LIFE'S LITTLE PLEASANTRIES

OBLIGING.

"Is there danger of contagion in a kiss?" Asked a young and very charming Jackson Miss. Said the Baltimore, Md.: "If you wish we'll Troy N. C. If there's anything contagious in a kiss."

PRECAUTIONARY.

Jigson—"I just joined the Don't Worry Club." Higson—"Why?" Jigson—"Going to be married next week."—Brooklyn Eagle.

CONSIDERATION.

Bishop (to little visitor, who had asked him to sign post-card portrait of himself)—"But—surely, I signed one for you the other day?" Little Visitor—"Yes; but I swapped you for two New Zealanders, you know?"—Punch.

AND THEN HE WENT.

Little brother—Do you know what I think? Sister—No; what is it? "I think if I were not in the room Mr. Jones would kiss you." "You impudent boy! Leave the room instantly!"—Translated for Tales from "Meggendorfer Blatter."

FAR WORSE.

"I think that the people who have taken this affair in hand have made you sincerely repent." "Repent!" exclaimed the man who had been involved in questionable finance. "It's worse than that. They made me return some of the money."—Washington Star.

CIRCULATION.

"Who did you say that stranger was?" asked the country editor. "Jonas Perkinbine," replied the loafer at the village store. "Well, why! Why that's the name of one of our subscribers." "Don't say! What's the name of the other one?"—Philadelphia Press.

AN HONORED NAME.

McJigger—So Belle is married. Thingumbob—Yes; with her beauty she captured an honored name. McJigger—Huh! "Sniffkins?" You don't call that an honored name, do you? Thingumbob—Well, you just ought to see how it's honored at the bank. —Philadelphia Press.

A SLIM CHANCE.

"I think I'll telegraph to my governor for some more money," said the college boy. "Why don't you telephone? It's quicker," suggested his chum. "I know, but I want to enjoy the pleasure of hope for a little while, at least."—Philadelphia Press.

HIS MOTHER.

"So his mother called on you after you became engaged? What did she say?" "Oh, she told me I wasn't half good enough for him, but she would generously overlook that if pa would give him a place in the bank where he could draw a big salary and not have anything to do."—Chicago-Record Herald.

AN IMPORTANT AFFAIR.

"I don't suppose it's unnatural for me to be excited, now that the hour for my marriage to the Count approaches," said the bride. "I guess I'm the most excited person in town at this minute." "Oh, I don't know," replied Mrs. Nutch, her mother; "think how excited your mother's been in the newspaper offices."—Catholic Standard and Times.

LOOKED SUSPICIOUS.

Mrs. Jones—I had unexpectedly good luck yesterday in looking for a flat. I found an apartment house where the rooms were elegant, the rent reasonable and the agent doesn't object to children. Mrs. Blykely—Mercy! I hope you didn't agree to take it. There must be something wrong with the neighborhood.—Chicago Tribune.

QUITE EXCITING.

"Did you play football while you were in college, Mr. Mushie?" "Oh, yaas, indeed. Deah old football." "What position, Mr. Mushie?" "Any old position, don't you know. I stood at one side with the othah fellows and when the chappies made a touchdown we said 'rah—rah'. It's deuced exciting, yes, really."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DIPLOMATIC.

"John Henry, as you go to the office, step around and ask my dressmaker when she can come." "You mean that young woman with cheeks like peaches, teeth of pearl, a halo of golden hair and a laugh that makes you think of angels? Sure I'll step around and I'll wait there for her." "Never mind! I'll be going out, and can attend to the dressmaker myself. And it won't be that one, either!" The last remark was inaudible, but anyway John Henry was chuckling so hard he would not have heard it.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Candy for "That Tired Feeling."

Candy or baking soda as a remedy for that tired feeling was recommended by Prof. F. S. Lee in a lecture given to the biology section of the Academy of Science, of Philadelphia, Tuesday night. Prof. Lee said there were three acids in the blood, which caused or influenced fatigue. He was sure of it, because he had taken those acids and injected them into the muscles of a frog, and those acidized muscles had tired much more rapidly than the normal muscles. He also said there was another acid which was conspicuous by its absence. He was positive that sugar or candy can help out this difficulty, and possibly baking soda. As to the latter, his experiment had not gone far enough to enable him to offer it as a positive cure. "When one is very tired," he said, "a quantity of candy will half an hour after eating often make one feel energetic."

Raisin Trade Active.

Local dealers are very optimistic over the outlook in the raisin market. Of all the dried fruits this article has been the firmest seller and is in constant demand. The present prices of 8 1/2 and 9 cents a pound have been quoted for some time past and there has not been any reduction of importance. The advance in raisins last week was made by the independent packers, who now quote 1/4 above the combine. It is expected that before long many cars will be on the way from Chicago and California loaded with this fruit, and it is conceded that the demand will keep up. This is the first season that the raisin has held such an important place in the jobbers' estimation, and by the looks of the market that place is warranted. While the demand at times has not been phenomenal yet it is steady and consistent, and that is the kind of commodity that dealers put their faith in.

Italy Gaining Fast.

At the Paris Exposition in 1900 it was often remarked by careful observers that Italy made an astonishing display of ingenuity and skill, enterprise and capacity. Some high authorities declared that no other country displayed so much creative power in the line of real novelties. Since then the world has been reminded, with increasing frequency, of Italian progress. There is a renaissance of Italian industry, invention, commerce and prosperity. The proofs are many and convincing.—Cleveland Leader.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It cures catarrh in a few days. For a full and complete list of Dr. Cheney's Catarrh Cure, send for circulars and testimonials.
