The world is full of women who can amuse the ordinary man. Can sing, dance or recite for him; can paint, write or decorate in a manner most pleasing, but the poor man often goes begging for a woman who can sew on buttons or mend his clothes; who can cook his food with economy, and flavor

Many of us miss the joys that might be ours by keeping our eyes fixed on those of other people. No one can enjoy his own opportunities for happiness while he is envious of another's. We lose a great deal of the joy of living by not cheerfully accepting the small pleasures that come to us every day, instead of longing and wishing for what belongs to others. We do not take any pleasure in our own modest horse and carriage, because we long for the automobile or victoria that some-one else owns. The edge is taken off the enjoyment of our own little home because we are watching the palatial residence of our neighbor. We can get satisfaction out of a trolley ride into the country or a sail on a river steamer. because someone else can enjoy the luxury of his own carriage or yacht. Life has its full measure of happiness for every one of us, if we only make up our minds to make the very most of every opportunity that comes our way. instead of longing for the things that

THE GLADNESS ON NATURE.

It is our opinion that the new year ought to begin with spring. That spirit of newness is just awaking from its long sleep, and begins with magic power its work of revival, breathing new life and energy into every vein of nature, and thrilling the heart of man-kind with new joys, new hopes, new aspirations. The soul that can remain insensible to the charm of spring is indeed dull and heavy, even unnatural. Hawthorne says, "From such a soul the world must hope no reformation of its evil, no sympathy with the lofty faith and gallant struggles of those who contend in his behalf." How joyously the birds are singing this morning, and why should they not, for the blight and decay of winter is passing away, and ere long the earth will be arrayed in the full bloom and glory of spring time. Soon the air, so soft and balmy, you?" asked one. will bear the fragrance of delicate blossoms, and the drowsy bees will many have you?" murmur of new-born delights. Bryant says in his poem on "The Gladness of Nature:"

"Is this a time to be cloudy and sad, When our Mother Nature laughs around,

around,
When even the deep blue heavens look glad
And gladness breathes from the blossoming ground?

Surely our hearts should respond to the gladness of nature, and we should not only be glad, but we should feel

I presume you saw in some of the papers that the Reading troop was called to the Cornwall iron ore mines, in Lebanon county, a few weeks ago We went on foot. It was a very tame and men. He exhibited a pipe said to strike. The owners treated us splendidly-had cots for us to sleep on, and ing to ex-Speaker Tom Reed, a pair of shoes that belong to ex-President Cleveland, a railroader's lantern that were there. The whole troop remained there two days, after which the Captain detailed the Lieutenant, two Ser geants and ten men to remain for a few days, in case there should any more trouble arise.

I think when the State troop arrived swinging on their belts outside their miforms, that it must have scared the strikers, because on the second day every man tried to get back to work But you know, of course, how it works Some of the leaders were told that they were not wanted, as the owners had shipped about fifty men there pre

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, bu because it is the magazine. Why?

FIRST—THEFPRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a num ber, for over thirteen hundred two-column pages of reading matter. This amounts in ac tual bulk to twenty or twenty-five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's Ileading writers—the best short story writers, the best writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's Reminiscences of Baker's Railrond articles.
THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next twelve months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and rebates and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is never a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.
