It Leeked As if the Old Man Would "Have to Ga." An official of the Treasury Department, for many years in the service of the government, relates that during the second term of the Cleveland ad-ministration Secretary of the Treas-ury Carlisle issued an order to the effect that no two members of a fam-ly should be employed in that depart-ment at the same time. This order resulted in several dismissals and forced resignations. One young man, whose brother had been fored to leave, entered an indignant protest with the output complaint with this observa-tion:

"It seems to me, sir, that it's a poor rule that won't work both ways. Your father, Secretary Carlisle, and yourself being both here, the rule is violated, and I think it is a shame that such favoritism should be shown.

shown." The chief clerk drummed on his desk with his pencil, and a far-away look came into his eye. "Well," he said, finally, "it looks like the old man will have to go."—Harper's Weekly.

Why They Waited.

Why They Waited. Two young men with not much ex-perience of horses were for a drive. During the ride the horse happened to yawn and the bit fell out of its mouth. Two hours later a man passed them and discovered both of the young men waiting with their conveyance by the roadside. "What on earth is the mat ter? I nessed you when I was come rotatile: what on earth is the mat ter? I passed you when I was going out, and now when I come back you're still here. What's the matter?" "Oh," replied one of the young men, "we're waiting for the horse to yawn again so we can put the bit in."—Tat ler

Just as He Thought.

A small boy was reciting in a geog-raphy class, says the Ladies' Home Journal. The teacher was trying to teach him the points of the compass. She explained: "On your right is the south, your left the north, and in front of you is the east. Now, what is be-hind you?" The boy studied for a moment, then puckered up his face and bawled: "I knew it. I told ma you'd see that patch in my pants."

Helping Him Out.

Helping Him Out. My parents, who have just come to live with us, are spoling my two-year-old baby. I don't want to offend them, and yet I am at a loss how to act. What would you suggest? Go to some reliable foundling hos-pital and hire another baby. It is the special prerogative of every grandma and grandpa to spoil at least one baby, and almost any kind of a baby, except your own, will answer the purpose. It may cost you something, but it will pay in the end.—Life.

Easy Enough. "What is the secret of your suc-cess?" asked the very young man. "In buying," said the old horse deal-er, "I look sharp, and in selling I look as simple and ignorant as I can."
