arations for spring business, which promises to make a most gratifying exhibit.

promises to make a most gratifying exhibit.

Open weather is facilitating outdoor work, building operations progressing at an unprecedented pace for the season. Permits were issued in 1905 to the value of $$25,186,412, which is 40 per cent. in excess of the preceding year. Official returns of foreign commerce also tell of a new record established last year, the total for December exports alone rishing about $25,000,000 beyond any other month in the Nation's history. To some extent this is attributed to the approaching tariff regulations in Germany. For the last week at New York exports showed an increase of $4,102,683 and imports gained $1,209,057, as compared with the same week last year.

compared with the same week last year.

More advances in wages are announced and an agreement as to coal mining is more probable, but some friction is noted in the building trades. Manufacturing plants made favorable reports, especially those of the leading industry, and another new high record has been established in the security market. Railway earnings thus far reported for January were 7.7 larger than a year ago. Closing of large contracts for pig iron by the leading interest provided an element of strength in the iron and steel industry that improves the tone and makes the outlook for the first quarter most satisfactory.

Activity of Eastern wholesalers in handling samples indicates that original orders for fall shoes will be placed much earlier than in previous seasons.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS

AND - OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never seil false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which artises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company-California Fig Syrup Do--printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constitution and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indegestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemmed, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and princi

Couldn't Stand Ignorance.

In the family of the late Sir Henry Wentworth Acland, professor at Oxford, there was so much talk of natural science, particularly at table, that even the servants theorized about it. In one instance the butler gave notice that either he or the page boy must leave. "What is the trouble?" asked the master. "Aren't you well treated?" "Yes, sir; I've nothing to complain of in that way," replied the butler, "but no one can tell, sir, how trying it is to work all day in the pantry with a boy who believes the pantry with a boy who believes the world was created in periods, when I know it was created in days."—Christian Register.

An Oregon newspaper man in Washington tells a good story about Dr.
Hale. He says he was once traveling in the back country of Oregon, and, going to a little inn for lodging, was surprised to see a large picture of Dr. Hale on the wall. The woman of the house explained it thus: "Well, you see, a good many strangers come here and want me to keep 'em, and I don't know anything about 'em, but if they know Edward Everett Hale's picture I know they're good for something, and I let 'em stay."

A new and vivid sense of the personality of Washington and of the remarkable experiences which made him the man for the hour and for all time will be the reward, it is prophesied, of every reader of this record. Dr. Mitchell imagines Washington sitting down at Mount Vernon in his old age and recording solely for his own eye the story of his "youthful life and the influences that affected it for good or ill." It is claimed that the author has so fully entered into the habit of mind of Washington that it will be impossible for the ordinary reader to separate in the text the passages taken out of Washington's actual writings from those which Dr. Mitchell imagines him to write. to write.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surtaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
