Crude Thoughts As They Fall From the Editorial Pen.—Pleasant Evening Reveries.

What is the work I have done today? Have I left a mark upon the way, A kindly word, or a cheery smile That has lingered in some heart a while, Straightened a path or crooked road, Lightened the weight of a weary load, Into the shadow of some one's night Sent even a tiny ray of light?

Young man or young woman, if you have a mother living, love her. One little rose to her while she is living is worth vastly more to her than all the flowers you can pile on her coffin after she is dead. One little kind word is worth more to her than all the money you can expend at her funeral. Your mother may be growing old; if so, love her, be kind to her. She loves you and will do more for you than any other person living, so take her as the best friend you have or will have.

KINDLY WORDS.
Loving words should be a common currency in homes. Some husbands and wives take vicious pleasure in exposing the other's poor English or showing off their lack of general knowledge. It is a bad habit to indulge in sharp-shooting in the presence of children. A man used to say, "O, how good mother's food tasted," meaning no disrespect to his wife. She would say, "If her cooking was so good, then go and live with her in future," or "if my meals don't suit you, you better hire a French cook or do it yourself." Children prick up their ears and learn to be saucy and "talk back."

The more we know of people the more we are amazed. There is so much unhappiness. Wives nag their husbands to distraction. Husbands are indifferent and impose on their wives. They do not try to have a pleasant life, to bend, to blend and conciliate. They do not try to bring comfort and happiness into their homes. Let us all do the good we can, for life is fleeting. People are so easily helped and made glad, and let us say with Dicken's Tiny Tim, "God bless us all, every one of us."

THE OLD AND NEW.
We have just let go of the hand of 1905, and with outstretched arms we greeted 1906. As we lift the veil that drapes a sacred past and look backward over the scenes and incidents that have occupied our time and thoughts, we can but wonder what this glad new year will bring to us. There are few homes where 1905 did not bring its changes—vacant chairs—reminders of absent ones; perhaps some loved inmate has stepped over the threshold and has gone to bless and brighten the home of one who has sworn to love and protect her; others have answered the summons that robs us of our dearest and best, and the music of the fireside has gone out with the birds, and as these bereaved ones sit in the shadow and hear the "Happy New Year," they can but wonder how anyone can, even for a day, forget these blights of time. Yet life has its sunny side, and to many the future is radiant with promise, and when the roll was called on New Year's morning, all the home brood answered, "present." Plenty crowned the board and made the new year dawn in brightness. But tossed on the wave of adversity, and looking in vain for anchorage, was the lot of many in our fair land at the dawning of the new year. May the happy side of life be turned to each reader of the "Home Circle," during this new year, and may they grasp its responsibilities with Spartan courage. A happy New Year to all, especially to the tired mothers, whose lives are spent in devotion to the interests of home. May your joys be as deep as the ocean, your sorrows as light as its foam.

WHY HIS MARRIAGE WAS A FAILURE.
He regarded children as a nuisance.
He did all his courting before marriage.
He never talked over his affairs with his wife.
He never had time to go anywhere with his wife.
He doled out money to his wife as if to a beggar.
He looked down upon his wife as an inferior being.
He never took time to get acquainted with his family.
He thought of his wife only for what she could bring to him.
He never dreamed that there were two sides to marriage.
He never dreamed that a wife needs praise or compliments.
He had one set of manners for home and another for society.
He paid no attention to his personal appearance after marriage.
He married an ideal, and was disappointed to find it had flaws.
He thought his wife should spend all her time doing housework.
He treated his wife as he would not have dared to treat another woman.
He never dreamed that his wife needed a vacation, recreation or change.

He never made concessions to his wife's judgment, even in unimportant matters.
He thought the marriage vow had made him his wife's master, instead of her partner.
He took all the little attentions lavished on him by his wife as by "divine right," and not as favors.
He always carried his business troubles home with him, instead of locking them in his store or his office when he closed.

Elk Lick Township Nominations.
The Republicans and Democrats of Elk Lick township met at the West Salisbury school house, last Saturday, at the same hour, and nominated a combination ticket. Following are the names of the candidates nominated: For Judge of Election, M. J. Blough; Inspectors, Joseph Livengood and Daniel R. Johnson; Tax Collector, Jacob Engle; Supervisors, J. S. Stevanus, Ross Sechler and Henry Opel; School Directors, James Maust and Norman D. Hay; Township Clerk, Chas. Butler; Auditor, Wm. Knecht.

The ticket is a very good one, and it is not likely that the Socialist serpent will even attempt to go up against it, not even under some misleading name, such as "Citizens Union." Abraham Lincoln Lowry and some other would-be Republicans helped the Socialist gang all they could, last fall, in their useless effort to defeat the Republican ticket. But when it comes to sharing the township offices with the Socialist gang, then Abraham and his clique have no use whatever for that misguided aggregation of freaks. But we are not finding any fault with Abraham for shaking them at such an important time. He should refuse such political company at all times.

Editor Told Truth.
A western editor published the following obituary notice: Deceased was a mild-mannered pirate with a mouth for whiskey and an eye for boodle. He came here in the night with another man's wife, and joined the church at first chance. He owed us seven dollars for the paper, a large meat bill, and you could hear him pray six blocks. He died singing "Jesus Paid it All," and we think he was right, as he never paid anything himself. He was buried in an asbestos-lined casket, and his many friends threw palm leaf fans into the grave, as he may need them. His tombstone will be a resting place for hoot owls.

LUCKIEST MAN IN ARKANSAS.
"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At E. H. Miller's, druggist. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. 3-1

"OLD SORROW."
I.
When old Sorrow gives a warnin',
Meet him smilin'—say "Good mornin'!"
If he wants to walk along,
Let his steps keep time to song!
Don't like singin'—
Bells a-ringin'—
On the road where violets throng.
II.
Lead him to the happier land,
Serenade him with the band;
Give the banjo's strings a chance;
Tell him that it's time to dance!
Don't like singin'—
Bells a-ringin'—
On the road where sunbeams glance.

Newspapers.
James Parton said: "The newspaper press is the people's university. Half of the readers in Christendom read little else."
Jefferson said: "The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right, and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter.—EX.
