LIQUID VENEER

For Spring Housecleaning

At housecleaning time try Liquid Veneer. It makes everything look new. There will be no old, dull looking furniture or dingy woodwork in homes where this wonder-worker is used. No refinishing or revarnishing necessary. Liquid Veneer is not a varnish, but a surface food and cleaner that builds up the original finish and makes it brighter than ever.

It instantly restores the brilliant newness and finish of Pianos, Furniture, Picture Frames, Interior Woodwork, Hardwood Floors and all polished, varnished or enameled surfaces. Removes scratches, stains, dirt and dullness.

A child can apply it. Nothing but a piece of cheese cloth is needed and there is no drying to wait for.

EPHRAIM D. MILLER,
Of Rockwood, Announces for Congress.

ROCKWOOD, PA., May 7th, 1906.
TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS:—

I announce to the voters of the county my candidacy for Congress.

I am the first person not a resident of the county-seat to ask the endorsement of the people for this high office.

For about one hundred years the residents of Somerset borough have been signally honored by their fellows.

I beg to solicit your vote for one who was born on the farm, educated in the public schools, and has spent the greater portion of his life as a merchant.

I shall seek your endorsement and the district nomination by every honorable means, and if elected, shall stand for a "square deal for every man."

I shall advocate a pension for every soldier who has rendered his country service in any of the wars, no matter as to the term of service.

I shall stand for federal legislation abolishing all railroad passes, and for a uniform passenger fare of two cents per mile.

I shall favor a naturalization law requiring all aliens desiring to become citizens to read and write the English language.

I hope to be able to meet many of the voters personally before the day fixed for the Republican Primary Election, which will be held on Saturday afternoon, May 26th.

I earnestly solicit your vote and support. I am,
Your obedient servant,
E. D. MILLER.

A MOUNTAIN OF GOLD
could not bring as much happiness to Mrs. Lucia Wilke, of Caroline, Wis., as did one 25c. box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, when it completely cured a running sore on her leg, which had tortured her 23 long years. Greatest anti-septic healer of Piles, Wounds, and Sores. 25c. at E. H. Miller's Drug Store.

The Somerset Democrat intimates that gentlemen may be tempted to anger because it tells the truth and the Connellsville Courier adds that Editor Grof must contemplate a departure from the faith. Nothing makes a Democrat so mad as the truth. Most Democrats know what a mess they have made of it these ten years back, but they don't like to be told in public.

The danger of a strike in the anthracite region has passed, and the country is to be congratulated. President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, acted wisely in backing down and not calling the miners out. A strike in the anthracite region at this time could mean but one thing, and that would be the utter uprooting of the organization in that region, and perhaps its death blow in the nation. We think Mitchell foresaw, it, too.

There is little reason to believe that the state police will do violence to any law-abiding citizen. Should they exceed their authority it will be a comparatively easy matter to bring them to justice. The violent opposition to the constabulary by certain labor organizations, and the heated demand for the repeal of the law creating the force, go far to justify the contention of those who insist that the miners' union is eager to encourage violence. That is a fatal attitude for any man or any organization to assume in Pennsylvania.—Somerset Democrat.

The proclamation addressed by Governor Pennypacker to the anthracite miners is sensible and to the point. Boiled down it just means this: "Be idle if you prefer, but let others work if they want to." That is in line with the doctrine of personal liberty that this great country is founded upon, but it is the very doctrine that the labor trust, the most senseless and oppressive of all trusts, is trying the hardest to overthrow. If the dreams of the labor trust are ever realized, the new system will soon break down under the weight of its own arrogance and rottenness.

The old family organ of graft, the Somerset Herald, is still butting into the affairs of the Republican party. The Herald ought to be attending to the affairs of its own party—the Orphans. The editor of the Herald will be unable to vote at the coming primary, and not being eligible to vote with the party he has forsaken, it is not likely that many voters will be governed by the distorting he is attempting to do for a party of which he is no longer a member. The Herald and the Meyersdale Commercial led an open revolt against the Republican party, last fall, now let them remain with the party they founded.

It is a pleasant task that meets the Sentinel to announce that our friend and former neighbor, Mr. E. D. Miller, of Rockwood, a candidate for representative in Congress from this district at the Republican primary, to be held May 26. Mr. Miller served this county efficiently and faithfully two terms in the Assembly, and for several years has been special agent of the State agricultural department, the onerous duties of which position he has performed with conspicuous ability and characteristic fidelity. Mr. Miller is a high type of the Christian gentleman, and, we believe, is worthy and well qualified to satisfactorily fill the high office with which his many friends in Somerset county and the congressional district seek to honor him.—Quehoning Sentinel.

The officials of the B. & O. railroad made a tour of inspection over the Salisbury branch, Monday, in a special train of three handsome coaches. It is said that the president of the road was with the party. The B. & O. ought to give Salisbury a passenger train when their new schedule goes into effect, this month. It's a shame, a burning shame, that the B. & O. has been giving no passenger service to Salisbury, a town of 1,500 inhabitants, and a community that within a radius of five miles has at least 4,500 people. Surely we have just cause for complaint, especially as the Salisbury branch is one of the best paying roads for its length that the B. & O. owns. It is about time that the business men of this town force the B. & O. to either give us some accommodation or yield up its charter. We can force the company to do either one thing or the other.

D. J. HORNER, candidate for Assembly, was in town yesterday morning. He made THE STAR a pleasant call, as he has always been one of this paper's staunch friends and patrons. Elsewhere in this issue he tells where he stands on the vaccination question, and while we have not promised to support him, we nevertheless do not hesitate to say that Mr. Horner is a first rate fellow, and his position on the present obnoxious vaccination law suits us to a "t." So far as we know, all of the Somerset county Legislative candidates are in favor of the repeal of the present vaccination law, but some of them have not yet openly declared their positions. Compulsory vaccination met go, and it is but right and proper for the people to demand of the candidates where they stand. It is time to throw off the oppressive yoke of medical graft and doctorcraft, and at the coming elections the sturdy, liberty-loving "Frosty Sons of Thunder" intend to strike a vigorous blow for their God-given rights. We wouldn't even vote for a brother who would countenance or stand for Pennsylvania's present hideous and damnable vaccination law.

AGAINST VACCINATION LAW.

Candidate Daniel J. Horner Declares in Favor of its Repeal.

There is much complaint against the present vaccination law of Pennsylvania, and as a candidate for Assembly I am frequently asked to work for its repeal, if elected to the office I seek. I hereby promise that if I am elected I will put forth my best effort for the repeal of said law.

5-24 D. J. HORNER.

To the Republicans of Somerset County.

I beg to inform my many friends that I shall not be a candidate for the Legislature at the Primary election.

It has been a custom in this county, with few exceptions, to accord to members of the Assembly two consecutive terms. I have enjoyed this privilege. I deem it well not to disturb this unwritten law.

Thanking the Republicans of the county for their many kindnesses shown me, I am,
Your obedient servant,
L. C. LAMBERT.
Somerset, Pa., May 4, 1906.

UNION MINERS IN POLITICS.

This paper has, during the past few years, been the unrelenting foe of a certain brand of organized labor. But it has never been opposed to decent, law-abiding, reasonable organized labor. We have, however, bitterly opposed, and still oppose the arbitrary, incendiary, murderous, law-defying and senseless brand of organized labor that for a few years had gained a strong foothold in the Elk Lick coal region. That brand of unionism we shall continue to oppose as long as we have life left to fight with. We have no use for a brand of unionism that makes watchmen necessary to guard coal company property; or that makes a non-union man unsafe in going to or from his work; or that wants to dictate to people whom they shall speak to or refuse to speak to, where they shall buy and where they shall not buy, or that will defend a brother regardless as to whether he is in the right or wrong; that becomes enraged when they see their sworn duty and enforce the law; that employs big-mouthed, unprincipled, rum-soaked villains and loafers of unsavory reputation to act as organizers, etc.

For peaceful, sensible, law-abiding unionism we have all due respect, and we endorse every word of the following from the Connellsville Courier:

"The striking miners contemplate carrying their fight into politics. The plan is for influential union leaders to become candidates for State Senate and the Legislature. It is not desired to form a separate organization, but to secure nominations from the dominant political parties, and if elected to fight the battles for better working conditions in the Legislature.

There can be no objection to this plan. It is peaceful and constitutional and altogether commendable. In fact, so long as the union miners fight their battles within the letter and the spirit of the law, they will have the sympathy and respect of the people, and oftentimes their moral and material support.

Disorder and defiance of law too often takes the place of peaceful and orderly plans, and the doom of defeat is invariably upon strikes managed after these methods. The American people will not endorse anything that savors of revolution and anarchy. No provocation is great enough in their eyes to justify such means. But they frequently applaud and assist by their ballots all efforts to right wrong by the peaceful and orderly method of remedial legislation.

By all means let the union labor leaders enter politics; and, if possible, secure places in the Legislature, and there improve by legislation the workingmen's conditions. In the meantime, let them show their respect for the law by observing it strictly, unwaveringly and loyally, bearing always in mind the fact that the man who does not respect the law is an unfit person to make it."

POSTMASTER ROBBED.

G. W. Fouts, Postmaster at Riverton, Pa., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, Weakness and all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful Tonic. At E. H. Miller's drug store, 50 cents. 6-1

TO LAND OWNERS:—We have printed and keep in stock a supply of trespass notices containing extracts from the far-reaching trespass law passed at the 1905 session of the Pennsylvania Legislature. The notices are printed on good cardboard with blank line for signature, and they will last for years in all kinds of weather. Every owner should buy some of them, as the law requires land owners to post their lands if they want the protection of the latest and best trespass law ever passed. Send all orders to THE STAR, Elk Lick, Pa. 6-1
