How Many Birthdays?

You must have had sixty at least! What? Only forty? Then it must be your gray hair. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops these frequent birthdays. It gives all the early, deep, rich color to gray hair, and checks falling hair. And it keeps the scalp clean and healthy.

"I was greatly troubled with dandruff which produced a most disagreeable itching of the scalp. I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor and the dandruff soon disappeared. My hair also stopped falling out and now I have a splendid head of hair."—DAVID C. KINNE, Plainfield, Conn.

If your mother's mother was my mother's sister's aunt, what relation would your great-grandfather's uncle's nephew be to my older brother's first cousin's son-in-law? Answer: As your mother's mother is to my elder brother's cousin's son-in-law, so is my mother's sister's aunt to your great-grandfather's uncle's nephew. Divide your mother's mother by my elder brother's first cousin's son-in-law, and multiply my mother's sister's aunt by your great-grandfather's uncle's nephew, and either add or subtract—we forget which—and you will have the answer—in the spring.

In the shade of the old apple tree, I've waited so long, love, for thee, that the voice once I heard, grows faint with each word, till it's barely a whisper to me. There is no more buzz left in the bee, the blossoms are withered, ah, me!—and the tree that once grew where I waited for you, has changed to an old chestnut tree, where you hear the blamed buzz of the bee, with a big carving knife that I swiped from my wife, I am waiting for—by gee! Of daggers I have two or three, and an ax and a cutlass, you see; and I'll stick all these things in the next guy who sings "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree."

It is a sin to suffer with backache and pains over the Kidneys, when a single dose of Pineules will give relief in one night. Suffering women should heed these warnings ere it is too late. Female troubles may result. Pineules will strengthen the Kidneys and bladder, cleanse the blood and relieve the aches and pains of Neuralgia and Rheumatism. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 3-1

As a rule, man dies as he has lived, uninfluenced practically by thought of a future life. I have careful records of about five hundred deathbeds, studies particularly with reference to modes of death and the sensations of dying. Ninety suffered bodily pain and distress of some sort or other, eleven showed mental apprehension, two positive terror, one bitter remorse. The great majority gave no sign one way or the other; like their birth, their death was a sleep and a forgetting. The preacher was right in this matter, man hath no pre-eminence over the beast—as one dieth, so dieth the other.—Dr. Osler's New Book.

Owing to the fact that our local farmers have been asking extortionate prices for potatoes, one of our local merchants had to order a carload of that staple diet from Michigan. If any of our home farmers inspect the Michigan potatoes, they can see how potatoes should be sorted for market. They are all nice, sound potatoes of good size, the kind that dealers like to sell, and the kind that their customers like to buy. We like to see our home farmers prosper and get fair prices, but no dealer should pay them extortionate prices, and for poor produce they should receive only poor prices. We want a square deal all around.

Once upon a time a man married a woman who had inherited $500 from a grandfather. This is all she ever received, but the man never got credit for his efforts the rest of his life. He built a new store. "Did it with his wife's money," the neighbors said. The home was made over and enlarged. "His wife's money did it," was the only comment. The little measly $500 he inherited was given the credit for everything he did during life, and when he died and his widow put up a monument with his life insurance, "Her money paid for that," was said again. But this is what her money really went for: During her engagement she bought herself a $350 piano and a $150 diamond ring, and in a few weeks lost the ring, and there was some regret that she didn't lose the piano.—Ex.

This story has a moral, and, unlike some other stories with a moral, it is true: A young woman of the city had two beaux. One of them was a quiet unassuming fellow, who had a good position in the Cambria Steel Works, was constantly working his way upward, and was saving his money, though not "right." The other was a dashing fellow, who owned a horse and buggy, made quite a splurge, and left a decided impression on the girl's mind. The girl decided to marry the fellow who owned the horse and buggy, and when the mill man found he was getting left and was naturally a little grumpy, she thought often of how she would hold her nose in the air as she and her husband drove past him after marriage. But the fellow she accepted had to sell his horse and buggy the last thing before the wedding in order to get the cash to make a final showing, and both he and his wife have walked ever since.—Johnstown Tribune.

A Pleasant Social Affair.
Last Sunday a very pleasant social affair was participated in at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Beachy, who reside about one-fourth of a mile south of Salisbury. The happy event was in honor of their daughter Carrie and family, who are here from Kansas on a visit. Some of the Mausts, Fikes, Beachys and others were present, a sumptuous dinner was served, and all had an enjoyable time.

John W. Coleman Dead.
John W. Coleman, a well-known citizen of Salisbury, died at an early hour yesterday morning, aged 54 years, 11 months and 16 days. He was stricken with paralysis about ten years ago, while he resided in Nebraska, and as a result was badly crippled from that time forward until relieved by death. He was stricken no less than three or four times by the same disease, each stroke leaving him weaker and more helpless than before.

Samuel A. Beachy Heard From.
Our friend Samuel A. Beachy, who on the 18th inst., went to Bristol, a town lying partly in Virginia and partly in Tennessee, where he is taking treatment for a defective eye, writes to THE STAR under date of the 22nd inst., stating that he had another operation performed, and that his eye is improving.

MAY LIVE 100 YEARS.
The chances for living a full century are excellent in the case of Mrs. Jennie Duncan, of Haynesville, Me., now 70 years old. She writes: "Electric Bitters cured me of Chronic Dyspepsia of 20 years standing, and made me feel as well and strong as a young girl." Electric Bitters cure Stomach and Liver diseases, Blood disorders, General Debility and bodily weakness. Sold on a guarantee at E. H. Miller's drug store. Price only 50c. 2-1

Are Wrongly Informed.
Several of our county exchanges stated last week that the Superior Court had handed down an opinion in the Loechel license case sustaining his bond, which was a Baltimore surety company. This is an error. The Court did not pass upon the disputed question, but under an agreement of counsel, the case was governed by the other Somerset county liquor cases which were decided by the Supreme court.—Somerset Standard.

INDIGESTION OVERCOME.
Indigestion is easily overcome by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, because this remedy digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest—allows it to recuperate and grow strong again. Kodol relieves Indigestion, Belching of Gas, Sour Stomach, Heart-Burn, etc., and enables the digestive organs to transform all foods into the kind of rich red blood that makes health and strength. Sold by E. H. Miller. 2-1

How Times Change.
Nowadays when Johnnie is bad at school, the teacher takes down her book and gives him a black mark. Next day Johnnie is worse than ever. Fifty years ago, when Johnnie was bad at school, the teacher took down a dog-wood sprout, made two dozen marks around his bare legs, and Johnnie never repeated the offense. Fifty years ago Johnnie got up at daylight, started the fires, fed the horses, milked a dozen long-horned cows that gave barely enough milk to go in the coffee, chopped and brought in wood enough to last mother all day, ate breakfast and walked five miles to school. To-day Johnnie does not get up at all, unless he is forced to do so, eats little or no breakfast, goes out behind the barn to smoke a cigarette, and if the school house is over three blocks away, grunts about the distance he has to walk. The Johnnie of fifty years ago is a hale, hearty man. Fifty years from now the Johnnie of today will be dead and buried. Isn't this a true tale of Johnnie?—Ex.

"Gold Brick" for Grocers.
From the Grocery World we learn that a salesman is approaching the retail grocers with a Castoria proposition that they will do well to turn down flatly. The salesman claims to represent a concern called the "Morrell Chem. Co., of New York City and Durand, Mich., whom the mercantile agencies do not list at either point. The scheme is represented thus: The sale of the goods is supposed to be taken out of the hands of the druggists, a great proposition is given the grocer, and he is asked to pay in advance for the goods, which are delivered to him with a guarantee that every bottle gives satisfaction. The Grocery World thinks the goods are bogus, and merchants will do well to let the goods alone.
