Last Thursday night a good many of our citizens of Scotch birth went to Meyersdale to take part in a big blow-out in honor of the birth of their favorite poet, Robert Burns. The affair was a great success, and was enjoyed to the limit by all present. Gen. Koontz, of Somerset, made an appropriate address in which he paid a high tribute to the great poet that the Scotch people are so justly proud of.

Mr. S. A. Beachy has returned from Bristol, Tenn., where he had been taking treatment for his eyes. He called at THE STAR office yesterday evening, feeling very hopeful that the treatment would prove beneficial. He reports seeing snow in Southern Virginia about a foot deep, and he also reports having encountered a terrific sleet storm down in that country. During the same period we had nice warm weather here.

Over in Connellsville the people are greatly excited over the birth of a 15-pound baby, and the way the newspapers take on about it is something awful. When it comes to big children, however, we believe that THE STAR family easily takes the premium in this and all the adjoining counties. The editor and his wife have been blessed with seven children—three sons and four daughters—and the weight of the children at birth was as follows: Three of the babies weighed 11 pounds each, two 12 pounds each, one 13 pounds, and the other 15.

WEDDING Invitations at THE STAR office. A nice new stock just received. 3-19

Manager Allen, of Meyersdale, Pa., has secured a most excellent attraction at the Donges New Theatre, called "The High Flyers," composed of two distinct and funny comedies, entitled "The Female Seminary" and "Fun in the Subway." Twenty pretty girls singing fascinating melodies. The comedians are genuine fun-makers—specialties intermingled make this performance one of the best ever played at Manager Allen's theatre, and he thinks business will be a record breaker, as the show carries carloads of new scenery, and thirty people. Friday, Feb. 2nd. Order seats by 'phone. F. B. Thomas Drug Store. 1t

In the garden of a great man, six persons were sitting, a scientific man, a merchant, a poet, a young man—very much in love—a lawyer and a lady. The wind was blowing rather hard, and six apples fell down. Each took one. The scientific man took his apple and discovered a new law of nature. The merchant sold his. The poet ate his. The young man, who was very much in love, gave his to his sweetheart. The lawyer went to law against the owner of the tree, on account of being hit by the fallen apple. But the lady took her apple to the owner of the tree, gained his affections, and as he was rich, she had lots of money all the rest of her life.—Fables of Eugen Heltau.

The newspaper is for everybody, and hence must publish something for everybody, says another paper. If you see something which is of little interest to you, remember that there are others, and that the entire paper is not printed especially for you. The very thing that is dull and uninteresting to you may be the very best thing in the paper for some other reader, and other readers have as good a right to be pleased as you have. There are whole pages in the daily papers that are of no interest to others. A paper which contained nothing but such matter as would interest any of us, would have a limited number of readers. There are many people of many minds, and there must be something in it for every one.

It is a sin to suffer with backache and pains over the kidneys, when a single dose of Pineules will give relief in one night. Suffering women should heed these warnings ere it is too late. Female troubles may result. Pineules will strengthen the kidneys and bladder, cleanse the blood and relieve the aches and pains of Neuralgia and Rheumatism. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 3-1

"It ill becomes any of us to criticize lapses in grammar," says an authority, "when we, all of us, consent to and constantly make use of one such lapse ourselves. To speak of the 'setting sun' is wholly incorrect. You may set a book on a table, or even set a son on a chair, if he be big enough not to fall off, but what does the orb of day set, and where does it set? No, sir, queer as it may sound to those grown accustomed to universal form, the sun sets. If it sets anything, why doesn't it raise something? If it shouldn't be the rising and the setting sun, it should be the raising and the setting sun. Think it over, and when you get it arranged to your satisfaction, try to find out what you mean when you speak of a 'setting hen.'"—Philadelphia Record.

Mr. David Lichty, who for years has been paying for more subscriptions to THE STAR than any other man, called at our office this morning, bright and early, and planked down the cash for seven subscriptions to the "Twinkler" in advance, as is his annual custom, and the groundhog is no more punctual on Feb. 2nd than Mr. Lichty always is on the first. Mr. Lichty had been quite unwell for about three weeks, but we are glad to note that he has again recovered his former good health. He is now nearly 74 years old, walks very erect, has a firm and steady step, and seldom wears an overcoat. He still tips the beam at from 245 to 255 pounds, is the possessor of an alert, active mind, and is a great reader of the newspapers, taking special pride and interest in his home paper, as all good citizens do.

AN IMPORTANT LAW.

A libel case tried at Reading under the Pennypacker-Durham "press muzzle" allowing action for "personal suffering" has just been decided in favor of defendant.

A fish dealer sued the Reading Herald for $1,000 damages for printing an account of his arrest on a charge of larceny. Judge Endlich in his charge to the jury said there is no libel in printing a plain statement of fact, and he also characterized as absurd the attempt to show that the publication resulted in "physical suffering."

The conspicuous object lessons of "physical suffering" in the year 1905 were furnished by the repudiated Philadelphia gangsters, Durham et al., who railroaded that absurd piece of libel spitwork through a servile legislature. Not a single conviction has occurred under that law, while its chief Philadelphia authors have been put out of business. Governor Pennypacker should have included a recommendation for its repeal in his special session call, says the Uniontown News Standard, and so say we all. 3-1

A NEW IDEA.

All old-time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucus membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by E. H. Miller. 3-1

Sam Kimmel Again Heard From.

Our friend Sam Kimmel is now located at Ely, Nevada, and in ordering THE STAR sent to his address, he gives us the following information of general interest: "This country looks good to me from a mineral standpoint, and I am going to put forth every effort to make a 'dig' within the next few years. Ely is just on the verge of a great boom, and many predict that 1500 people will be in the district before the end of the year. I am too late to get a claim on the great copper belt, which is now located for ten miles around. However, there are great areas left of mineral-bearing land, and I feel hopeful of being among the lucky. I had a 'hunch' last spring to locate here, but at that time had other prospects that looked promising. I should have located here then and taken claims, many of which were vacant, but have since been taken, and have proven to be in the heart of the copper belt, and selling readily now for $5,000 to $50,000 a claim. Ely, at present, is only a small village, 90 miles from railroad, but will be connected early in the summer. Large smelters will be constructed the coming summer, and the mines developed extensively. Town lots have increased in value from a few hundreds to several thousands of dollars during the past six months. A very great future is predicted for Ely in a very short time."

KODOL DIGESTS WHAT YOU EAT.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fullness, belching, gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Kodol is a thorough digestant and will afford relief from any disorder due to imperfect digestion or mal-assimilation. Sold by E. H. Miller. 3-1 has recently been discovered. It bears a close resemblance to the malaria germ. To free the system from disease germs, the most effective remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed to cure all diseases due to malaria poison and constipation. 25c. at E. H. Miller's Drug Store. 3-1

THE YELLOW FEVER GERM

FRIGHTFULLY BURNED.

Chas. W. Moore, a machinist, of Ford City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electrical furnace. He applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve with the usual result: "a quick and perfect cure." Greatest healer on earth for Burns, Wounds, Sores, Eczema and Piles. 25c. at E. H. Miller's, Drugist. 3-1
